INTRODUCTION

THE late H. R. Tedder read a paper on 19 March 1914 before the Royal Historical Society on 'The forthcoming bibliography of modern British History', and his authoritative account is the basis of the following summary of the progress of the undertaking until the appointment of the present editor.

In 1909 the American Historical Association and the Royal Historical Society both named committees to discuss the question of co-operating in order to continue Gross's Sources and Literature of English History from the Earliest Times to about 1485. They planned a series of three volumes, each in two parts. The first was to be general, comprising an introduction on the scope and arrangement of the work, accounts of publications of learned societies and historical periodicals, &c., and lists of authorities covering the whole period 1485-1910. The second was to contain the special authorities for 1485-1714, and the third those for 1714-1910. In 1912 the late Sir George Prothero became general editor and committees were appointed for both the Tudor and Stuart periods. Much work had been performed by 1914, when the outbreak of war completely suspended it. Sir George Prothero was never again able to give much attention to it, and his death in July 1922 left it unfinished. A special committee of the Royal Historical Society sat in that year to discuss the continuance of the bibliography, and a change of plan was adopted. In view of the length of time which had elapsed since the project was first mooted, it was imperative to complete at least a part of it as speedily as possible. As the preparations for the original volume two were the most advanced, it was decided to proceed with it. Now the Tudor and Stuart periods were each to be allotted a separate volume. A committee of American scholars, with E. P. Cheyney as chairman, has charge of the Tudor volume, which is nearing completion.

I was nominated editor of the volume covering 1603-1714 in February 1923, but other literary commitments prevented my assuming my duties for more than a year. Owing to the urgency, as well as the extent of the work still to be accomplished, the original idea of including manuscripts was abandoned, although considerable information about them is incorporated in the notes. The indefinite postponement of the general introductory volume, and the impossibility of referring to it or to the Tudor volume, have necessitated the insertion in this book of a number of works not confined to the period. It is now designed to be complete in itself. Otherwise the contents correspond to the scheme prepared by Sir George Prothero and the committee of 1912, except that whereas they contemplated about 2,500 titles, there are now over 3,800 numbered, besides 1,500 to 2,000 in the footnotes.

It is my pleasant task to express the profound gratitude of the Royal Historical Society to the late Sir George Prothero and to those who have assisted in the production of this volume. It is most unfortunate that owing to the change of editorship there is neither a complete list of the original contributors nor a precise record of their services. So far as is known the following compiled the whole or parts of the sections which are inserted in brackets after their names, and in a number of cases have recently revised them: C. H. Collins Baker (Art); E. A. Benians (Voyages and Travels); Arthur Berry (Science); Sir Reginald Blomfield (Architecture); the late P. Hume Brown (Scotland); R. Dunlop (Ireland); the late H. E. Egerton (Colonies); Lord Ernle (Agriculture); the Bishop of Truro [W. H. Frere] (Anglican Church to 1660); Sir Henry Hadow (Music); B. L. K. Henderson (Economic and Social History); H. D. Hazeltine (Legal Sources); the late A. M. Hyamson (Judaism); the late Colonel E. M. Lloyd (Military); J. E. Lloyd (Wales); H. E. Malden (Local History); J. G. Muddiman (Newspapers); the late Sir A. E. Shipley (Science); W. T. Whitley (Nonconformity).

It is possible to specify more particularly the debt of gratitude due to those whose assistance dates from 1923. E. R. Adair took charge of Administration, read the typescripts of the political and constitutional and the economic sections, and made many improvements; W. H. Burgess dealt with Unitarianism; the late E. H. Burton with Roman Catholicism; Miss E. Jeffries Davis virtually compiled all the entries on London; A. H. Dodd and J. G. Edwards added many titles to the Welsh bibliography; D. Hay Fleming doubled the size of the section on Scotland and subjected what had already been done to a very fruitful revision; C. S. S. Higham assumed control of Voyages and Travels and the East and West Indies, and wrote their introductions; M. W. Jernegan lent me his notes on the American colonies and made many valuable suggestions; Norman Penney revised and considerably augmented Quakerism; W. G. Perrin made himself responsible not only for the contents but also for the arrangement of the Naval section; H. G. Richardson revised Agriculture so systematically as to transform it, and penned its introduction; and W. R. Scott dealt with foreign trade and wrote part of the introduction to economic history.

One name deserves especial mention. Sir Charles Firth compiled the section on ballads, but this was the least of his services. He has assisted at every stage of the growth of this bibliography: his library and unrivalled stores of knowledge were always open to me. He has read the typescripts and the proofs, and encouraged me in every way. Nevertheless the final responsibility rests on my shoulders, not on his.

In spite of all this assistance, however, it is certain that much remains still to be accomplished. I have only been able to devote my leisure hours to this volume, and these perforce were mainly employed in compiling not less than a third of the entries. Consequently I am only too conscious that I have neglected many of my editorial duties. Yet those whose opinion is far weightier than mine believe that the interests of historical scholarship will be better served by the appearance of this volume now with all its imperfections than by delaying it for further revision. After all, the absence of such improvements as I could effect will matter little, if scholars will note such errors as they find and communicate them to the Honorary Secretary of the Royal Historical Society, 22 Russell Square, London, W.C. 1, by whom they will be acknowledged. Subjected to the revision of all who study the Stuart period, this book in a second edition will become more worthy of the two great historical bodies under whose direction it is issued.

In a bibliography of this kind the two main difficulties are those of selection and arrangement. In deciding what works to include or omit, the necessity of covering the whole field has been the ruling principle. In each section the aim has been to ensure that every aspect of its subject-matter shall be presented however inadequate the means may be. In dealing with controversial questions an attempt has been made to give fair representation to opposing schools of opinion whether contemporary or modern. Care has been taken to provide a selection of the historical literature of succeeding generations, so that the reader may trace the progress of knowledge and the different interpretations of events in each age. It has been impossible to include many pamphlets, but usually at least one tract of a prolific writer has been listed, so that his name can be turned up in the catalogue of a library such as the British Museum in order to discover what else he wrote. Most space has been devoted to the normal activities of the inhabitants of Stuart Britain. In the more specialized topics, such as art or science, the first consideration has been the needs of the general historian, in the hope that when he has occasion to tread these unfrequented paths he may find the guidance he requires.

The arrangement has been dictated by the avoidance of repetition and convenience of reference. Thus the desire not to do the same thing twice is responsible for putting peers in the alphabetical order of their titles in biographical sub-sections, since they are listed under their family names in the index. The usual arrangement of each section is to enumerate first the bibliographies, then the sources, and finally the later works. These all follow the chronological order of the date of the first edition unless there is an obvious reason for a deviation from this rule. Instances of such deviations are biographies arranged alphabetically, regimental histories which conform to the order of the Army List, or local histories which are arranged geographically. In a few small subsections, as in foreign relations or naval history, sources and later works are grouped together to save space, but such instances are rare. To keep the size of the bibliography within moderate limits certain devices have been adopted. Cross references, which are enclosed in round brackets, are only given when their absence cannot be supplied by the index. Many works have been inserted in footnotes—occasionally some strange bedfellows appear—but the more important are all indexed. Descriptions of books are necessarily brief. No distinction is made between small, medium, and large quartos. All others are octavos, or, if shorter, duodecimos, if taller, folios. Whenever possible the number of volumes, the size, the place and the date of publication of the first edition of each work is given, but no attempt is made to enumerate all later editions. The ideal has been, however, to note later editions whenever the rarity of the first, or the superior utility of the later, editions makes this desirable. When the format of the later edition is similar to the first, the description has not been repeated but the date alone is supplied. Thus an entry of the type 1 vol. 8vo. Lond. 1672 and 1701, would imply that the edition of 1701 was identical with that of 1672 in its format. On the other hand, if any detail of the description of the later volume is different, then all are repeated.

As regards the index, all authors and all editors, when there are no authors, are included, and the relatively few subject-matter entries are intended merely to supplement the table of contents. Titles are only inserted for anonymous works for which no subject-matter entry easy of reference could be found. When a book has both author and editor, the editor is only indexed if he has contributed materially to its value, or if there seems to be a reasonable chance that the reader will seek for it under the editor's name rather than under the author's. In short, practical utility has in all things been the chief guide of the editor.

I. ENGLISH POLITICAL AND CONSTITUTIONAL HISTORY

1. General and Miscellaneous.
2. Central Administration.
3. Parliamentary History.
4. Legal History.
5. Foreign Relations.
6. Biographies.

MORE detailed study has been devoted to the years 1603-1714 than to any period of English history of equal length, but it has been unevenly distributed. The works of Gardiner (219-20) and Firth (244) supply an elaborate survey of the years 1603-58, and have facilitated the production of a host of monographs. Macaulay (204) dealt with the fifteen years following the accession of James II on an unprecedented scale, but this era has attracted few later historians. Full histories of the years 1658-85 and 1697-1714 remain to be written. At present Guizot (207) has not been superseded for the restoration, and Ranke (214) remains the best history of the reign of Charles II. The reign of Anne has received more attention, and the works of Stanhope (211), Wyon (217), and Leadam (245) furnish a satisfactory outline.

There is no adequate bibliography, but the sections on sources in the three relevant volumes of the Political History of England (240, 245, 246) enumerate the chief authorities with useful comments, and are thus more valuable than the lists of titles in the Cambridge Modern History (239) and elsewhere. Since the output of new material is now exceeding the capacity of historians to absorb it, classified and annotated bibliographies should replace the mere lists of authorities appended to most modern studies. The value of the works of the chief narrative historians is estimated by Firth (21), and the lives of many historians and antiquaries in the Dictionary of National Biography contain valuable criticisms, but the historiography of the 17th century has not yet been treated as a whole.

29. Annales or a generall chronicle of England. By J. Stow and E. Howes. 1 vol. fol. London. 1631.

Stow's chronicle was augmented and continued by Howes 1600-31.

30. A chronicle of the kings of England, from the time of the Romans government, unto the death of King James the First. By Sir R. Baker. 1 vol. fol. Lond. 1641. Later eds. 1665 and 1733.

Eds. after 1660 have a continuation by E. Phillips which is a valuable authority for 1658-60 and based on the lost papers of Sir Thomas Clarges, Monck's brother-in-law. In eds. later than that of 1674 this continuation is increasingly abridged. Ed. of 1733 has a continuation to 1727, but it is of slight value. Cf. T. Blount's Animadversions upon Sir Richard Baker's chronicle and its continuation. 1 vol. 12mo. Oxf. 1672.

31. Epistolae Ho-Eliaanae. Familiar letters domestic and forren, divided into six sections . . . By J. Howell. 1 vol. 4to. Lond. 1645. Later ed. 2 vols. 8vo. Lond. 1890-2. Ed. by J. Jacobs.

34. Putney projects. Or the old serpent in a new forme. Presenting to the view of all the well affected in England the serpentine deceit of their pretended friends in the armie. By J. Wildman. 1 vol. sm. 4to. Lond. 1647.

One of the best-known Leveller pamphlets.

35. Elenchi motuum nuperorum in Anglia. Pars prima ; simul ac juris regis ac parlamentarii brevis enarratio. By G. Bate. 1 vol. 12mo. Paris. 1649.

A second part to 1660 was added in 1661, 8vo. Lond., and a third part called Motus compositi by T. Skinner in 1676. A trans. of the three parts appeared in 1685, 8vo. Lond. called Elenchus motuum nuperorum in Anglia or a short historical account of the rise and progress of the late troubles in England. A trans. of part i. was ed. by Edward Almack in the Stuart Library, 1 vol. 8vo. Lond. 1902 as A short narrative of the late troubles in England. Cf. Pugh's Elenchus elenchi : sive animadversiones in Georgii Batei, Cromwelli parricidae aliquando protomedici elenchum motuum nuperorum in Anglia [8vo. Paris. 1664] ; and Clarke Papers (150), iv. 274-6.

36. Reliquiae sacrae Carolinae. The workes of that great monarch and glorious martyr King Charles the 1st. both civil and sacred. 2 pts. in 1 vol. 8vo. The Hague. 1649.

Pt. I contains the king's state letters, proclamations &c. Pt. ii Eikon Basilike and other theological pieces.

37. The court and character of King James. By Sir A. Weldon. 1 vol. 12mo. London. 1650.

Repr. in Secret History (104). In ed. of 1651 The court of King Charles is added. Cf. Aulicus Coquinariae, 1650, an answer to the above attributed to Sir W. Sanderson.

38. The history of Great Britain, being the life and reign of King James the First. By A. Wilson. 1 vol. fol. Lond. 1653.

Repr. in Kennet (179). Cf. Wilson's autobiography in Peck (81) ii. 460; and the intro. to Wilson's play The Swisser, 1 vol. 8vo. Paris. 1904. ed. by A. Feuillerat. Useful but prejudiced: to be used with caution.

39. Cabala sive scrinia sacra: mysteries of state and government in letters of . . . great ministers of state . . . in the reigns of King Henry the Eighth . . . King Charles. 2 pts. sm. 4to. Lond. 1654. Later eds. 1 vol. fol. Lond. 1663, and 1691.

Miscellaneous state letters, many addressed to Buckingham. Ed. of 1691 is the best.

40. Historia rerum Britannicarum ut et multarum Gallicarum, Belgicarum et Germanicarum . . . ab anno 1572 ad annum 1628. By R. Johnston. 1 vol. fol. Amsterdam. 1655.

41. The reign of King Charles: an history faithfully and impartially delivered and disposed into annals [to 1641]. By H. L'Estrange. 1 vol. fol. Lond. 1655, and 1656.

Ed. of 1656 said to be 'revised and somewhat enlarged'. Cf. P. Heylyn's Observations [1656]; Extraneus Vapulans [1656]; and Examen Historicum [1659], all against L'Estrange.

- (i) General and Miscellaneous.
- (ii) Privy Council : (a) General. (b) Cabinet Council.
- (iii) Star Chamber.

Since the Privy Council was the mainspring of the whole central administration, Adair (275) supplies a guide to the materials, both printed and manuscript, for administrative history. Gerould (25) and other general bibliographies will also be found useful, while the more specialized bibliography in Mrs. Higham's Principal Secretary of State (274) should not be neglected.

But there was hardly an aspect of English life in which the hand of the central administration was not felt, and a student of its activities should consult works dealing with local government, the control of the press and of the drama, the development of social or economic life, the enforcement of the national religion, and other similar topics. As the Star Chamber stands on the border-line between administration and law, recourse should be made also to the legal section. For those branch establishments by which certain provincial areas were governed, the Councils of the North and of Wales, the books by Miss Reid (271) and Miss Skeel (3439) provide ample bibliographies.

(i) GENERAL AND MISCELLANEOUS

- (a) Sources. (b) Later Works.

284. The privy council registers. By E. R. Adair. Eng. Hist. Rev. vol. xxx. 1915.

There is another article by the same author on 'The rough copies of the privy council register' in E.H.R. vol. xxxviii. pp. 410-22. July 1923.

285. The lords of trade and plantations 1675-1696. By R. P. Bieber. 1 vol. 8vo. Allentown. Pa. 1919.

This subject is also dealt with by W. T. Root in 'The lords of trade and plantations 1675-96' (A.H.R. vol. 23, pp. 20-41 Oct. 1917). Mr. Bieber has also published an article on 'The British plantation councils of 1670-4' describing their activities in detail (E.H.R. vol. xl. pp. 93-106, Jan. 1925.)

286. Acts of the privy council of England 1613-1617. 3 vols. 8vo. Lond. 1921-27.

Other volumes are in preparation; those portions of the 17th and 18th century registers of the privy council that refer to the colonies were published by W. Grant and J. Munro (3554). The introductions to these volumes (especially vols. i and ii) are most valuable for the working of the privy council. There is a list of privy councillors for the period in the Addendum to vol. v. Extracts from the privy council registers concerning the drama have been printed by E. K. Chambers and W. W. Greg. Dramatic records from the privy council register 1603-42. (The Malone Society's Collections, Pts. IV and V, pp. 370-95. 1911.)

(b) CABINET COUNCIL

287. The private diary of William First Earl Cowper. Ed. by E. C. Hawtrey. 1 vol. 4to. Roxburghe Club, 1833.

The lords of the committee of the council. (Amer. Hist. Rev. vol. xxii. Oct. 1916.)

(iii) STAR CHAMBER

297. A speech delivered in the star chamber, on Wednesday the XIV of June, MDCXXXVII, at the censure of John Bastwick, Henry Burton, and William Prinn. By W. Laud. 1 vol. 4to. Lond. 1637.

Repr. in the Harleian Miscellany (87).

298. A treatise on the court of star chamber. By W. Hudson. Ed. by F. Hargrave. In Hargrave's Collectanea Juridica, vol. ii. pp. 1-240. 2 vols. 8vo. Lond. 1792.

Written c. 1620: the Treatise exists in many versions, probably the best is Add. MS. 11681. See also Scofield 'A study of the court of star chamber' Bibliog. p. vi; and An outline of the history of the star chamber [Archaeologia xxv. 1834] by John Bruce, which is derived from Hudson. A similar treatise by Isaac Cotton written in 1622 is in Brit. Mus. Stowe MS. 418.

299. The star chamber: notices of the court and its proceedings. By J. S. Burn, 1 vol. 8vo. Lond. 1870.

300. Speech of Sir Robert Heath, attorney general, in the case of Alexander Leighton in the star chamber, 4 June 1630. By Sir R. Heath. Ed. by S. R. Gardiner. Camd. Soc. Misc. vii. 1875.

Printed from State Papers Domestic CLXVIII. Preface by J. Bruce.

301. Documents relating to the proceedings against William Prynne in 1634 and 1637. Ed. by J. Bruce and S. R. Gardiner. Camd. Socy. New Ser. 18. 1 vol. 4to. Lond. 1877.

Pr. from MSS. in Brit. Mus. and P.R.O. App. contains a list of Prynne's works.

302. Reports of cases in the courts of star chamber and high commission. Ed. by S. R. Gardiner. Camd. Soc. 1886.

From Harl. MS. 4130, and Rawlinson, A 128; Star chambers cases Easter Term 1631 to Trinity Term 1632; high commission cases Oct. 1631 to June 1632; shows ordinary course of business in these courts. There are reports of other Star chamber cases 1625-8 in Rushworth, vol. ii, Pt. II.

303. Les Reportes del cases in camera stellata 1593-1609. By J. Hawarde. Ed. by W. P. Baildon. 1 vol. 8vo. Lond. 1894.

304. Star chamber proceedings against the Earl of Suffolk and others. By A. P. Keep. In Eng. Hist. Rev. vol. xii. Oct. 1898.

Gives account of Proceedings in 1619 against Suffolk and his wife and Sir John Bingley. Based on contemp. MS. in possession of Pye family.

305. A study of the court of star chamber largely based on manuscripts in the British Museum and the Public Record Office. By C. L. Scofield. 1 vol. 8vo. Chicago. 1900. Bibl.

A careful treatise (though in some respects superseded), with valuable bibliography of both manuscript and printed sources.

306. The court of star chamber. By E. P. Cheyney. Amer. Hist. Rev. vol. xviii. July 1913.

Good account of Star Chamber procedure.

¶ 3. PARLIAMENTARY HISTORY

- (i) General and Miscellaneous.
- (ii) Elections.
- (iii) Lists of members.
- (iv) Proceedings and debates :
 - (a) General collections.
 - (b) Individual parliaments.
- (v) Collections of statutes.

There is neither a bibliography for the general parliamentary history of the period nor for any of its separate aspects. The best general guides are Gerould (25) and the Cambridge Modern History. The introduction to Notestein and Relf (398) has an admirable discussion of the sources for the first half of the seventeenth century.

In addition to the works listed in this section, general histories, especially constitutional, should be consulted together with the biographies and writings of members of either house of parliament. Most tracts are excluded from lack of space, although they form important sources. There is no complete catalogue of them, but guidance should be sought in the Thomason Tracts (17), Knuttel (721 n.), and the printed catalogue of the British Museum Library, where pamphlets on a subject are often grouped together. Unprinted MSS. for the period to 1642 are being investigated by Professor Notestein and his corroborators, but there is no list even for the later period.

(i) GENERAL AND MISCELLANEOUS

(a) Sources. (b) Later Works.

(a) SOURCES

307. The prerogative of Parliaments in England : proved in a dialogue . . . between a councillor of state and a justice of peace. . . . By Sir W. Raleigh. 1 vol. 4to. Midelburghe. 1628.

308. The History of the Parliament of England which began November 3 1640, with a short and necessary view of some precedent years. By T. May. 1 vol. fol. Lond. 1647.

Based on newspaper and official manifestoes. For estimate see D.N.B. sub May. Repr. with an appendix of documents, by F. Maseres. 4to. 1812 and 8vo. Oxf. 1854. The last ed. restored the original text which Maseres amended.

309. The commoners liberty : or the English-Mans birthright. By Sir R. Twysden. 1 vol. 4to. [Lond.] 1648.

310. A plea for the Lords, or a short yet full and necessary vindication of the judiciary and legislative power of the House of Peeres. . . . By W. Prynn. 1 vol. 4to. Lond. 1648. Later ed. 1658.

The 2nd ed. is practically a new work. The work is largely antiquarian.

311. Cottoni posthuma : divers choice pieces of that renowned antiquary, Sir Robert Cotton. Ed. by J. Howell. 1 vol. 8vo. Lond. 1651. Later eds. 1672 and 1679.

A collection of tracts, mostly of constitutional importance.

312. The ancient method and manner of holding Parliaments in England. By H. Elsynge. 1 vol. 8vo. Lond. 1660. Later ed. 1675.

An account of established parliamentary procedure : drawn largely from the Modus tenendi Parliamenti but (especially in the ed. of 1675) with much new matter.

313. The grand question concerning the judicature of the House of Peers stated and argued, and the case of Thomas Skinner . . . faithfully related. By D. Holles. 1 vol. 8vo. Lond. 1669.

Vindicates jurisdiction of peers.

314. The case stated of the jurisdiction of the House of Lords in the point of impositions. By D. Holles. 1 vol. 8vo. Lond. 1676.

Supports Lords' claims to moderate, though not to institute or increase, rates on merchandise voted by Commons.

315. Honesty's best policy ; or penitence the sum of prudence : Being a brief discourse in honour of the Right Honourable Anthony Earl of Shaftsbury's humble acknowledgment and submission for his offences upon his knees, at the Bar of the House of Lords, on the 25th of Febr. 1677[-78]. Together with the several proceedings of the said Right Honourable House, in order to his Lordships late discharge from imprisonment. 1 vol. 4to. s.a. [1678].

Satirical advice to Shaftesbury. Important account of the rise of the Country party.

316. A letter from Amsterdam to a friend in England. 1 vol. 4to. Lond. 1678.

Court party satire on the Country party and the Scottish Covenanters. Dated 18 Apr. 1678.

317. The constitution of Parliaments in England deduced from the time of King Edward the Second, illustrated by King Charles the Second in his Parliament summoned 18 Feb. 1661 and dissolved 24 Jan. 1679. By J. Pettus. 1 vol. 8vo. Lond. 1680.

Incomplete : treats only of the Lords.

318. The antient right of the commons of England asserted. By W. Petyt. 1 vol. 8vo. Lond. 1680.

319. Miscellanea Parliamentaria : containing presidents (1) of Freedom from Arrests, (2) of Censures. . . . besides other Presidents. By W. Petyt. 1 vol. 8vo. Lond. 1680.

320. English liberties, or, The free-born subject's inheritance. Containing I. Magna Charta, the Petition of Right, the Habeas Corpus Act ; and divers other most useful statutes, with large comments upon each of them. II. The proceedings in appeal of murther ; the work and power of Parliament. . . . Plain directions for all persons concerned in ecclesiastical courts. III. All the laws against conventicles and Protestant Dissenters with notes. By [H. Care] 1 vol. 12mo. Lond. [1680 ?] Later eds. 1 vol. 12mo. Lond. 1691. 4th ed. 1 vol. 8vo. Lond. 1719.

The 4th ed. is altered and enlarged.

321. A perfect copy of all summons of the nobility to the Great Councils and Parliaments of the Realm, from the XLIX of King Henry the IIIrd. until these present times. By Sir W. Dugdale. 1 vol. fol. Lond. 1685.

322. The power, jurisdiction and priviledge of Parliament ; and the antiquity of the House of Commons asserted. By Sir R. Atkyns. 1 vol. fol. Lond. 1689.

323. Of the judicature in Parliaments, a posthumous treatise : wherein, the controversies and precedents belonging to that title, are methodically handled. By J. Selden. 1 vol. 8vo. Lond. [?1690].

324. A vindication of the proceedings of the late Parliament of England, A.D. 1689 . . . By [J. Lord Somers]. 1 vol. 4to. Lond. 1690.

325. The original institution, power and jurisdiction of Parliaments . . . with a Declaration of the House of Commons concerning their privileges. . . . By Sir M. Hale. 1 vol. 8vo. Lond. 1707.

Hale's authorship is very doubtful.

326. A short history of the Parliament. 1 vol. 8vo. Lond. 1713.

This was attributed to Sir R. Walpole. There were 3 other editions in 1713.

327. Of the antiquity, power and decay of Parliaments. Being a general view of government, and civil policy, in Europe : with other historical Observations relating thereunto. By T. Rymer. 1 vol. 8vo. Lond. 1714.

328. Jus Parliamentarium : or the ancient power, jurisdiction, rights and liberties of the most high Court of Parliament. . . . By W. Petyt. 1 vol. fol. Lond. 1739.

329. Precedents of proceedings in the House of Commons. By J. Hatsell. 4 vols. 4to. Lond. 1781. Later eds. 1785, 1796, 1818.

The 4th ed. 1818 has additions by Charles Abbot, Lord Colchester.

330. The jurisdiction of the Lords House, or Parliament considered according to antient records. By Sir M. Hale. Ed. by F. Hargrave. 1 vol. 4to. Lond. 1796.

331. Catalogue of the printed books and manuscripts in the Library of the Inner Temple. 1 vol. 8vo. Lond. 1833.

This contains a moderately detailed list of the Petyt MSS. which are very valuable for parliamentary history. See also 'Report on the MSS. on the Library of the Inner Temple' by the Hist. MSS. Comm. (11th Rep. App. VII. 1888).

332. The debates on the Grand Remonstrance, November and December 1641. With an Introductory Essay. . . . By J. Forster. 1 vol. 8vo. Lond. 1860.

Marked by a strong parliamentary bias. Based on MSS. in P.R.O. D'Ewes' Journal in Harleian MSS. [162-6], as well as on printed material, but biased in favour of the parliament. Cf. his: Arrest of the Five Members by Charles the First: a Chapter of English History re-written. 1 vol. 8vo. Lond. 1860.

333. Eliot MSS. 1st Report of Hist. MSS. Comm. App. pp. 41-4. 1870.

These MSS. contain a great deal of material that is valuable for Parliamentary history.

334. Braye MSS. Hist. MSS. Comm. Abergavenny MSS. 1887.

Mainly papers of John Browne, Clerk to the Parliaments c. 1621-60. Some correspondence of John Mordaunt with royalists 1658-9.

335. Letters concerning the dissolution of Cromwell's last Parliament, 1658. By J. Hobart. Ed. by C. H. Firth. Eng. Hist. Rev. vol. vii. 1892.

From correspondence of John Hobart among Tanner MSS. in Bodleian Library.

(b) LATER WORKS

336. The parliamentary privilege of freedom from arrest, and Sir Thomas Shirley's Case 1604. By G. W. Prothero. Eng. Hist. Rev. vol. viii. Oct. 1893.

Reviews the case and prints—for the first time—two Acts passed on it, which, being regarded as private Acts, are not included in the Statutes of the Realm.

337. A constitutional history of the house of lords. By L. O. Pike. 1 vol. 8vo. Lond. 1894.

Valuable, especially for legal side.

338. The Barebone Parliament and the religious movements of the 17th century culminating in the protectorate system of church government. By H. A. Glass. 1 vol. 8vo. Lond. 1899. Ports.

339. The genesis of the grand remonstrance from parliament to King Charles I. By H. L. Schoolcraft. 1 vol. 4to. Urbana. 1902.

Almost wholly from printed sources.

340. Karl II. und sein Konflikt mit seinem unduldsamen anglikanischen Parlament. By A. Zimmermann. Historisches Jahrbuch 1905. Band xxvi. Heft 3.

341. The Long Parliament of Charles II. By W. C. Abbott. In Eng. Hist. Rev. vol. xxi. pp. 21-56 and pp. 254-85. Jan. and Apr. 1906.

345. The High Court of Parliament. By C. H. McIlwain. 1 vol. 8vo. New-haven (Conn.) and Lond. 1910.

346. The House of Lords during the Civil War [1603-60]. By C. H. Firth. 1 vol. 8vo. Lond. 1910.

347. The speakers of the house of commons from the earliest times to the present day with . . . a brief record of the principal constitutional changes during seven centuries . . . with . . . a portrait of every speaker where one is known to exist. By A. I. Dasent. 1 vol. 8vo. Lond. 1911. Illus.

348. The Petition of Right. By F. H. Relf. 1 vol. 8vo. University of Minnesota. Studies in the Social Sciences, No. 8. Minneapolis. 1917.

Also serves as a useful guide to the sources for the history of the session of 1628.

349. The royal veto under Charles II. By C. E. Fryer. Eng. Hist. Rev. xxxii. Jan. 1917.

350. The Expulsion of the Long Parliament. By C. H. Firth. History, vol. ii. Nos. 7 and 8, pp. 129-143, 193-206. Oct. 1917, Jan. 1918.

This is a full examination of the sources for the account of this event. He criticizes Prof. W. Michael's article on the same subject ('Oliver Cromwell und die Auflösung des langen Parlaments') in the Historische Zeitschrift for 1889 (vol. 63, pp. 57-78). See also 'Cromwell and the Expulsion of the Long Parliament in 1653' (Eng. Hist. Rev. vol. viii. July 1893) where Firth prints some original documents.

353. History of English parliamentary privilege. By C. Wittke. 1 vol. 8vo. Ohio State Univ. Studies: Contributions in History and Political Science. No. 6. Columbus. 1921.

Not wholly abreast of modern research in this subject.

354. Writs of assistance. By E. R. Adair and F. M. G. Evans. Eng. Hist. Rev. vol. xxxvi. July 1921.

Deals with the position of those summoned to attend the House of Lords as assistants.

355. The winning of the initiative by the house of commons. By W. Notestein. Repr. from Proc. Brit. Acad. 8vo. Lond. 1926.

Supersedes The institutional history of the house of commons 1547-1641. By R. G. Usher. Washington Univ. Studies xi. Humanistic series. 1924.

(ii) ELECTIONS

356. A brief register, kalendar, and survey . . . of Parliamentary Writs. By W. Prynne. 4 vols. 8vo. Lond. 1659-64.

357. A collection of debates, reports, orders, and resolutions of the house of commons, touching the right of electing members to serve in parliament for the several counties, cities, boroughs, and towns corporate in England and Wales. By W. Bohun. 1 vol. fol. Lond. 1702.

'Most of the cases reported fall within the years 1674-1700.' Gross, A Bibliography of British municipal history, [8vo. N.Y. 1897] p. 61, where there is a list of the boroughs concerned.

358. All the proceedings in relation to the Aylesbury men committed by the house of commons and the report of the lords journal and reports of the conferences. 1 vol. fol. Lond. 1704.

359. Ashby and White : or, the great question whether an action lies at common law for an elector, who is deny'd his vote for members of parliament ? 1 vol. 8vo. s.l. 1705.

360. An historical account of the rights of elections of the several counties, cities, and boroughs of Great Britain ; collected from public records and the journals of parliament to . . . [1754]. By T. Carew. 2 pts. fol. Lond. 1755.

'For the period covered [c. 1600-1754] this is the most exhaustive parliamentary history of boroughs.' Gross, p. 62, where there is a list of the boroughs concerned.

361. Reports of certain cases, determined and adjudged by the commons in parliament, in the twenty-first and twenty-second years of the reign of King James the First. By J. Glanville. Ed. by J. Topham. 1 vol. 8vo. Lond. 1775.

362. The representative history of Great Britain and Ireland. By T. H. B. Oldfield. 6 vols. 8vo. Lond. 1816.

This supersedes the same author's, An entire and complete history of the boroughs of Great Britain [3 vols. 1792].

363. The unreformed house of commons. Parliamentary representation before 1832. By E. Porritt and A. G. Porritt. 2 vols. 8vo. Camb. 1903 and 1909.

Vol. I. England and Wales. II. Scotland and Ireland. A comprehensive work.

364. The Elections to the Exclusion Parliaments 1679-1681. By E. Lipson. Eng. Hist. Rev. xxviii. January 1913.

365. An 18th century Election in England [1710]. By W. T. Morgan. Political Science Quarterly, vol. xxxvii. 1922.

366. The Elections for the Long Parliament, 1640. By R. N. Kershaw. Eng. Hist. Rev. vol. xxxviii. Oct. 1923.

This account of the composition of the Long Parliament is carried on by an article by the same author in History (vol. viii. no. 31. pp. 169-79. Oct. 1923) entitled 'The Recruiting of the Long Parliament 1645-7'.

(iii) LISTS OF MEMBERS OF PARLIAMENTS

367. Notitia Parliamentaria. By Browne Willis. 3 vols. 8vo. Lond. 1715-50.

Vols. I and II deal with parliamentary representation in a very detailed way—taking the counties alphabetically—but reaches only as far as Durham: Vol. iii gives brief notes for cities sending members to parliament, and lists of speakers and M.P.s from 1542 to 1660. Browne Willis is occasionally useful, but often unreliable.

368. Return of the names of every member returned to serve in each parliament. 2 vols. fol. s.l. 1878.

Pr. from writs and returns in the P.R.O. The indexes, publ. c. 1891, contain valuable addenda et corrigenda. Commonly called Official returns of members of parliament. Cf. W. W. Bean's The parliamentary returns of members of the House of Commons. Notices of various errors and omissions in the above-named work [1663-1830]. 8vo. Lond. c. 1883.

369. Cumberland and Westmorland M.P.'s from the restoration to the reform bill of 1867. By R. S. Ferguson. 1 vol. 8vo. Lond. & Carlisle. 1871.

370. The parliamentary representation of Yorkshire from the earliest authentically recorded elections to the present time [Edward I to 1886]. By G. R. Park. 1 vol. 8vo. Hull. 1886.

371. Parliamentary representation of Lancashire, county and borough, 1258-1885. By W. D. Pink and A. B. Beaven. 1 vol. 8vo. Lond. 1889.

372. The parliamentary representation of Cornwall to 1832. By W. P. Courtney. 1 vol. 8vo. Lond. 1889.

373. The parliamentary representation of the six northern counties of England . . . and their cities and boroughs, from 1603 to . . . 1886. With lists of members and biographical notices. By W. W. Bean. 1 vol. 8vo. Hull. 1890.

374. Knights of the shire for Kent. 1275-1831. By J. Cave-Brown. Archaeologia Cantiana xxi. 1895.

375. The parliamentary history of the county of Gloucester, including the cities of Bristol and Gloucester (1213-1898) . . . with biographical and genealogical notices of the Members. By W. R. J. Williams. 1 vol. 8vo. Hereford. 1898.

The same author has also produced similar parliamentary histories of the counties of Hereford [Brecknock 1896], Oxford [Brecknock 1899], Worcester [Hereford 1897] and the Principality of Wales 1541-1895 [Brecknock 1895], together with the Official Lists of the Duchy and County Palatine of Lancaster [Lond. 1901].

376. Staffordshire parliamentary history from the earliest times to the present day. By J. C. Wedgwood. 2 vols. 8vo. William Salt Soc. Lond. 1919-20.

1603-1714 is in vol. ii. Supplies many valuable notes on M.P.s

(iv) PARLIAMENTARY PROCEEDINGS AND DEBATES

(a) GENERAL COLLECTIONS

377. Journals of the house of lords 1578-1714 [vols. ii-xix]. 18 vols. fol. s.l. s.a.

Of the greatest value for the civil war, supplying copies of bills, letters, and other documents. Generally gives a list of the peers present each day, the date when a peer first took his seat, as well as each day's proceedings.

378. Journals of the house of commons 1547-1714 [vols. i-xvii]. 17 vols. fol. s.l. s.a.

379. Remembrances of some methods, orders, and proceedings heretofore used and observed in the House of Lords, extracted out of the Journals of that House. By H. Scobell. 1 vol. 12mo. Lond. 1657.

380. Rules and customs which by long and constant practice have obtained the name of orders of the House. . . . By H. Scobell. 1 vol. 12mo. Dublin. 1692.

381. A complete collection of protests made in the house of lords . . . 1641-1737. 1 vol. 8vo. 1737.

Cf. A complete collection of all the protests . . . from 1641 to . . . 1745 [Lond. 1745].

382. The history and proceedings of the house of lords from the restoration in 1660 to the present time. 8 vols. 8vo. Lond. 1742-3.

Often referred to by the publisher's name Timberland. Vol. i covers the period 1660-97.

383. The history and proceedings of the house of commons from the restoration to the present time. 14 vols. 8vo. Lond. 1742-4.

Often referred to by the publisher's name, Chandler. The first 4 vols. cover the period 1660-1713. Cf. a similar series publ. by J. Torbuck, 1740-2.

384. The parliamentary or constitutional history of England from the earliest times to the restoration of Charles II. 24 vols. 8vo. Lond. 1751-62.

Commonly known as the Old parliamentary history. Valuable, especially for the copious extracts quoted from contemporary pamphlets during 1642-60, but must be used with great care owing to the wholly uncritical methods of its compilation.

385. The parliamentary history of England. Ed. by William Cobbett. 36 vols. 8vo. Lond. 1806-20.

Vols. i-vi cover the period down to 1714. At the end of vols. iv and v some interesting pamphlets of the later 17th century are repr.

386. The protests of the lords, including those which have been expunged . . . with historical introductions. By J. E. T. Rogers. 3 vols. 8vo. Oxf. 1875. Vol. i, 1624-1741.

387. The manuscripts of the house of Lords.

Some of these papers came into the custody of the lords either because they were addressed to the speaker of the lords or because they were secured for the purpose of a parliamentary inquiry. Since the lords always demanded the original documents, and refused copies, their value is the greater. There are also minute books, drafts of bills with amendments marked, copies of bills which never became law and much other material, all of which illustrates the Journals. These volumes are of the greatest importance for constitutional history, but they often contain information of the highest value for nearly every branch of English history. They were calendared by the Hist. MSS. Comm. down to 1693, the calendar to 1678 being contained in the 9 fol. reports and from 1678-93 in four vols. [8vo. Lond. 1887-94]. For 1693-1710 the calendar has been continued in a new series by the house of lords itself, vols. i-viii (8vo. Lond. 1900-23). For an account of them as a whole see the app. to Report I. (Hist. MSS. Comm.) pp. 1-4, but no general description can explain the wealth of detail often to be found in them.

388. French reports of British parliamentary debates in the 18th century. By P. Mantoux. Amer. Hist. Rev. vol. xii. Jan. 1907.

Valuable as indicating the existence of detailed reports of parliamentary proceedings in the 17th century among the Correspondance politique : Angleterre, of the French Foreign Office. He quotes a report of some of the proceedings of the session of 1679. Transcripts of most of the Fr. ambassador's dispatches during the 17th century are deposited in the Public Record Office.

389. Proceedings and debates of the British parliaments respecting North America. Vol. i, 1542-1688; vol. ii, 1689-1702. Ed. by L. F. Stock. 8vo. Washington. 1924-7.

(b) SEPARATE PARLIAMENTS, ARRANGED IN THE CHRONOLOGICAL ORDER OF THE PARLIAMENTS

390. Parliamentary debates in 1610 . . . from the notes of a member of the house of commons. Ed. by S. R. Gardiner. Camd. Soc. 1862.

From B. Mus. Add. MS. 4210, with illustrative papers from Harleian and Lansdowne MSS.

391. Proceedings and debates of the house of commons in 1620 and 1621, collected by a member of that house. . . . By [E. Nicholas]. Ed. by T. Tyrwhitt. 2 vols. 8vo. Oxf. 1766.

From MSS. in library of Queen's College, Oxford. Nicholas's notes of the Parliamentary proceedings on March 14 to 16, and Nov. 20 to Dec. 19, 1621 are S.P. Dom. Jas. I, vol. cxxv. Commons' proceedings 29 Mar. and 20 Oct.-4 Nov. 1673.

417. A Journal of the proceedings of the house of commons the last session of parliament beginning Jan. 7. Anno Dom. 1673. And ending Feb. 24, 1673. Containing all the publick transactions of the house of commons. To which are added four of the grand bills prepared to be enacted that session. Printed at Rome by the especial command of his Holinesse, at the request of his Highnesse the Duke of York. 1 vol. 4to. Probably in Holland. 1674.

Full reports of proceedings of a political nature for the 1673/4 session. Texts of bills for improvement of writs of habeas corpus, for a test in religion, for preventing illegal exaction of money from the subject, and for preventing imprisonment in illegal prisons or beyond seas. Reasons for the prorogation—evidently drawn up by a supporter of the country party. Certain details in the typography, which is very beautiful, point to a Dutch origin.

418. Two seasonable discourses concerning this present parliament. 1 vol. 4to. Oxf. 1675.

Report of debate in the house of commons 20 Nov. 1675, giving the arguments for a dissolution.

This may have been published with T.E., A Letter from a Parliament Man &c. The two are State Tracts (64) pp. 65-9.

419. A letter from a parliament man to his friend, concerning the proceedings of the house of commons this last sessions, begun the 13th of October, 1675. By T. E. 1 vol. 4to. s.l. 1675.

Gives the composition of the House of Commons. See above, Two seasonable discourses.

420. Two speeches. I. The Earl of Shaftsbury's speech in the house of lords, the 20th of October, 1675. II. The D. of Buckingham's speech in the house of lords, the 16th of November, 1675. Together with the protestation, and reasons of several lords for the dissolution of this parliament ; entered in the lords journal the day the parliament was prorogued, Nov. 22nd, 1675. 1 vol. [? 4to]. Amsterdam [Probably Lond.] 1675.

Repr. in State Tracts (64) pp. 57-64. Important as illustrating the country party's manœuvres.

421. A letter from a person of quality, to his friend in the country. 1 vol. 4to. 1675.

Reports of Lords' debates and proceedings; also statement of country party attitude. Probably written under Shaftesbury's supervision. Repr. in State Tracts (64), pp. 41-56—and in Cobbett's Parliamentary History. An answer by Marchamont Nedham appeared in 1676: A packet of advices and animadversions, sent from London to the men of Shaftesbury.

422. A narrative of the cause and manner of the imprisonment of the lords: now close prisoners in the Tower of London. By J. E. 1 vol. 4to. Amsterdam [probably Lond.] 1677.

Important reports of Lords' proceedings, 15 Feb. and following days, 1676/7; also reports of some speeches.

423. A collection of some memorable and weighty transactions in parliament in the year 1678, and afterwards, in relation to the impeachment of Thomas, Earl of Danby. 1 vol. 4to. Lond. 1695.

¶ 4. LEGAL HISTORY

(a) Bibliographies and Sources.

(b) Later Works.

The nature of legal sources is clearly explained by Holdsworth (456) and Winfield (457), and there are a number of comprehensive lists. Holdsworth (588) provides a detailed history of law, and Jenks (591) a valuable sketch. For the semi-political activities of lawyers the general histories will be found useful. Thus Gardiner (219) has much to say about Coke, Macaulay (204) of Jeffreys.

(a) BIBLIOGRAPHIES AND SOURCES

446. A catalogue of the common and statute law-books of this realm . . . with an account of the best editions. By T. Bassett. 1 vol. 12mo. Lond. 1670. Later ed. 1682.

457. The chief sources of English legal history. By P. H. Winfield. 1 vol. 8vo. Camb. (Mass.) 1925.

458. Les reports de Edward Coke. By Sir E. Coke. 13 vols. fol. Lond. 1600-15, 1656, 1659.

The first four volumes are mainly concerned with the reign of Elizabeth and the fifth with the ecclesiastical cases of that reign. In the later volumes Jacobean cases gradually predominate over Elizabethan. The 12th and 13th volumes were posthumously published and in English. The former contains much about the ecclesiastical controversies in the law courts. For later eds. see Lowndes, pp. 489-90. In 1606 Thomas Ashe printed 'Un perfect table a tous les severall livres del reportes de Sir Edw. Coke : Ouesque un catalogue de tous les cases in larguments de les principall cases la remembre, et in le temps le raigne et adjudges, mes iammes deuant imprimee.' [1 vol. 8vo. ¶ 5. FOREIGN RELATIONS

- (i) General.
- (ii) France.
- (iii) Germany.
- (iv) Italy.
- (v) Northern Powers.
- (vi) Spain, Portugal, and the Low Countries.
- (vii) Switzerland.
- (viii) United Provinces.

There is no work on a large scale devoted to foreign policy during the Stuart period, although Seeley (619) supplies a basis. Gardiner was the first English historian fully to investigate the subject and to demonstrate its influence upon domestic history, and his works (219, 220) should be used for 1603-56. For the rest of the period Ranke (214) and Klopp (215) are the best guides. The series initiated by the Royal Historical Society should ultimately cover foreign relations with all European powers after 1688. The only calendar of the dispatches of any foreign representative is the Venetian (683), but copious extracts have been published from the correspondence of various French ambassadors, who during 1660-88, were often the confidential advisers of the crown, and the Austrian representatives' dispatches were systematically employed by Klopp. Much of the published material is contained in foreign works, of which only a few are here listed. Others should be sought in bibliographies such as Bourgeois and André for France and Dahlmann and Waitz for Germany. The best guide to the treaties of the period is Myers (599).

¶ 6. BIOGRAPHIES

(a) Collective biographies, and biographiana.

(b) Biographies, personal narratives, and collected works of individuals.

This section includes only the lives and writings of those personages who figure in the political and constitutional history of England, or whose careers were too varied to be included elsewhere. Genealogies are not cited, but may be traced through G. W. Marshall's The genealogist's guide [1 vol. 8vo. Lond. 1879. Last ed. 1 vol. 8vo. Guildford. 1903]. Heraldry is omitted but may be studied in J. Guillim's A display of heraldry [1610; 6th ed. 1724].

The Dictionary of National Biography should always be consulted, not only for the lives but also for the authorities cited. Its publication made biography the easiest form of historical writing, and has resulted in the compilation of many works of slight value. No effort has been made to cite all these, but occasionally an indifferent life has been included in default of anything better. Care has been taken, however, to insert all the works containing documentary matter, and, what is much rarer though most valuable, information about the literary remains and correspondence of the subject of the biography.

The value of memoirs as sources for political history has been reduced by the modern scientific methods of historians. Nevertheless if their limitations are realized they are important in this respect as showing what the writer thought of current events or how he wished his actions to be judged. By revealing the spirit of the age they correct the common tendency to judge the past too exclusively by the standards of to-day. Their value is succinctly explained by Firth in an article in the Scottish Historical Review for July 1913.

(a) COLLECTIVE BIOGRAPHIES, AND BIOGRAPHIANA

745. England's worthies. Select lives of the most eminent persons of the English nation from Constantine the Great to the death of Oliver Cromwell. By W. Winstanley. 1 vol. 8vo. Lond. 1660. Later eds. 1 vol. 8vo. Lond. 1684.

Ed. of 1684 contains 15 new lives ending with Rupert, but omits Cromwell.

II. MILITARY HISTORY

1. General.
2. Discipline, Drill, Equipment, and Tactics.
3. Narratives and Histories of Campaigns.
4. Regimental Histories.
5. Biographies and Personal Narratives, (a) 1603-1660, (b) 1660-1714.
6. Civil War: (a) General sources, (b) General later Works, (c) Local Sources and later Works.

THERE is no military bibliography covering the period 1603-1714. The best guides are the catalogue of the War Office Library (8vo. 1906, with annual supplements); the catalogue of the Library of the Royal United Service Institution (2nd ed. 1908), and the British Museum catalogue (sub England, Army). Apart from Cockle (1020) there are no bibliographies for the period before 1660. After that useful bibliographies will be found in Clifford Walton (1016), Atkinson (1053), Parnell (1052), and Taylor (1145). Otherwise recourse must be made to bibliographies in general histories, to the footnotes to accounts of campaigns embedded in general histories, and to the bibliographies attached to the lives of soldiers in the Dictionary of National Biography.

Considerations of space compel the omission of all but a very few foreign works, although they often throw light upon the operations of English armies. These should be sought for in the bibliographies mentioned in the section dealing with foreign affairs.

Scottish military books are here included, but those dealing with Ireland will be found under Ireland.

§ I. GENERAL

1010. A short history of standing armies in England. By J. Trenchard, 1 vol. small 4to. Lond. 1698.

Repr. with other similar pieces in No. 71 n.

This pamphlet and Defoe's 'Argument showing that a standing army is inconsistent with a free government' (1697) gave rise to a sharp controversy. See Macaulay (204) ch. xxiii.

1011. The British army: its origin, progress and equipment. By Sir S. D. Scott. 3 vols. 8vo. Lond. 1868-80.

Antiquarian. The third volume deals with 1660-89.

1012. The military forces of the crown: their administration and government. By C. M. Clode. 2 vols. 8vo. Lond. 1869.

Legal enactments and administrative orders relating to the army.

1013. English army lists and commission registers, 1661-1714. By C. Dalton. 6 vols. 8vo. Lond. 1892-1904.

These are invaluable guides to the personnel of the army. Cf. the same author's The Blenheim roll. Ed. and annotated. 1 vol. 8vo. Lond. 1907.

1014. Irish Army lists 1661-1685. By C. Dalton. 1 vol. 8vo. Lond. 1907.
Cf. his The Scots army 1661-1688, with memoirs of the commanders in chief. 1 vol. 8vo. Edin. and Lond. 1909.

1015. The standards and colours of the army from the Restoration (1661 to 1881). By S. M. Milne. 1 vol. 8vo. Leeds. 1893.

1016. History of the British standing army, 1660-1700. By C. Walton. 1 vol. large 8vo. Lond. 1894.

Very complete, with an appendix of documents.

1017. Medals and decorations of the British army and navy. By J. H. Mayo. 2 vols. 8vo. Lond. 1897.

With extracts from general orders, royal warrants, &c., relating to their issue. Well illustrated.

1018. A history of the British army, vol. i (to 1713). By J. W. Fortescue. 8vo. Lond. 1899. Plans. 2nd ed. 1910.

Deals with the formation, administration and operations of the army.

1019. List of war office records preserved in the Public Record Office. Vol. i, Lists and Indexes. xxviii. 1908.

§ 2. DISCIPLINE, DRILL, EQUIPMENT, AND TACTICS

There is no comprehensive work on these subjects. Lloyd (1034) has a valuable sketch of the general development of infantry tactics in Europe. The most useful works are for the period 1603-42 Cockle (1020); for 1642-60, Elton (1025) and Firth (1170); for 1660-1702, The Official Abridgement (1030) and Clifford Walton (1016); and for 1702-13, Bland (1031) and Fortescue (1018).

1020. A bibliography of English military books up to 1642, and of contemporary foreign works. By M. J. D. Cockle. 1 vol. 4to. Lond. 1900. Illus.

A model bibliography. It contains books on the art of war, but only a few historical works.

1021. The gunner, showing the whole practice of artillerie, with all the appurtenances thereunto belonging. By R. Norton. 1 vol. fol. Lond. 1628. Plates.

1022. Military discipline, or the young artillery-man, wherein is discoursed and showne the postures both of musket and pike. By W. Bariffe. 1 vol. 4to. Lond. 1635. 3rd ed. 1643. 6th ed. 1661.

The 3rd ed. is revised and enlarged.

1023. The principles of the art militarie, practised in the warres of the United Netherlands . . . represented by figure. By H. Hexham. 1 vol. fol. Lond. 1637. 2nd ed. 1 vol. fol. Delft. 1642.

1024. Anima's adversions of warre, or a militarie magazine of the truest rules and ablest instructions for the managing of warre. By R. Ward. 1 vol. fol. Lond. 1639. Illus.

Based on wars in the Netherlands and Germany. Important.

1025. The compleat body of the art military illustrated with a varietie of figures. By R. Elton. 1 vol. fol. Lond. 1650. 2nd ed. 1659. 3rd ed. 1668.

Mainly concerned with infantry drill. The author served in the Parliamentary forces. 3rd ed. has a supplement by T. Rudd, chief engineer to Charles I.

1026. Observations upon military and political affairs. By George Monck (Duke of Albemarle). Ed. by J. Heath. 1 vol. fol. Lond. 1761 (with plates). 2nd ed. 1 vol. 8vo. Lond. 1796 (with plates).

1027. Military and maritime discipline . . . Book I. Military observations or tacticks put into practice for the exercise of horse and foot [by T. Venn]. Book II. An exact method of military architecture rendred into English out of the works of . . . Andrew Tacquet . . . Book III. The compleat gunner, translated out of Casimir, Diego, Uffano, and Hexam. 1 vol. fol. Lond. 1672.

1028. Treatise of the art of war. By Roger Boyle, Earl of Orrery. 1 vol. fol. Lond. 1677. Diagrams.

Gives some personal experiences in Ireland.

1029. Pallas armata: military essays of the ancient Grecian, Roman and modern art of war. By Sir J. Turner. 1 vol. fol. Lond. 1683.

Written in 1670 and 1671.

1030. Abridgment of the English military discipline. Printed by his majesty's special command for the use of his majesty's forces. 1 vol. 12mo. Lond. 1686.

Containing also Rules and articles for the better government of the land forces. This is the commonest of these manuals, of which the earliest I have seen is dated 1678. (16mo. Lond.) Cf. The exercise of the foot, with the evolutions . . . By their majesties' command. 1 vol. 12mo. Lond. 1690.

1031. A treatise of military discipline. By H. Bland. 1 vol. 8vo. Lond. 1727. 9th ed. 1762.

Bland served under Marlborough, and his book is the best account of British drill and discipline then.

1032. Military antiquities respecting a history of the English army from the conquest to the present time. By F. Grose. 2 vols. 4to. Lond. 1786-8. 2nd ed. 2 vols. 1801. 3rd ed. 1812.

The 2nd ed. includes a treatise on ancient armour and weapons with 61 plates, published separately in 1785.

1033. A history of the dress of the British soldier, from the earliest period to the present time. Illustrated with fifty drawings. By J. Luard. 1 vol. 8vo. Lond. 1852.

1034. A review of the history of infantry. By E. M. Lloyd. 1 vol. 8vo. Lond. 1908.

§ 3. NARRATIVES AND HISTORIES OF CAMPAIGNS

See also the general histories of the period. These are arranged in the chronological order of the campaigns described.

1035. Monro his expedition with the worthy Scots regiment (called Mac-Keyes regiment) levied in August 1626 . . . to which is annexed the abridgement of exercise and divers practical observations, for the youngest officer his consideration. By R. Monro. 1 vol. fol. Lond. 1637.

Levied for service with Christian IV of Denmark and served under Gustavus Adolphus.

1036. Memoirs of military transactions, 1683-1718, in Ireland and Flanders. By R. Parker. 1 vol. 8vo. Lond. 1747.

The author was present at Blenheim, Malplaquet, &c. Much identical with Kane. Cf. Hist. MSS. Comm. Rep. 1, p. 129.

1037. Iter Bellicosum. Adam Wheeler. His account of 1685. Ed. by H. E. Malden. Camd. Misc. xii. 1910. Map.

The narrative of a soldier who served against Monmouth.

1038. Frankland-Russell-Astley MSS., Hist. MSS. Comm. 1900.

Has Cutts and Revett papers 1687-1708, which are important for the Marlborough wars.

1039. Campaigns of King William and Queen Anne ; from 1689 to 1712. Also a new system of military discipline for a battalion of foot in action. By R. Kane. 1 vol. 8vo. Lond. 1745. 2nd ed. 1 vol. 1747. Plans.

A later ed. has title : A system of camp discipline. . . . To which is added General Kane's campaigns improved from the late Earl of Craufurd's and Colonel Dunbar's copies. Continued to 1757. Seems to be a kind of cram book for the Royal Academy of Woolwich.

1040. An imperial relation of all the transactions between the army of the confederates and that of the French king in their last summer's campaign in Flanders. . . . By W. Sawle. 1 vol. 8vo. Lond. 1691.

1041. A relation of the most remarkable transactions of the last campaign . . . in the Spanish Netherlands, 1692-7. By E. D'Auvergne. 6 pts. 8vo. Lond. 1693-8.

The title for the years 1693-4 is : The History of the last campagne in the Spanish Netherlands ; for 1695-7, The History . . . in Flanders. The author was chaplain to the Scots Guards. Valuable for a soldier's daily life and habits. Gives lists of regiments, winter-quarters, &c.

1042. Wilhelm III von England und Max Emanuel von Bayern im Niederländischen Kriege, 1692-7. By K. von Landmann. 1 vol. 8vo. Munich. 1901.

1043. A compleat history of the late war in the Netherlands, together with an abstract of the treaty at Utrecht. By T. Brodrick. 1 vol. 8vo. Lond. 1713. Maps. Plans.

1044. A compendious journal of all the marches, &c. . . . [of the allied armies 1701-12]. By J. Millner. 1 vol. 8vo. Lond. 1733.

A daily record of marches, &c. Very useful.

1045. An impartial enquiry into the management of the war in Spain, by the ministry at home and into the conduct of those generals to whose care the same has been committed abroad. Collected from many original letters and councils of war, never published before. 1 vol. 8vo. Lond. 1712.

'Repr. in 1726 with a new title-page: "The history of the last war in Spain from 1702 to 1710", is based on the Annals, and may have been written by Boyer himself'. Dict. Nat. Biog., sub Massue de Ruvigny, Henri de.

CARLETON, GEORGE.

II23. Military memoirs of Captain George Carleton, from the Dutch war, 1672, in which he served, to the conclusion of the peace at Utrecht, 1713. 1 vol. 8vo. Lond. 1728. 5th ed. 1 vol. 8vo. Edin. 1809 (with preface by Sir W. Scott).

Original title: The memoirs of an English officer. Has been attributed to Defoe, also to Swift. See Dict. Nat. Biog., Parnell (1048), Appendix C, and Eng. Hist. Rev. vol. vi. p. 97; Percival A. Carleton, Memorials of the Carletons; and Arthur Wellesley Secord's Studies in the narrative method of Defoe [Univ. of Illinois Studies in Language and Literature, Urbana, 1924, deals with Robinson Crusoe, Singleton, and Carleton], where the conclusion is that Defoe compiled from contemporary sources a fictitious narrative woven round a genuine personage.

DAVIES, CHRISTIAN.

II24. The life and adventures of Mrs. Christian Davies, commonly call'd Mother Ross. 1 vol. 8vo. Lond. 1740.

An abridged version appeared in 1742 with the title The British heroine, by J. Wilson. See N. and Q. 5th series, vi. 511. Contains some personal adventures of a woman who served in the ranks and then became a sutler. Largely fiction, but throws much light on provisioning the army.

DRAKE, PETER.

1125. The memoirs of Captain Peter Drake ; containing an account of many strange and surprising events. 1 vol. 8vo. Dubl. 1755.

Drake served in the Irish, English, and French armies, and his adventures reveal the seamy side of military life.

¶ 6. CIVIL WAR

(a) General Sources.

(b) General Later Works.

(c) Local Sources and Later Works.

Both for the general outlines of the Civil War, a knowledge of which is necessary for the critical study of any part of it, and also for their footnotes referring to authorities, Gardiner (220) and Firth (1171) are throughout indispensable. The same may be said of the notes in the Dictionary of National Biography and in the biographies mentioned in 4 (a), supra. Owing to the nature of a civil war, and to the intervention in politics by the New Model Army, military history is often inseparable from political, and both the general sources and later works 1603-60 should be consulted. It should not be forgotten that the most important sources for the Civil War are pamphlets and newspapers (2470-2484), and it is essential to examine the collection of both formed by Thomason and now in the British Museum (17).

(a) GENERAL SOURCES

1153. England's parliamentarie chronicle. 3 vols. sm. 4to. Lond. 1643-6. By J. Vicars.

Comprises : Jehovah Jireh. God in the mount (1641-Oct. 1642). God's arke overtopping the worlds waves (July 1643-July 1644) ; the Burning-bush not consumed (Aug. 1644-July 1646). Cf. The same writer's England's worthies, under whom all the bloody warres since anno 1642 to anno 1647 are related. (1 vol. 12mo. Lond. 1647. Ports.)

1154. Anglia rediviva ; England's recovery : being the history of the motions, actions, and successes of the army under . . . Sir Thomas Fairfax. By J. Sprigge. 1 vol. 8vo. Lond. 1647. 2nd ed. 1 vol. 8vo. Oxf. 1854.

A history of the new model army by Fairfax's chaplain, who is said to have been helped by Colonel Fiennes. The list of officers at the end can be supplemented, as far as the Colonels are concerned, from Notes & Queries, 18 Nov. 1893 and 3 March 1894.

1155. A list of officers claiming to the sixty thousand pounds . . . granted by his . . . majesty for the relief of his truly loyal and indigent party. 1 vol. 4to. Lond. 1663.

A long, though incomplete, list of royalist officers. The names of many others can be found in A most true relation of the present state of his majesties army (4to. Lond. 1642). Cf. The loyal indigent officer being a brief description of the truly loyal commissioned officer which hath faithfully served his late majesty of ever blessed memory and his majesty that now is. By Charles Hammond. 1 vol. sm. 4to. Lond. s.a. For commissions issued at Oxford see William Henry Black's Docquets of letters patent . . . passed under the great seal of King Charles I at Oxford (1642-46). Not published. 8vo. Lond. 1838.

1156. Historical discourses upon several occasions ; with copies of all votes, letters, etc., relating to the treaty at Newport 1648. By Sir E. Walker. 1 vol. fol. Lond. 1705.

Walker was secretary to Charles I at Newport. He wrote narratives of the campaigns of 1644 and 1645 and of 1650 in Scotland.

1157. Ormonde Papers. A collection of original letters and papers concerning affairs of England, 1641-60, found among the Duke of Ormonde's papers. Ed. by T. Carte. 2 vols. 8vo. Lond. 1739.

Originals among the Carte MSS. in the Bodleian Library.

1158. Select tracts relating to the civil wars in England in the reign of King Charles the first. Ed. by Francis, Baron Maseres. 2 vols. 8vo. Lond. 1815 and 1826.

1159. Memorials of the great civil war, 1646-52 ; edited from original letters in the Bodleian. Ed. by H. Cary. 2 vols. 8vo. Lond. 1842.

Selected letters from the Tanner MSS. in the Bodleian Library which contain many others not printed relating to the war during 1642-6.

1160. Memorials of the civil war ; correspondence of the Fairfax family with personages in that contest. Ed. by R. Bell. 2 vols. 8vo. Lond. 1849.

These form vols. iii and iv of the Fairfax correspondence. Cf. No. 121.

1161. Letters of a subaltern officer of the Earl of Essex's army written in . . . 1642. By N. Wharton. Ed. by Sir H. Ellis. Archaeologia, xxxv. 1853.

Also slightly abridged in Cal. S. P. Dom. 1641-3. Gives a lively picture of the experiences of a parliamentary soldier during the opening stages of the Civil War.

1162. Diary of the marches of the royal army during the great civil war [1644-5]. By R. Symonds. Ed. by C. E. Long. Camd. Soc. 1859.

Pr. from Brit. Mus. Add. MS. 17062; Harl. MSS. 911, 939, 944.

1163. The army lists of the roundheads and cavaliers, containing the names of the officers in the royal and parliamentary armies of 1642. Ed. by E. Peacock. 1 vol. 4to. Lond. 1863. 2nd ed. 1874.

Second ed. has an index. A reprint of contemporary pamphlets merely with a few notes. Cf. Lord Dillon's MS. List of the officers of the London trained bands in 1643, in Archaeologia, vol. lii.

1164. Ruthven correspondence. Letters and papers of Patrick Ruthven, Earl of Forth and Brentford, and of his family (1615-1662), with an appendix of papers relating to Sir John Urry. Ed. by W. D. Macray. 1 vol. 4to. Lond. Roxburghe Club. 1868.

1165. Documents relating to the quarrel between the Earl of Manchester and Oliver Cromwell. Ed. by J. Bruce & D. Masson. 1 vol. Camd. Soc. 1875.

Throws light on the campaign of 1644. Cf. Camd. Soc. Misc. viii for a letter from Manchester on Cromwell's conduct. For other Civil War papers now in the Pub. Rec. Off. see Manchester MSS. Hist. MSS. Comm., Rep. viii, Part ii.

1166. Bellum civile: Hopton's narrative of his campaign in the west [1642-4] and other papers. By Sir R. Hopton. Ed. by C. E. H. Chadwyck-Healey. 1 vol. 4to. Somerset Record Soc. Lond. 1902.

(b) GENERAL LATER WORKS

1167. Cromwell et Mazarin, Deux campagnes de Turenne en Flandre : La bataille des Dunes. By J. Bourelly. 1 vol. 8vo. Paris. 1886.

1168. Military engineering during the great civil war, 1642-9. By W. G. Ross. In Occasional Papers of the Corps of Royal Engineers. vol. xiii. 1 vol. 8vo. Lond. 1887.

Deals with fortification, ordnance, and sieges, and has fifteen plates.

1169. Oliver Cromwell and his 'Ironsides' as they are represented in the so-called 'Squire Papers'. By W. G. Ross. 1 vol. 8vo. Chatham. 1889.

An account of the controversy about these papers with additional evidence of their spuriousness. See also vols. i and ii of the Eng. Hist. Rev. (1886-7), and Walter Rye's Two Cromwellian myths viz. the alleged royal descent of Oliver Cromwell and the Squire letters. 1 vol. 8vo. Norwich. 1925.

1170. The raising of the Ironsides. By Sir C. H. Firth.

The later history of the Ironsides is a sequel. Both are in Trans. of the Royal Hist. Soc. xiii and xv, 1899, 1901.

1171. Cromwell's army : A history of the English soldier during the civil wars, the commonwealth and the protectorate (Ford Lectures 1900-1). By Sir C. H. Firth. 1 vol. 8vo. Lond. 1902. 2nd ed. 1 vol. 8vo. Lond. 1912. 3rd ed. 1 vol. 8vo. Lond. 1921. Illus.

An invaluable storehouse of facts relating to the art of war, 1603-60.

III. NAVAL HISTORY

1. Bibliographies.
2. General Sources and Later Works.
3. Administration and Policy.
4. Art of War.
5. Biographies and Personal Narratives.
6. Maritime Law.
7. Operations at Sea.
8. Seamanship and Navigation.
9. Construction and Descriptions of Ships.
10. Voyages in Men-of-war, including Shipwrecks.

THE serious study of naval history is comparatively modern, and owes much to the inspiration of Mahan (1276) and Laughton, whose lives of sailors in the Dictionary of National Biography form a valuable series. The only modern studies covering the whole period are Clowes (1229) and Corbett (1235), who confines himself to the Mediterranean. Administration is well treated by Oppenheim (1269) and by Tanner in his various Pepysian studies, but there is nothing better for the rest of the period than Burchett (1217-18). The documents published by the Navy Records Society are essential, and there is valuable material for the Dutch wars in Colenbrander (1346).

Many sources and later works enumerated elsewhere have important references to the navy. Among them the Calendar of State Papers, Domestic (124), and the House of Lords Papers (387) deserve particular mention, the latter being an indispensable source after the Revolution.

ECCLESIASTICAL historians deal too exclusively with particular bodies, and Stoughton (1393) has not been superseded as a general history of the religious development of England. There are, however, valuable studies of tendencies of religious thought during the Stuart period. Thus the growth of rationalism is adequately treated by Lecky (1391) and Tulloch (1392), and the theory of toleration by Russell Smith (1399) and Seaton (1399 n.).

¶ 2. ANGLICAN CHURCH

- (a) General Sources.
- (b) General Later Works.
- (c) Collective Biographies.
- (d) Biographies, Personal Narratives, and Collected Works of Individuals.

The mass of material for the doctrinal and liturgical history of the Anglican Church is enormous, and is accessible in the collected works of eminent divines. The contents of many of these voluminous collections are enumerated in James Darling's Cyclopaedia Bibliographica [2 vols. 8vo. Lond. 1854], a valuable work of reference. Documents illustrating the constitutional history of the Church are provided mainly by Cardwell, and Makower (1464) furnishes a useful outline.

There is an elaborate study for the years 1640-60 by Shaw (1466), and Frere (1469) and Hutton (1468) are the best summaries for the whole period from the Anglo-Catholic standpoint. On the whole the period especially after the restoration has been comparatively neglected by ecclesiastical historians, and there is no adequate bibliography. No successful attempt has yet been made to estimate the influence of the Anglican Church upon the political and social development of England during the period in modern times when its power was greatest, although eighty years have elapsed since Macaulay pointed out that the pulpit was the main organ of public opinion. There are, however, many useful hints on the decline of clerical influence in the first volume of Lecky's History. Generally speaking, biographies unduly preponderate over more general studies.

In ed. of 1845 vols. v and vi contain the reigns of James I and Charles I. Appendices include: (A) Sir Thomas Herbert's memoirs; (B) Bishop Cosin and his accusers; (C) Bishop Montague and his accusers.

I417. A rationale upon the book of common prayer. By A. Sparrow.

The date of the earliest edition is doubtful. There are copies of that of 1657 at the Bodleian Library and at Queens' College, Cambridge. After the revision of the Prayer Book in 1662 the Rationale was altered accordingly and appeared in many editions.

I418. Ecclesia vindicata or the Church of England justified. By P. Heylyn. 1 vol. 4to. Lond. 1657.

This includes The historie of episcopacie, published by the author in 1642 under the pseudonym of Theophilus Churchman.

1426. The authority of Christian princes over their ecclesiastical synods asserted with particular respect to the convocations of the clergy of the realm and Church of England. By W. Wake. 1 vol. 8vo. Lond. 1697.

This provoked a lively controversy. Cf. Atterbury's The rights, powers and privileges of an English convocation stated and vindicated [1 vol. 8vo. Lond. 1700]. Wake replied in The state of the Church and clergy of England in their councils, synods, convocations . . . historically deduced from the conversion of the Saxons to the present times [1 vol. fol. Lond. 1703]. There is a useful bibliographical note on this controversy in Hutton (1468), pp. 280-1.

¶ 3. NONCONFORMITY

- (a) General, Bibliographies, and Sources.
- (b) General Later Works.
- (c) Collective Biographies.
- (d) Biographies, Personal Narratives, and Collected Works of Individuals.
- (e) Local. 1. General. 2. County.

This section includes English Presbyterians, Independents, and Baptists, who were often collectively called the 'old dissent'.

The literature dealing with these sects is enormous, and new sources are continually being published, especially in the historical societies of the Baptists, Congregationalists, and Presbyterians. The Dr. Williams Library, Gordon Square, London, is the central storehouse for both manuscripts and later works. There is a model, detailed, Baptist bibliography, ed. by Whitley in progress (1569); that of Dexter (1568) is valuable for congregationalism; but there is no similar work for Presbyterianism. For the period before the civil war the best guide is Champlin Burrage (1617); for 1640-60 probably Masson's Life of Milton (2417) is as useful as any one work; Hanbury (1586) is important for both periods. For 1660-88 Baxter (1627), Calamy (1621), and Lyon Turner (1595) are essential, and Bate (343) is the chief authority for the declaration of indulgence. For 1689-1714 there are valuable materials in Calamy (1636) and Heywood (1644), and Gordon (1625) examined minutely the effect of the act of toleration during 1690-2, but the reign of Anne has not attracted nonconformist historians. Of the general historians Neal and his critics (1596) are still useful, and Whitley (1619) and Dale (1615) are the best studies of the Baptists and Congregationalists respectively within moderate compass.

In addition to the books enumerated here, works in other sections should often be consulted, for many nonconformist laymen are important in other than ecclesiastical history, as Cromwell or Milton. Similarly the position of nonconformity was always a political question during the Stuart period and is dealt with in secular histories.

(a) GENERAL, BIBLIOGRAPHIES, AND SOURCES

1568. The Congregationalism of the last three hundred years, as seen in its literature. By H. M. Dexter. 1 vol. 8vo. Lond. 1879 and 1880.

The bibliography has 7,250 titles, more than half American, and is more valuable than the lectures.

1569. A Baptist bibliography, being a register of the chief materials for Baptist history, whether in manuscript or in print. Ed. W. T. Whitley. 2 vols. 4to. Lond. 1916, 1922.

Vol. i, 1526-1776; ii, 1777-1837. Gives the titles &c. of all books by or relating to Baptists in the chronological order of publication, and of MSS. under the years in which their contents begin, with many notes. Extremely valuable.

1570. An appeal to the parliament, or Sions plea against the prelacie. By A. Leighton. 1 vol. 4to. Lond. [1628].

This led to Leighton's citation before the Star Chamber.

1571. An answer to a booke entituled, an humble remonstrance in which, the originall of

Liturgy

is discussed. By Smectymnuus, i.e. S[tephen] M[arshall], E[dmund] C[alamy], T[homas] Y[oung], M[atthew] N[ewcomen], W[illiam] S[purestowe]. 1 vol. sm. 4to. Lond. 1641.

For the controversy which followed see Masson, Life of Milton, ii. 219 et seq.

1572. A small treatise of baptisme or dipping. By E. Barber. 12mo. Lond. 1642.

Cf. Daniel Featley's καταβαπτισται καταπτυστοι, The dippers dipt [4to. Lond. 1645].

1573. An apologeticall narration. By T. Goodwin, P. Nye, and others. 1 vol. 4to. Lond. 1643.

A defence of Independency, answered by T. E. and others. Cf. Masson, Life of Milton, iii. 23 et seq.

1574. The confession of faith of those churches which are commonly (though falsly) called Anabaptists; presented to the view of all that feare God to examine by the touchstone of the word of truth: as likewise for the taking off those aspersions which are frequently both in pulpit and print (although unjustly) cast upon them. 1 vol. 4to. Lond. 1644. Later eds. 1646 and 1651.

Opponents of the English churches usually supposed that they were akin to the German Anabaptists of the sixteenth century, so quoted largely from continental historians rather than observed what was around them. Both connexion and name were repudiated by these Calvinists. Alternative names appeared. 'Baptists' in 1644, 'Anti-paedobaptists' in 1646.

1575. A Directory for the publique worship of God, throughout the three kingdoms of England, Scotland and Ireland. Together with an ordinance of parliament for the taking away of the Book of Common-Prayer. sm. 4to. Lond. 1644[-5]. 2nd ed. 4to. Edin. 1645.

Drawn up by the Westminster Assembly: repr. in the Book of Common Order of the Church of Scotland, 1868. The other pieces of work have proved even more enduring: The metrical version of the Psalms, 1646; The Confession of Faith, 1647; The two Catechisms, 1648.

The Minutes of the Westminster Assembly of divines were ed. by A. F. Mitchell and J. Struthers, 1874. A good account of the assembly, with bibl. by W. A. Shaw. Camb. Mod. Hist. iv. 1906.

1576. Heresiography: or A description of the heretickes and sectaries of these latter times. By E. Pagitt. 1 vol. sm. 4to. Lond. 1645. 6th ed. 1 vol. 8vo. Lond. 1661. Ports.

An unfriendly account of Anabaptists, Brownists, Independents, Familists, Adamites, Antinomians, Arminians, Socinians, Antitrinitarians, Millenarians, Hetheringtonians, Antisabbatarians, Traskites, Jesuits.

Successive editions added to the material and some cuts of heresiarchs were introduced. The 6th ed. is the closing form of the book.

1577. Gangraena or a catalogue and discovery of many of the errours, heresies, blasphemies and pernicious practices of the sectaries of this time, vented and acted in England in these four last years. By T. Edwards. 3 parts. sm. 4to. Lond. 1646.

A bitter attack on sectaries by a Puritan, with many curious details of their proceedings.

1578. The compleat history of Independency 1640-60. By C. Walker. 1 vol. sm. 4to. Lond. 1660-1.

Made up of various parts : 1. Title-page. 2. Relations and observations . . . 1648. 3. The history of Independency . . . 1648. 4. An appendix to the history . . . 1648. 5. Anarchia Anglicana : or the history of Independency. The second part . . . by Theodorus Verax. 1649. 6. The High Court of Justice. . . . Being the third part of the History of Independency Written by the same Author. 1660. 7. The history of Independency The fourth and last part. . . . By T. M. Esquire, . . . 1660.

1579. A compleat collection of farewell sermons preached by London & country ministers August 17th, 1662. 1 vol. sm. 4to. Lond. 1663.

1580. Aerius Redivivus or the history of the Presbyterians . . . from 1536 to 1647. By P. Heylyn. 1 vol. fol. Oxf. 1670.

1581. A confession of faith, put forth by the elders and brethren of many congregations of Christians (baptized upon profession of their faith) in London and the country. 1 vol. 4to. Lond. 1677.

A Baptist revision of the Westminster Confession. Still acknowledged by the Strict and Particular Baptists of England and Australia. Revised 1742 at Philadelphia, and still acknowledged widely in America.

1582. Christianismus primitivus : or, the ancient Christian religion. By T. Grantham. 1 vol. fol. Lond. 1678.

In four parts, with separate title-pages and pagination. Incorporating earlier pamphlets, especially the 1660 confession which long remained standard among the General Baptists who originated in 1609.

1583. The unreasonableness of separation, or an impartial account of the history . . . of the present separation from the communion of the Church of England. By E. Stillingfleet. 1 vol. 4to. Lond. 1681.

1584. A defence of moderate non-conformity. By E. Calamy. 3 vols. 8vo. Lond. 1703-5.

1585. Vindiciae fratrum dissentientium. By J. Peirce. 1 vol. 8vo. Lond. 1710.

Trans. as Vindication of the dissenters in answer to Dr. William Nichols' Defence . . . of the Church of England [8vo. Lond. 1717-18].

1586. Historical memorials relating to the Independents and Congregationalists from their rise to the restoration . . . 1660. Ed. by B. Hanbury. 3 vols. 8vo. Lond. 1839-44.

Very valuable for literature : consists of lengthy extracts from scarcer early Independent works.

1587. The records of a church of Christ, meeting in Broadmead, Bristol. 1640-1687. Ed. for the Hanserd Knollys Soc. with an historical introduction, by E. B. Underhill. 1 vol. 8vo. Lond. 1847.

Dr. Underhill's introduction deals with the rise of dissent in the Tudor period. Cf. his Records of the churches of Christ gathered at Fenstanton, Warboys, and Hexham, 1644-1720. 1 vol. 8vo. Lond. 1856.

1588. Open communion and the Baptists of Norwich. Ed. G. Gould. 1 vol. 8vo. Norwich, 1860.

Text has important legal arguments and judgments. Intro. discusses critically the origin of Baptists in England.

1589. Documents relating to the settlement of the Church of England by the Act of Uniformity of 1662. Ed. G. Gould. 1 vol. 8vo. Lond. 1862.

Intro. by P. Bayne.

1590. The Nonconformist register of baptisms, marriages, and deaths, compiled by the Revs. O. Heywood & T. Dickenson, 1644-1702, 1702-1752, generally known as the Northowram or Coley register. Ed. J. H. Turner. 1 vol. 8vo. Brighouse. 1881. Illus.

1591. The creeds and platforms of Congregationalism. Ed. W. Walker. 1 vol. 8vo. N.Y. 1893.

Mainly documents showing the principles of Congregationalists at different times.

1594. Baptist confessions of faith, ed. W. J. McGlothlin. 1 vol. 12mo. Phila. 1910.

Continental, English, American. Supersedes similar collection of 1854.

1595. Original records of early Nonconformity. Ed. G. L. Turner. 3 vols. 8vo. Lond. 1911.

Vols. i and ii are documents relating to the persecution of Nonconformists during the first half of the reign of Charles II : vol. iii is a commentary.

(b) GENERAL LATER WORKS

1596. The history of the Puritans or Protestant Nonconformists from the Reformation 1517 to the Revolution in 1688. By D. Neal. 4 vols. 8vo. Lond. 1732-8. Later eds. 2 vols. 4to. Lond. 1754, ed. by N. Neal. 5 vols. 8vo. Bath. 1793-7, ed. by J. Toulmin. 3 vols. 8vo. Lond. 1837.

The supplementary chapters in the ed. of 1793-7 comprise the history of the English Baptists and Quakers, and form two appendices to vol. iii in the ed. of 1837. Vol. i of Neal called forth an answer from Isaac Maddox, A vindication of the government, doctrine and worship of the Church of England established in the reign of Queen Elizabeth against . . . Neal (8vo. Lond. 1733 & repr. 1740). Vols. ii, iii, and iv of Neal were subjected to 'An impartial examination' by Zachary Grey in 3 vols. Lond. 1736-9. Grey's last two vols. contain valuable documents from the collection of state papers used by Nalson, and described in the intro. to vol. i of the Portland MSS. (Hist. MSS. Comm.), Neal replied in A review of the principal facts objected to the first volume of the History of the Puritans (8vo. Lond. 1734).

(c) COLLECTIVE BIOGRAPHIES

1620. A general martyrologie . . . from the creation to our present times. By S. Clarke. 1 vol. fol. Lond. 1651. 3rd ed. 1 vol. fol. Lond. 1677.

Ed. of 1677 has added : The lives of thirty-two English divines . . . most of them sufferers in the cause of Christ, and cuts.

1621. Abridgement of Mr. Baxter's History of his life and times, with a particular account of the ministers . . . ejected after the restauration. By E. Calamy. 1 vol. 8vo. Lond. 1702. Later eds. 2 vols. 1713, and 1727.

In ed. of 1713 the Account forms a separate volume : in ed. of 1727 there is a Continuation of the Account which consists of emendations. Samuel Palmer condensed and rearranged these works in 1775 under the title 'The Nonconformists' memorial', improved ed. 3 vols. 1802-3, with many portraits. Palmer cannot be implicitly trusted, and reference should be made to Calamy's originals.

¶ 4. QUAKERISM

(a) Bibliographies.

(b) General Histories.

(c) Biographies, Personal Narratives, and Collected Works of Individuals.

George Fox, the founder of the Quakers, early impressed upon his followers the importance of the use of the pen as well as of the voice in the propagation of their Gospel message. The result was that, according to a modern computation, some four thousand different works were published previous to 1718. Many of them are of permanent importance, not only for the history of Quakerism, but also for the picture they afford of the middle and lower classes.

John Whiting (1681) produced the earliest ecclesiastical bibliography in 1708, which formed the basis for the elaborate work by Joseph Smith (1682). The Journal of George Fox is the classic of Quakerism and should be studied in the edition prepared by Norman Penney (1699). Next in importance are the Works of William Penn (1711). There are valuable short histories by Emmott (1688, 1692), Harvey (1687), and Brayshaw (1691), and an elaborate one by Braithwaite (1689), a work difficult to praise too highly.

The Friends' Reference Library, established in 1673, is attached to the headquarters of the Society of Friends, Friends House, Euston Road, London, N.W.1, and has the largest collection of Quaker literature in existence. The corresponding collection in America is at Haverford College, Pennsylvania.

(a) BIBLIOGRAPHIES

¶ 5. UNITARIANISM

(a) Bibliography and Sources.

(b) Later Works.

As Unitarians stood outside the protection of the law in Great Britain for the period 1603-1714, they were unable to form any lasting organization or to gather congregations for worship. The regular press was closed against them. Except for a brief period under the Commonwealth, publications favouring Unitarian opinions were anonymous and surreptitious and often printed abroad. Materials for the study of Unitarianism in that century are therefore scanty. The story of the Unitarian movement in this period is, accordingly, the story, in the main, of individual thinkers and writers. It must be studied through biography.

The Dictionary of National Biography gives the lives of most of these Unitarian pioneers, mainly from the hand of Rev. Alexander Gordon.

The history of many of the Protestant Dissenting congregations which advanced to Unitarianism is set out in special monographs dealing with particular churches. Most of these congregations were founded prior to 1714 and the earlier chapters of their story fall well within the period covered by this Bibliography.

(a) BIBLIOGRAPHY AND SOURCES

Owing to the circumstances of the Catholics in England during the seventeenth century comparatively little of an historical character was published, though the devotional and controversial literature is considerable in extent. With the foundation of the Catholic Record Society in 1904 a beginning has been made in the task of printing MSS. of purely historical interest. The Church History published by Dodd (Hugh Tootell) and Bishop Challoner's 'Memoirs of Missionary Priests' long remained the chief sources of information during the eighteenth century, and continue to be of great importance. Tierney's unfinished edition of Dodd is indispensable for the period 1603-25 because he supplemented the text with a wealth of original contemporary documents. Since his time two valuable sources of information have appeared. The one is Joseph Gillow's 'Bibliographical Dictionary of English Catholics' in five volumes: from A to P the work is fairly exhaustive; from R to Z it is practically useless, except for a few lists of works of particular writers. The second work referred to is Foley's 'Records of the English Province of the Society of Jesus', which incidentally deals with the whole body of Catholics as well as the Jesuits themselves. In recent years most of the other orders, Benedictines, Dominicans, Franciscans, Carmelites, and various bodies of Nuns, have published lists of their members, obituaries, and records which abound in genealogical as well as historical matter. College lists, and in some cases annals, for Douay, Rome, Lisbon, and Paris have been published, but those for Valladolid, though in existence, have not yet been printed. Biographies for this period are rare, and those which were contemporary in character are frequently brief. The history of English Catholics in the seventeenth century as a whole yet remains to be written.

(a) GENERAL HISTORIES

1754. The church history of England from . . . 1500 to . . . 1688. By C. Dodd. 3 vols. fol. Brussels 1737-42. Later ed. 5 vols. 8vo. Lond. 1839-43. Ed. by M. A. Tierney.

The ed. of 1839-43 has valuable additions and notes. Vol. v, 1603-25, has appendix of documents. For bibliographical note see Gillow v. 546; and for the MSS. collected for Tierney's ed. now in the custody of the Bishop of Southwark, see Hist. MSS. Comm., 3rd Rep., p. 233.

1755. Historical memoirs respecting the English, Irish and Scottish Catholics from the Reformation. By C. Butler. 4 vols. 8vo. Lond. 1819-21.

1st ed. 'In two volumes'—1819. Vols. iii and iv were issued as Additions to the historical memoirs in 1821. 3rd ed. With further additions. 4 vols. Lond. 1822.

1756. A history of the Church in England, from the earliest period to the re-establishment of the hierarchy in 1850. By T. Flanagan. 2 vols. 8vo. Lond. 1857.

1757. The Episcopal succession in England, Scotland and Ireland, A. D. 1400-1875. With appointments to monasteries and extracts from consistorial acts taken from MSS. in public and private libraries in Rome, Florence, Bologna, Ravenna, and Paris. By W. M. Brady. 3 vols. 8vo. Rome. 1876-7.

Important. Ireland, vol. ii. Vol. iii was reissued separately under title Annals of the Catholic Hierarchy in England and Scotland, A. D. 1585-1876, with Dissertation on Anglican Orders. Rome. 1877; Lond. 1883.

1758. A literary and biographical history or bibliographical dictionary of the English Catholics from the breach with Rome in 1534 to the present day. By J. Gillow. 5 vols. 8vo. Lond. and N.Y. c. 1885-1902.

Vol. i, A-C; ii, D-Grad; iii, Grah-Kem; iv, Kem-Met; v, Mey-Zoo. Valuable though incomplete. Gives lists of writings of each Catholic. Fairly complete down to end of P. The rest was massacred because publishers refused an extra volume.

1759. Clemens VIII und Jakob I von England. By A. O. Meyer. 1 vol. 4to. Rome. 1904.

Cf. his: Charles I and Rome. Amer. Hist. Rev. xix. 1913.

THE only survey of the whole field is Cunningham (1905), but there are admirable studies of special subjects, such as Scott, Daniels, Heaton, and Hamilton (1928, 1933, 1934, 1936), whose bibliographies are all important. The articles in Palgrave (1847) vary in value, but usually indicate the main authorities; the best guide to the sources is still McCulloch (1844), whose reprints of tracts are indispensable. Many other economic treatises are in collections of pamphlets, especially in the Harleian miscellany (87). The economic literature dealing with trade is concerned with the dominance and decline of mercantilism, maritime expansion and the foundation of new trading stations, plantations or colonies, and foreign rivalry, particularly Dutch. Many works are general and mainly descriptive, showing the nature of various foreign trades, and dealing with the commodities exported and imported, foreign currencies and the exchange. To this class belong the treatises and pamphlets of Malynes, Misselden, Lewis Roberts, Robinson, Fortrey, Yarranton, Justice, and Charles King. In the second half of the century the implications of mercantilism were being tested, and there is another group of writers whose works, while also general, are less descriptive, and aim at seeking general tendencies of foreign trade. Within this category may be placed Mun, Child, Roger Coke, Barbon, Sir Dudley North, and Charles Davenant. It has only been possible to indicate the chief authorities on special aspects of overseas trade where either a bibliography or references will show the sources of data on that special subject. In certain cases where such authority is not available, a selection from the contemporary sources is given. Industrial conditions in England attracted less notice, but can be studied in Unwin (1916, 1920) and Clark (1932). Banking is adequately treated by Thorold Rogers, Andreades, and others, but there is no satisfactory account of taxation for the whole period, though Dowell is useful. Gardiner (219, 220) supplies valuable notices, but no connected account of finance in the first half of the century exists. From 1660-89 Shaw's (1958) prefaces are indispensable;

Macaulay (204) is excellent for the reign of William III; and Leadam (1975) is a good outline for that of Anne. As regards the poor, contemporaries are usually more interested in theoretical remedies than in actual conditions: to their theories Eden (1991) is a useful guide. There are sound modern studies by Nicholls (1992) and Leonard (1994).

Agriculture is the subject of a separate preface, but a number of sources in the subsection, industry and commerce, are important, especially Houghton (1870).

¶ 4. GENERAL AGRICULTURE

Although the seventeenth century produced a large number of works on agriculture and allied matters, these are, as a whole, unoriginal and often shameless plagiarisms. To what extent they reflect agricultural practice is a difficult question : presumably, since a good many of the works seem to have commanded a ready sale, there was something to be learned from them. But it is probably true to say that where they are most original they are most untrustworthy.

Agricultural changes in a broad sense are reflected in the books and pamphlets on enclosures and drainage, and something may be learned from contemporary local histories and from general descriptions of the kingdom. In the former class mention may be made of Richard Carew's Survey of Cornwall (2800), Plot's Natural Histories of Oxfordshire and Staffordshire (2844, 2851),

Aubrey's Natural Remarques in the County of Wilts (2859) and Charles Leigh's Natural History of Lancashire (2824): such works vary greatly in value but there are gleanings in them all. In the second class such works as Richard Blome's Britannia [1 vol. fol. Lond. 1673] are occasionally of service.

What literature gives us very inadequately is a knowledge of actual farming practice. The way to this knowledge is to be found in account books and similar documents: but little enough of this nature has been published. Although the manorial system was lapsing into decay, the aspect of agriculture and rural life which the records of manor courts present is important and requires to be taken into account. Occasionally churchwarden's accounts shed some light on the subject: not only were there parish lands to be managed, but the parish was increasingly taking over functions anciently performed by the manor. The records of commissioners of sewers cover very much wider areas than the marshlands reclaimed in the 17th century; they are concerned with the maintenance of drainage and defensive works which had existed continuously from early in the Middle Ages. Some information regarding these records will be found in the Report of the Royal Commission on Public Records (1910-19), volumes ii and iii (2788), and in S. and B. Webb, English Local Government: Statutory Authorities, ch. i (2793 n.).

2011. The English improver : or, a new survey of husbandry &c. By W. Blith. 1 vol. sm. 4to. Lond. 1649. Later eds. 1649, 1652, 1653.

The 'third Impression much augmented' 1652, which appeared as The English improver improved : or The survey of husbandry surveyed, contains 'six newer Peeces of Improvement', among which was the introduction of clover and sainfoin. The best treatise on 17th-century agriculture. On Markham and Blith see The English improvers, by Sir William Ashley, in Mélanges d'histoire offerts à Henri Pirenne, Brussels, 1926.

2012. A discours of husbandrie used in Brabant and Flanders : shewing the wonderfull improvement of land there ; and serving as a pattern for our practice in this commonwealth. By Sir R. Weston. Ed. by S. Hartlib. 1 vol. sm. 4to. Lond. 1650. Later eds. 1652 and 1742.

Of first-rate importance, especially for sheep-farming. Repr. by G. Reeve [1670 and 1674] as Directions left by a gentleman to his sons for the improvement of barren and heathy land. Reprinted, with additions by R. Child and C. Dymock, as Samuel Hartlib his legacie, 1651 : later eds. 1652, 1655. Hartlib was a copious editor or publisher of the work of others whose names are a matter of uncertainty : among these are : Essay on the advancement of husbandry and learning, with propositions for erecting a college of husbandry [1651] ; The reformed husbandman [1651] ; Design for plenty, by a universal planting of fruit trees [1652] ; Discovery for division or setting out of waste land . . . for Direction . . . of the Adventurers and Planters in the Fens [1653] ; Reformed commonwealth of bees . . . with the reformed Virginian silk worm [1655] ; The complete husbandman [1659].

2013. A treatise of fruit trees, showing the manner of planting, grafting, pruning, and ordering of them in all respects according to rules of experience, gathered in the space of thirty-seven years, &c. By R. Austen. 1 vol. sm. 4to. Oxf. 1653. Later eds. 1 vol. sm. 4to. Oxf. 1651 and 1 vol. 12mo. Oxf. 1665.

In 1658 Austen published his Observations upon some parts of Sr. Francis Bacon's Natural history as it concerns fruit-trees, fruits, and flowers. The 'Observations' were added to the Treatise of fruit-trees in 1665.

2014. Certaine plaine and easie demonstrations of divers easie wayes and meanes for the improving of any manner of barren land. By J. Sha. 1 vol. 4to. Lond. 1657.

2017. The great improvement of lands by clover. By A. Yarranton. 1 vol. 8vo. Lond. 1663.

2018. England's happiness increased : or a sure and easie remedie against all succeeding dear years : by a plantation of the roots called potatoes. By J. Forster. 1 vol. 4to. Lond. 1664.

The first plea for the field-cultivation of potatoes.

2019. The compleat gardener's practice. By S. Blake. 1 vol. 4to. Lond. 1664.

2020. The compleat vineyard. By W. Hughes. 1 vol. 4to. Lond. 1665. Later eds. 1670 and 1 vol. 12mo. Lond. 1683.

The extension of the cultivation of the vine on the continental model was a favourite project among literary farmers. The second edition of the Compleat vineyard was enlarged above half. The third edition appears as The flower garden and compleat vineyard.

2021. Systema agriculturae, being the mystery of Husbandry discovered and layd open. By J. W[orlidge]. 1 vol. fol. Lond. 1669. Later eds. 1 vol. 8vo. Lond. 1675, 1681, 1687, and 1716.

The most systematic work on agriculture yet published. In addition to a description of the operations, crops, and implements of the farm, it contains a calendar of monthly directions for husbandmen, and a Dictionarium rusticanum; or the interpretation of rustick terms. The 3rd edition (1681) was 'carefully corrected and amended, with one whole section' added, and 'many large and useful additions throughout the whole work'. The Treatise of Husbandry, 1675, attributed to Worlidge is presumably the second edition of this work. Other works by Worlidge are : Vinetum Britannicum; or a treatise of cider &c. 1 vol. 8vo. Lond. 1676. Later eds. 1678, 1691. Apiarium; or a discourse on bees. 1 vol. 8vo. Lond. 1676. Systema Horti-culturae; or the art of gardening in three books. Illus. 1 vol. 8vo. Lond. 1677. The most easie method for making the best cider. Pamphlet 4to. Lond. 1687. The compleat bee master; or a discourse of bees &c. 1 vol. 8vo. Lond. 1698.

2022. The epitome of the art of husbandry. Comprizing all necessary directions for the improvement of it &c. By J. B[lagrave]. 1 vol. 12mo. Lond. 1669.

A popular compilation which went through many editions [16mo. Lond. 1670; 8vo. Lond. 1675, 1678, 1685].

2023. The shepherd's legacy; or John Clearidge, his forty years experience. By J. Claridge. 1 vol. 8vo. Lond. 1670.

Afterwards reprinted as The Shepherd of Banbury's rules to judge the changes of the weather.

2024. A short and sure guide in the practice of raising and ordering of fruit trees. By F. Drope. 1 vol. 8vo. Oxford. 1672.

Other works on fruit-trees are : The planters manual, by C. Cotton. 1675, frequently reprinted in collected works. The manner of raising, ordering and improving forest and fruit trees, by M. Cook. 1676 and later eds. Plaine instructions to raise all sorts of fruit-trees that prosper in England, by T. Langford, 1681 : 2nd ed. 1696.

2025. Nurseries, orchards, profitable gardens and vineyards encouraged. In several letters out of the country, directed to Henry Oldenberg Esq., Secretary to the Royal Society. By A. Lawrence and J. Beale. 1 vol. 4to. Lond. 1677.

¶ 5. HORSES, CATTLE, AND SHEEP

For bibliography see No. 2080.

(a) SOURCES

2045. Cavalrice : or, The English horseman, containyng all the arte of horsemanship, as much as is necessary for any man to understand, whether he be horse-breeder, horse-ryder, horse-hunter, horse-runner, horse-ambler, horse-farrier, horse-keeper, coachman, smith, or sadler, &c. By G. Markham. 1 vol. 4to. Lond. 1607.

The most important of Markham's many books on horses. To the seven books of the first and second (1616-17) editions an eighth book was added in the edition of 1625.

Markham had previously published Discourse on horsemanship, 1593, and How to chuse, ride, train and diet both hunting horses and running horses, 1599: the substance of these is included in Cavalrice. See also his Countrey contentments, 1615, and later eds.

2046. Cheape and good husbandry for the well-ordering of all beasts and fowles, and for the generall cure of their diseases &c. By G. Markham. 1 vol. 4to. Lond. 1614. Later eds. 1621, 1623, and 1633.

This popular treatise passed through many editions. The ninth edition forms the first of the 'Vocations or Callings in which every good Husband or Huswife, may lawfully Employ themselves' which are collected in A way to get wealth [No. 2010]. See also Markham's maister piece: contaying all knowledge belonging to a smith, farrier, or horse Leech, 1614; Markham's methode, 1616; Faithful farrier, 1638; Complete farrier, 1639; Perfect horseman, 1655.

2047. The country-man's instructor . . . containing many remedies for the diseases commonly befalling to horses, sheepe, and other cattle, &c. By J. Crawshey. 1 vol. 4to. Lond. 1636.

The fifth edition appeared under the title of The good husband's jewel, or, plain directions how to know the means whereby horses, beasts, sheep, come to have diseases, and the way to cure them [1 vol. 8vo. York. 1661]. In 1636 also appeared The English farrier or country-man's treasure (anonymous) and The honest and plaine dealing farrier, by T. Grymes.

2048. The complete horse-man, and expert ferrier. By Thomas De la Gray or De Grey. 1 vol. 4to. Lond. 1639.

The work continued to be repr. till the close of the century. Later works on Farriery include: The perfect and experienced farrier, by R. Barrett, (?) 1660; The English horseman and complete farrier, by R. Almond, 1673; The experienced farrier, by E. R. (?) 1691, 4th ed. 1720.

2049. La methode et invention nouvelle de dresser les chevaux. By William Cavendish, 1st Duke of Newcastle. 1 vol. fol. Antwerp. 1658. Plates. Later ed. 1 vol. fol. Lond. 1737.

Trans. in A general system of horsemanship [2 vols. fol. 1743]. Newcastle wrote a second work: A new method and extraordinary invention to dress horses [1 vol. fol. Lond. 1667; 2nd ed. 1677, with many repr.].

2050. The herds-man's mate; or, a guide for herdsmen, teaching how to cure all diseases in bulls, oxen, cows, and calves, &c. By M. Harward. 1 vol. 8vo. Dubl. 1673.

2052. A treatise of oxen, sheep, hogs and dogs . . . How to chuse, govern and preserve them in health. 1 vol. 8vo. Lond. 1683.

Describes best kind of cattle to buy for various purposes.

2053. The gentleman's recreation. In two parts. The first being an encyclopedia of the arts and sciences . . . The second treats of horsemanship, hawking &c. By R. Blome. 1 vol. fol. Lond. 1686.

Interesting passages, especially about the different breeds of sheep, their qualities, and locality.

2054. The husbandman, farmer and graziers' compleat instructor. By A. S. 1 vol. 12mo. Lond. 1697.

Attributed uncertainly to Ad. Speed. Deals with buying, selling, breeding, and fattening cattle.

¶ 6. ENCLOSURES

(a) SOURCES

2055. To the king's most excellent majestic. The humble petition of two sisters; the Church and Commonwealth: for the restoring of their ancient commons and liberties. By F. Trigge. 1 vol. 8vo. Lond. 1604.

Trigge's Petition against the enclosure of commons belongs to the sheep-breeding, pasture-farming movement of the reign of Elizabeth.

2056. Depopulation arraigned, convicted, and condemned by the lawes of God and man. &c. By R. Powell. 1 vol. 8vo. Lond. 1636.

Powell complains that the evil of inclosures was never more 'monstrous' than at the time when he wrote. See on the other side G. Plattes' Discovery of infinite treasure (2008).

2057. Inclosure thrown open; or, depopulation depopulated, not by spades and mattocks, but by the word of God, the laws of the land, and solid arguments. By H. Halhead. 1 vol. 4to. Lond. 1650.

The work is prefaced by 'an address to the reader' by J. Sprigge of Banbury. It probably belongs to a group of pamphlets dealing with the midland counties, where enclosure was again extremely active.

2058. Common good, or, the improvement of commons, forrests & chasses by inclosure &c. (An appendix, shewing the chiefe cause of wandring poor in England.) By S. Taylor. 1 vol. 4to. Lond. 1652.

'The two great nurseries of idleness and beggery', says Taylor, 'are ale-houses and commons.'

2059. Wast land's improvement, or certain proposals made and tendred to the consideration of the honorable committee appointed by Parliament, &c. By E. G. 1 vol. 4to. Lond. 1653.

The writer considers that 'robberies, thefts, burglaries, rapes, and murders receive their nourishment and encouragement' from unenclosed wastes.

2060. Bread for the poor, and advancement of the English nation, promised by enclosure of the wastes and common-grounds of England. By A. Moore. 1 vol. 4to. Lond. 1653.

Moore regards the commons as 'nurseries of thieves and horse-stealers'.

2061. The crying sin of England, of not caring for the poor, wherein inclosure . . . is arraigned, convicted, and condemned by the word of God. By J. Moore. 1 vol. 4to. Lond. 1653.

This treatise provoked a war of pamphlets. It was answered by 'Pseudomisius' in Considerations concerning common-fields and inclosures . . . partly to answer some passages in another discourse by Mr. J. Moore under the title of The crying sinne &c. [1 vol. 4to. Lond. 1654]. Moore replied with A scripture-word against Inclosures, viz. such as doe un-people townes and un-corne fields &c. [1 vol. 4to. Lond. 1656]. This second treatise was partly an answer to Joseph Lee (q.v.). Pseudomisius again replied in A vindication of considerations concerning common-fields and inclosures; or a rejoinder unto that reply which Mr. Moore hath pretended to make unto these considerations [1 vol. 4to. Lond. 1656].

2062. Εὐταξία τοῦ Ἀγροῦ or a vindication of a regulated inclosure. Wherein is plainly proved, that inclosure of commons in general, and the inclosure of Catthorpe . . . in particular, are both lawful and laudable. By J. Lee. 1 vol. 4to. Lond. 1656.

In this treatise Lee defends the enclosure of Catthorpe Common.

¶ 7. DRAINING

(a) SOURCES

2067. A true report of certaine wonderfull overflowings of waters, now lately in Summerset-shire, Norfolke, and other places of England. Anonymous. 1 vol. 4to. Lond. 1607.

Second ed. with additions, More strange newes of wonderfull accidents &c. Lond. n.d.

2068. A discourse concerning the dreyning of fennes and surrounded grounds in the sixe counteys of Norfolke, Suffolke, Cambridge, with the Isle of Ely, Huntingdon, Northampton, and Lincolne. By H. C. 1 vol. 4to. Lond. 1629.

The author describes the condition of the 'drowned lands' of the Fens, and urges the Government to undertake their reclamation.

2069. A discourse concerning the great benefit of drayning and embanking. . . . By J. L. 1 vol. 4to. [Lond.] 1641.

2070. A briefe relation discovering plainly the true causes why the great levell of fennes . . . have been drowned. By A. Burrell. 1 vol. 4to. Lond. 1642.

Burrell, who was employed by the Earl of Bedford on fen drainage, criticizes the engineering works. He refers more particularly to Vermuyden's work in his Exceptions against Sir C. Vermuydens discourse for the drainage of the great fennes &c. [1 vol. 4to. Lond. 1642].

2071. Discourses touching the drayning of the great fennes lying within the several counties of Lincolne, Northampton, Huntingdon, Norfolk, Suffolke, Cambridge, and the Isle of Ely. By Sir C. Vermuiden (or Vermuyden). 1 vol. 8vo. Lond. 1642.

Vermuyden, who was the engineer employed to drain the fens for the 'Undertakers', in this work defends his methods. See also The anti-projector or the history of the fen project: Lond. 1646; and A narrative of all the proceedings in the draining of the great level of the fens, by N. N. Lond. 1661, repr. in Social England illustrated (ed. 1903), pp. 407 ff.

2072. A remonstrance of some decrees and other proceedings of the Commissioners of Sewers for the upper levels in the counties of Kent and Sussex. By Sir N. Powell. 1 vol. 4to. Lond. 1659.

Thomas Harlachenden 'published' but apparently did not print Animadversions on several material passages in this book: to which Powell replied with The Animadverter animadverted, 4to. Lond. 1663. Both books contain copious extracts from records.

2073. History of imbanking and drayning of divers fennes and marshes, both in forein parts and in this kingdom, and of the improvements thereby. By Sir W. Dugdale. 1 vol. fol. Lond. 1662. Later ed. 1772. Ed. by C. N. Cole.

A valuable collection of material. The ed. of 1772 was revised and corrected, and adds three indices. Dugdale's Diary, while making a tour of the district in 1657, remains unpublished (Lansdowne MSS. 722). Among the collections of material which he made, the Survey of the Fens (possibly by R. Atkins), drawn up in July 1605, is preserved in the Harleian MSS. 5011.

2074. History or narrative of the great level of the fens called Bedford Level: with a large map of the said level, as drained, surveyed, and described. By Sir J. Moore. 1 vol. 8vo. Lond. 1685.

As surveyor of the drainage works Moore speaks with authority.

2075. A collection of laws which form the constitution of the Bedford Level Corporation. Ed. by C. N. Cole. 1 vol. 8vo. Lond. 1761. Later ed. 1803. Valuable for texts of documents.

(b) LATER WORKS

2076. Historical account of the great level of the fens. By W. Elstobb. 1 vol. 8vo. Lynn and London. 1793.

A posthumous work: Elstobb had been employed as engineer by John, 4th Duke of Bedford.

2077. The history of the drainage of the great level of the fens, called Bedford Level; with the constitution and laws of the Bedford Level Corporation. By S. Wells. 2 vols. 8vo. Lond. 1828-30.

2078. A history of the fens of South Lincolnshire. By W. H. Wheeler. 1 vol. 8vo. Boston and London. 2nd ed. [1897].

Supersedes 1st ed. 1868. Bibliography and list of Statutes.

VI. SOCIAL

1. General and Miscellaneous.

(a) Bibliographies and Sources. (b) Later Works.

2. Descriptions of England, Travels, &c.

3. Education.

(a) Sources. (b) Later Works.

IN a sense nearly everything written in the seventeenth century illustrates its social history, and many of the best sources are not to be found in this section. Letters, diaries and memoirs, together with household accounts, furnish the most trustworthy illustrations of the daily habits of the upper and middle classes, and casual allusions in the drama and other forms of literature are often valuable. The observation of foreign travellers supply important generalizations as well as details ignored by native writers. The history of the inarticulate masses must be sought mainly from trials, especially from quarter sessions records, and from ephemeral literature, particularly ballads. The numerous guides to deportment published during this period are largely based on French models, and merely influenced the higher ranks.

Shakespeare's England (2445) gives the best picture of social conditions at the beginning of the period, and its bibliographies describe the sources. There is no similar study for its close. Macaulay (204) sketched the state of England in 1685, and Lecky in the first volume of his History of England in the eighteenth century has some useful comments. There are a number of 'social histories' dealing with the period as a whole or with considerable sections of it, but the mass of material embodied in such periodicals as the Tatler and Spectator, or in the writings of Defoe and Swift, has never been properly utilized, though John Ashton made a systematic collection of extracts [Social life in the reign of Queen Anne. Lond. 1883]. Social historians in general tend to concentrate unduly on life in London and to ignore the rest of England.

VII. LITERATURE, BALLADS, AND JOURNALISM

1. General Bibliographies and Sources.
2. General Later Works.
3. Collections of Plays, Poems, and other Literary Pieces.
4. Biographies and Works of Individuals.
5. Ballads.
6. Journalism.
(a) Newspapers. (b) History of Journalism.

LITERARY periods do not correspond with political. The year 1603 does not mark the close of 'the Elizabethan Age': 1714 falls within the 'Augustan Age'. To this difficulty arising from the vagueness of chronological limits is added the relative paucity of titles that can be here included. Therefore the selection becomes exceptionally arbitrary. All that has been attempted with regard to the sources is to indicate the most complete editions of the works of the chief writers, and the most useful bibliographies of, and commentaries on, their writings. The principles adopted in selecting the later works are two: to endeavour to cover a very wide field by the inclusion of at least one work on each branch of literature, and to prefer works containing bibliographies. Since literary bibliographies are both numerous and detailed, it is hoped that this section will provide historians with adequate guidance to the literature of the seventeenth century. Its existence in an historical bibliography calls attention to the interdependence of history and literature. Neither can be profitably studied in any detail without an adequate knowledge of the other.

THE bibliographies of science are mostly catalogues, arranged alphabetically and covering many centuries, but valuable for reference. Probably the easiest approach to the subject is by means of such studies as Weld (2669), Sachs (2671), the Cambridge Modern History (2673), Cantor (2692), Bryant (2695), and Moore (2718, 2722). From such works a general knowledge of the leading scientists can be acquired, and then recourse is possible to the Dictionary of National Biography and the bibliographies here listed. The items in this section have been selected with a view to the needs of the general historian rather than of the scientific expert, but an attempt has been made to include at least one work or life of the leading scientists, and thus to facilitate further study.

¶ I. GENERAL AND MISCELLANEOUS SCIENCE

(a) BIBLIOGRAPHIES AND SOURCES

2625. Catalogue of books on natural science in the Radcliffe Library at the Oxford University Museum up to December 1872. 1 vol. 4to. Oxf. 1877.

With annual supplements to date.

2626. Guide to the literature of botany, being a classified selection of botanical works. By B. D. Jackson. 1 vol. 8vo. Lond. 1881.

Has over 9,000 titles of English and foreign books.

2627. Catalogue of the books, manuscripts, maps and drawings in the British Museum (Natural History). 5 vols. 4to. Lond. 1903-15.

Vol. vi, Supplement A-I, 1922.

2628. Bibliotheca chemica: a catalogue of the alchemical, chemical and pharmaceutical books in the collection of the late James Young of Kelly and Durris. By J. Ferguson. 2 vols. 4to. Glasgow. 1906.

2629. Bibliotheca chemico-mathematica: catalogue of works in many tongues on exact and applied science, with a subject-index. By H. Zeitlinger and H. C. Sotheman. 2 vols. 8vo. Lond. 1921. Many plates.

A sale catalogue containing over 17,000 items with notes.

2630. The feminine monarchie, or a treatise concerning bees. By C. Butler. 1 vol. 8vo. Oxf. 1609.

An entertaining book, whose 3rd ed. [1634] is in phonetic spelling.

2631. Propositiones tentationum : sive propaedeumata de vitis et faecunditate compositorum naturalium. By T. Willis. 1 vol. 8vo. Lond. 1615.

2632. Novum organum. By Francis Bacon, Viscount St. Albans. 1 vol. fol. Lond. 1620. Later ed. 8vo. Oxf. 1890. Ed. by T. Fowler.

This was intended to be the second part of the Instauratio magna, though it was the first published.

2633. Sylva sylvarum : or a naturall historie. In ten centuries. By Francis Bacon, Viscount St. Albans. 1 vol. fol. Lond. 1627. Port.

Published after the author's death by W. Rawley. 'A miscellaneous collection of observations and experiments in natural history.' Many of them are puerile and even ridiculous, nevertheless 'it is probably the best and most complete collection of the kind that, up to that time, had been published'.

2634. Insectorum sive minimorum animalium theatrum : olim ab Edoardo Wottono, Conrado Gesnero, Thomaque Pennis inchoatum. By T. Muffet or Moffett, 1 vol. fol. Lond. 1634. Woodcuts.

Publ. thirty years after author's death. Trans. by John Rowland as The theater of insects, and app. to his reissue in 1658 of E. Topsell's Historie of foure-footed beasts [1 vol. fol. Lond. 1607] and Historie of serpents [1 vol. fol. Lond. 1608]. Moffett's Theatrum begins entomological science.

2635. Two treatises. In the one of which the nature of bodies ; in the other the nature of man's soule. By Sir K. Digby. 1 vol. fol. Lond. 1644.

2636. Phytologia Britannica. By W. How. 1 vol. 8vo. Lond. 1650.

The first British flora.

2637. Exercitationes de generatione animalium. By W. Harvey. 1 vol. 4to. Lond. 1651.

The publication of this was due to Dr. Ent. The account of the development of the duck is clear, good and laborious, and as far as the apparatus of the day permitted accurate, but until the invention of the compound microscope many details necessarily escaped observation.

2638. Arcana microcosmi : or the hid secrets of man's body discovered. With a refutation of Dr. Brown's vulgar errors, the Lord Bacon's Natural history, and Dr. Harvey's Book de generatione. By A. Ross. 1 vol. 8vo. Lond. 1652.

2639. Adam in Eden : or nature's paradise. The history of plants, fruits, herbs and flowers. By W. Coles. 1 vol. fol. Lond. 1657.

2640. A discourse concerning the vegetation of plants. By Sir K. Digby. 1 vol. 12mo. Lond. 1661.

The work of a gifted amateur and partly a quack. It is said that the importance of 'vital air' (oxygen) to living plants was first noticed in this book.

2641. Sylva, or a discourse of forest-trees. By J. Evelyn. 1 vol. fol. Lond. 1664.

A classic and a standard work, which had a very direct and stimulating influence on planting.

2642. Micrographia. By R. Hooke. 1 vol. fol. Lond. 1665.

'A book full of ingenious ideas and singular anticipations.'

2643. Philosophical transactions of the Royal Society. 4to. Lond.

Vols. i-xxix cover 1665-1716. Cf. A general index, by P. H. Maty, publ. 4to. Lond. 1787; An abridgement to 1700, ed. by John Lowthorp, 1705; and another 1700-20, by H. Jones. For other abridgements, &c. see Lowndes, pp. 2143-7.

2644. The history of the Royal Society of London for the improving of natural knowledge. By T. Sprat. 1 vol. 4to. Lond. 1667.

Cf. H. Stubbe's A censure upon certain passages contained in the History of the Royal Society as being destructive to the established religion of the Church of England [4to. Oxf. 1670].

2645. Plus ultra, or the progress and advancement of knowledge since the days of Aristotle in an account of some of the most remarkable late improvements of practical, useful learning. By J. Glanvill. 1 vol. 8vo. Lond. 1668.

Deals with scientific discoveries. Cf. H. Stubbe's The Plus ultra reduced to a nonplus, or a specimen of some animadversions upon the Plus ultra of Mr. Glanvill [4to. Warwick. 1670]. Glanvill replied with A prefatory answer to Mr. Henry Stubbe, the doctor of Warwick [8vo. Lond. 1670]. For the rest of this controversy see E. Arber's The Term Catalogues, i. 67, 73, 79, &c.

2646. The natural history of nitre: or, a philosophical discourse of the nature, generation, place and artificial extraction of nitre. By W. Clarke. 1 vol. 8vo. Lond. 1670.

2647. Essays on several important subjects in philosophy and religion. By J. Glanvill. 1 vol. 4to. Lond. 1676.

The essays are: (i) Against confidence in philosophy; (ii) Of scepticism and certainty; (iii) Modern improvements of knowledge; (iv) The usefulness of philosophy to theology; (v) The agreement of reason and religion; (vi) Against sadducism in the matter of witchcraft; (vii) Antifanatick theologie and free philosophy.

2648. Ornithologiae libri tres. Totum opus recognovit . . . Joh. Raius. By F. Willughby. 1 vol. fol. Lond. 1676.

This records the first attempt to study birds scientifically, and the first effort at a rational scheme of classification.

2649. Exercitationes de differentiis et nominibus animalium. By W. Charleton. 2nd ed. 1 vol. fol. Oxf. 1677.

1st ed. was: Onomasticon zoicon, plerorumque animalium differentias et nomina propria pluribus linguis exponens. 1 vol. 4to. Lond. 1668.

2650. Philosophical dialogues concerning the principles of natural bodies. By W. Simpson. 1 vol. 8vo. Lond. 1677.

2651. Historiae animalium Angliae libri tres. By M. Lister. 1 vol. 4to. Lond. 1678.

2652. The ornithology of Francis Willughby. In three books. Translated and enlarged by J. Ray. 1 vol. fol. Lond. 1678.

2653. Aurifontina chymica: or, a collection of fourteen small treatises concerning the first matter of philosophers for the discovery of their (hitherto so much concealed) mercury. Ed. by [? W. Cooper]. 1 vol. 12mo. Lond. 1680.

2654. Plantarum historiae universalis Oxoniensis, ii and iii. By R. Morison. Ed. by J. Bobart. 2 vols. fol. Oxf. 1680-99. Port.

Apparently part i never appeared. Cf. Plantarum umbelliferarum distributio nova. 1 vol. fol. Oxf. 1672. Many plates.

2655. The anatomy of plants. By N. Grew. 1 fol. Lond. 1682.

In four books with numerous plates. Although a disputable point, it is believed by many that it was Grew who first observed the existence of sex in plants.

2656. Collectanea chymica: a collection of ten several treatises in chymistry, concerning the liquor alkahest, the mercury of philosophers, and other curiosities worthy the perusal. 1 vol. 8vo. Lond. 1684.

Partly repr. in Collectanea chymica; being certain select treatises on alchemy and hermetic medicine. Ed. by A. E. Waite. 1 vol. 8vo. Lond. 1893.

2657. De historia piscium libri quinque. Recognovit Joh. Raius. By F. Willughby. 2 vols. fol. Oxf. 1685-6.

Illus. and publ. at the expense of Bishop Fell and the Royal Society.

2658. Historia plantarum generalis. By J. Ray. 3 vols. fol. Lond. 1686-1704.

Sachs says this 'treats of the whole of theoretical botany in the style of a modern text-book'.

2659. Synopsis methodica stirpium Britannicarum. By J. Ray. 1 vol. 8vo. Lond. 1690 and 1724.

The earliest systematic account of British plants, widely used for many years.

2660. A natural history: containing many not common observations: extracted out of the best modern writers. By Sir T. P. Blount. 1 vol. 8vo. Lond. 1693.

2661. Synopsis methodica animalium. By J. Ray. 1 vol. 8vo. Lond. 1693. Port.

This book marked an epoch in the history of Zoology which had been practically at a standstill since Aristotle. The treatise has been described 'as the first classification of animals that can be reckoned both general and grounded in nature'.

2662. Musei Petiveriani centuria prima-decima rariora naturae continens viz. animalia fossilia plantas . . . By J. Petiver. 1 vol. 8vo. Lond. 1695-1703.

2663. Ourang-outang, sive homo sylvestris, or the anatomy of a pygmy. By E. Tyson. 1 vol. 4to. Lond. 1699.

This, which really deals with the chimpanzee and not with 'ourang', is one of a series of monographs relating to single species of animal. Tyson was the first to publish elaborate monographs on particular animals in this country.

2664. Methodus insectorum. By J. Ray. 1 vol. 8vo. Lond. 1705.

This, with his Historia insectorum [1 vol. 4to. Lond. 1710], threw a new light on the classification of insects.

2665. A collection of letters illustrative of the progress of science in England from the reign of Queen Elizabeth to that of Charles the Second. Ed. by J. O. Halliwell. 1 vol. 8vo. Lond. 1841.

2666. Correspondence of scientific men of the seventeenth century . . . printed from the originals in the collection of . . . the Earl of Macclesfield. Ed. by S. P. Rigaud and S. J. Rigaud. 2 vols. 8vo. Oxf. 1841-62.

Has valuable correspondence of Newton, Barrow, Wallis, and others.

(b) LATER WORKS

2667. The lives of the professors of Gresham College. By J. Ward. 1 vol. fol. Lond. 1740.

2668. The history of the Royal Society of London. By T. Birch. 4 vols. 4to. Lond. 1756-7.

2669. A history of the Royal Society, with memoirs of the presidents. By C. R. Weld. 2 vols. 8vo. Lond. 1848.

2670. The life, times, and scientific labours of the second Marquis of Worcester. By H. Dircks. 1 vol. 8vo. Lond. 1865.

Cf. Worcesteriana: a collection of literary authorities, affording historical biographical and other notices relating to Edward Somerset . . . second Marquis of Worcester. 1 vol. 8vo. Lond. 1866.

2671. History of botany, 1530-1860. By J. von Sachs. Trans. by H. E. F. Garnsey. 1 vol. 8vo. Oxf. 1890 and 1906.

Continuation by J. R. Green, 1909, has bibl.

2672. Joseph Glanvill. A study in English thought and letters of the seventeenth century. By F. Greenslet. 1 vol. 8vo. Oxf. and New York, 1900.

2673. European science in the seventeenth and earlier years of the eighteenth centuries. Camb. Mod. Hist. v. 1908. Bibl.

(i) Mathematical and physical science, by W. W. Rouse Ball; (ii) Other branches of science, by Sir M. Foster. Cf. The progress of science, by A. E. Shipley, in Camb. Hist. of Eng. Lit. viii. 1912. Bibl.

2674. Early science in Oxford. By R. T. Gunther. Oxf. Hist. Soc. 2 vols. 8vo. Oxf. 1923. Illus.

Vol. i, Chemistry, mathematics, physics and surveying; ii, Astronomy.

2675. Three centuries of chemistry. By I. Mason. 1 vol. 8vo. Lond. 1925. Illus.

¶ 2. MATHEMATICAL AND PHYSICAL SCIENCE

(a) SOURCES

2676. Mirifici logarithmorum canonis descriptio, ejusque usus, in utraque trigonometria; ut etiam in omni logistica mathematica; amplissimi facillimi et expeditissimi explicatio. By J. Napier, of Merchistoun. 1 vol. 4to. Edin. 1614. Diagr.

2677. Arithmetica logarithmica sive logarithmorum chiliades triginta, pro numeris . . . ad 20,000 et a 90,000 ad 100,000. . . By H. Briggs. 1 vol. fol. Lond. 1624. Later ed. 1 vol. fol. Gouda. 1628, ed. by A. Vlacq.

Vlacq added the logarithms from 20,000 to 90,000 omitted by Briggs, as well as tables of trigonometrical functions. Substantially all modern tables of logarithms are based on this work.

2678. Artis analyticae praxis . . . By T. Harriot. Ed. by W. Warner. 1 vol. fol. Lond. 1631.

The best work on algebra and theory of equations of the time.

2679. Clavis mathematicae denuo limata, sive potius fabricata. By W. Oughtred. 1 vol. 8vo. Lond. 1631. 4th ed. 4 pts. 12mo. Oxf. 1667.

The title is taken from ed. of 1667. Original title was Arithmeticae in numeris et speciebus institutio. A text-book of arithmetic and algebra. Cf. W. Oughtred, by F. Cajori. 1 vol. 8vo. Chicago and Lond. 1916.

2680. New experiments physico-mechanicall touching the spring of the air and its effects (made for the most part in a new pneumatical engine), . . . By R. Boyle. 1 vol. 8vo. Oxf. 1660.

Contains important experiment which led to the well-known 'Boyle's law'. Boyle's Works, with his life by T. Birch, were publ. 5 vols. fol. Lond. 1744, later ed. 6 vols. 4to. Lond. 1772.

2681. The sceptical chymist : or chymico-physical doubts and paradoxes, touching the experiments whereby vulgar spagyristes are wont to endeavour to evince their salt, sulphur, and mercury, to be the true principles of things. . . . By R. Boyle. 1 vol. 8vo. Oxf. 1661.

'Marks a turning-point in the history of chemistry.' Sir Edward Thorpe.

2682. Lectiones xviii, Cantabrigiae in scholis publicis habitae ; in quibus opticorum phaenomenon genuinae rationes investigantur, ac exponuntur. Annexae sunt lectiones aliquot Geometricae. By I. Barrow. 1 vol. sm. 4to. Lond. 1669. Diagrams.

The 'Lectiones geometricae' has a separate title-page dated 1670, and is separately paged. His mathematical lectures were trans. by J. Kirkby [1 vol. 8vo. Lond. 1744], his geometrical lectures by E. Stone [1 vol. 8vo. Lond. 1735].

2683. Lectures de potentia restitutiva, or of spring, explaining the power of springing bodies . . . By R. Hooke. 1 vol. 4to. Lond. 1678.

Contains the well-known 'Hooke's law'.

2684. Philosophiae naturalis principia mathematica. By I. Newton. 1 vol. 4to. Lond. 1687. Diagrams. Later eds.: Camb. 1713, ed. by R. Cotes. Lond. 1726, ed. by H. Pemberton.

The second and third editions appeared during Newton's lifetime and were revised by him. There are many later eds., complete or partial. By far the most important book on physical science of the period and one of the greatest of all time.

2685. Opera mathematica. By J. Wallis. 3 vols. fol. Oxf. 1695-9. Diagr. Port.

2686. Astronomiae cometicae synopsis. By E. Halley. 4to. Lond. 1705. Diagr.

Contains inter alia the prediction of the return of 'Halley's' comet. It is a paper in the Philosophical Transactions of the Royal Society for March, 1705, vol. 23 (pp. 1882-99).

2687. De mensura sortis, seu de probabilitate eventuum in ludis a casu fortuito pendentibus. By A. De Moirre. 1 vol. 4to. Lond. 1711.

A paper in the Philosophical Transactions of the Royal Society for Jan., Feb., Mar. 1711, vol. 27, pp. 213-64.

2688. Isaaci Newtoni Opera quae exstant omnia. Ed. by S. Horsley. 5 vols. 4to. Lond. 1779-85. Diagr.

The only complete ed. of Newton's works.

2689. Correspondence of Sir Isaac Newton and Professor Cotes, including letters of other eminent men . . . other unpublished letters and papers by Newton. By J. Edleston. 1 vol. 8vo. Lond. 1850. Port.

(b) LATER WORKS

2690. History of physical astronomy from the earliest ages to the middle of the nineteenth century . . . By R. Grant. 1 vol. 8vo. Lond. 1852.

2691. Memoirs of the life, writings, and discoveries of Sir Isaac Newton. By D. Brewster. 2 vols. 8vo. Lond. 1855. Diagr. Ports.

Cf. G. J. Gray, A bibliography of the works of Sir Isaac Newton, 1 vol. 8vo. Camb. 1888. Port.

2692. Vorlesungen über Geschichte der Mathematik. By M. Cantor. 4 vols. 8vo. Leipzig. 1880-1908. Diagr.

The standard modern history of mathematics. The Stewart period is contained in vols. ii and iii. Cf. F. Cajori, A history of Mathematics, 2nd ed. 1 vol. 8vo. N.Y. 1919.

2693. A history of the study of mathematics at Cambridge. By W. W. Rouse Ball. 1 vol. 8vo. Camb. 1889.

He also wrote: A short account of the history of mathematics. 1 vol. 8vo. Lond. 1888. 3rd ed. 1901.

2694. Great astronomers. By Sir R. S. Ball. 1 vol. 8vo. Lond. 1895. Illus. Later ed. 1907.

Brief lives of Isaac Newton, John Flamsteed, Edmund Halley.

2695. A history of astronomy. By W. W. Bryant. 1 vol. 8vo. Lond. 1907. Illus.

¶ 3. MEDICINE

(a) BIBLIOGRAPHIES AND GENERAL SOURCES

2696. Catalogus librorum . . . in Musaeo Harveano. By C. Merrett. 1 vol. 4to. Lond. 1660.

The earliest catalogue of the library of the Royal College of Physicians.

2697. Catalogue of the library of the Royal College of Surgeons in London. 1 vol. 8vo. Lond. 1831.

2698. Royal College of Physicians of London. Catalogue of the library. 1 vol. 8vo. Lond. 1912.

2699. Catalogue of the library of the Society of Apothecaries. By W. B. Taylor. Ed. by J. E. Harting. 1 vol. 8vo. Lond. 1913.

2700. Via recta ad vitam longam. By T. Venner. 1 vol. 4to. Lond. 1638.

2701. The surgeon's mate ; or military and domestique surgery. By J. Woodall. 4 pts. in 1 vol. fol. Lond. 1639. Plates.

2703. A letter concerning the present state of physick and the regulation of the practice of it in this kingdom. By T. M. 1 vol. sm. 4to. Lond. 1665.

2704. A short view of the frauds and abuses committed by apothecaries as well in relation to patients as physicians. By C. Merrett. 1 vol. sm. 4to. Lond. 1669. Later ed. 1670.

Answered by Lex talionis sive vindiciae pharmacopaeorum, or a short reply to Dr. Merrett's book and others written against the apothecaries [sm. 4to. Lond. 1670]. Merrett replied in Self-conviction or an enumeration of the absurdities, railings, &c. against the college and physicians in general . . . and also an answer to the rest of lex talionis [sm. 4to. Lond. 1670].

2705. A discourse setting forth the unhappy condition of the practice of physick in London. By J. Goddard. 1 vol. sm. 4to. Lond. 1670.

2706. The family-physician and the house-apothecary. By G. Harvey. 1 vol. 12mo. Lond. 1676. 2nd ed. 1678.

One of many popular works by Harvey.

2707. Manuale medicum, or a small treatise of the art of physick. By H. Chamberlain. 1 vol. 12mo. Lond. 1685.

(c) BIOGRAPHIES AND COLLECTED WORKS

CULPEPER, NICHOLAS.

2723. Culpeper's works enlarged . . . and improved, or the complete English family physician. By N. Culpeper. Ed. by G. A. Gordon. 3 vols. 8vo. Lond. 1802. Illus.

HARVEY, WILLIAM.

2724. Gulielmi Harveii opera omnia ; a Collegio Medicorum Londinensi edita. 1 vol. 4to. Lond. 1766. Later ed. 1847. Ed. by R. Willis.

Ed. of 1847 is a trans. from the Latin.

2725. Memorials of Harvey, including a letter and autographs in facsimile. Ed. by J. H. Aveling. 1 vol. 8vo. Lond. 1875.

2726. William Harvey. By D'Arcy Power. Masters of Medicine series. 1 vol. 8vo. Lond. 1897.

LOWER, RICHARD.

2727. Two Oxford physiologists. By F. Gotch. 1 vol. 8vo. Oxf. 1908.
Studies of Richard Lower [1631-91] and John Mayow [1643-79].

PARÉ, AMBROISE.

2728. The workes of that famous chirurgion A. Parey. Translated out of Latin and compared with the French. Ed. by T. Johnson. 1 vol. fol. Lond. 1634. Woodcuts. Later ed. 1665.

Much esteemed in seventeenth-century England. Cf. F. R. Packard, Life and times of Ambroise Paré [1510-90]. 1 vol. 8vo. Lond. 1922.

X. POLITICAL SCIENCE

1. Sources.

2. Later works.

OWING to the Stuart succession, the civil war, and the revolution, the seventeenth century witnessed much speculation about the nature of government. There are four movements in political thought: (i) the elaboration and decline of the theory of the divine right of kings; (ii) the emergence during and after the civil war of democratic ideas; (iii) the development of the theory of sovereignty by Hobbes; and (iv) the growth of a theory by which the power of the monarch was to be limited by the terms of an original contract of which Locke was the ablest exponent. The first is treated by James I (2741), Filmer (2752), and Figgis (2770). The second must be sought in a host of pamphlets and treatises, to which Gooch (2771) and Pease (2776) provide guidance. For the third and fourth the sources are the works of Hobbes (2746) and Locke (2765), whose ideas find commentators in modern writers such as Graham (2772), Dunning (2773), and Sorley (2775, 2777).

The influence of these theories upon political and constitutional development during this period can only be estimated after examination of such sources as the debates in the army council in 1647 (150) or in the convention parliament of 1689. Writers on political science have explored the origin of theories but have neglected their effect on politics in Stuart England.

XI. LOCAL HISTORY

1. General Bibliographies and Guides.
2. General Later Works.
3. County and other Local Records arranged alphabetically under counties.
4. London.

HUMPHREYS (2788) is the best general bibliography, and Gross (2782) is valuable for municipalities. Hyett and Bazeley (2811) provide a model county bibliography. General county, municipal and parish histories, covering many centuries, have been omitted perforce, although they often include relevant sections of importance. Similarly parish registers are excluded, but lists are contained in the books mentioned in No. 1472. Of the books dealing more or less exclusively with the Stuart period, preference has been given to the main sources, but it is hoped that sufficient minor ones have been included to show the nature of the material available. There is no work on local government for the seventeenth century to correspond with the magnum opus of Sidney and Beatrice Webb (2792), which is mainly concerned with the following century, but the introductions to published county records are often valuable: that by Willis Bund (2861) is a fine specimen. The Victoria County History (2790), at present incomplete, is so comprehensive and systematic that it should always be consulted. The inventories of the royal commission on historical monuments [4to. Lond. 1910-] contain much historical and bibliographical matter. So far there are published: Hertfordshire, Buckinghamshire (2 vols.), Essex (4 vols.), Huntingdonshire and two of the London volumes.

Local histories of the civil war are listed in the military section, and those dealing with the ecclesiastical history of particular districts are in the religious section.

¶ I. GENERAL BIBLIOGRAPHIES AND GUIDES

2778. British topography, or an historical account of what has been done for illustrating the topographical antiquities of Great Britain and Ireland. By R. Gough. 2 vols. 4to. Lond. 1780.

Originally publ. in 1768 in one vol. as Anecdotes of British topography.

2779. A bibliographical account of the principal works relating to English topography. By W. Upcott. 3 vols. 8vo. Lond. 1818.

2780. Calendar and inventory of parliamentary surveys preserved among the records of the augmentation office. Rep. of the Deputy Keeper, vii. 224; viii. 52. 1846-7.

2781. The book of British topography: a classified catalogue of the topographical works in . . . the British Museum relating to Great Britain and Ireland. By J. P. Anderson. 1 vol. 8vo. Lond. 1881.

2782. A bibliography of British municipal history. By C. Gross. 1 vol. 8vo. N.Y. 1897.

2783. Report of the committee appointed to enquire as to the existing arrangements for the collection and custody of local records. Cd. 1335. 1 vol. fol. Lond. 1902.

Deals with England, Wales, Scotland, and Ireland. App. III contains details of the nature and dates of records appertaining to counties, county boroughs, non-county boroughs, London vestries, bishoprics, cathedrals, archdeacons, &c., together with useful information as to extracts, &c. printed from the same.

2784. Index of archaeological papers, 1665-1890 [with annual supplements to 1908]. Ed. by G. L. Gomme. 1 vol. 8vo. Lond. 1907.

Valuable but far from exhaustive : arranged under authors.

2785. Index of inquisitions preserved in the Public Record Office. Vol. iii, James I ; iv, Charles I and later. Lists and Indexes. Nos. xxxi, xxxiii. 1909.

2786. A guide to the reports on collections of manuscripts of private families, corporations and institutions in Great Britain and Ireland issued by the royal commissioners for historical manuscripts. Part I. Topographical. 1 vol. 8vo. Lond. 1914.

2787. Third report of the royal commission on public records appointed to inquire into and report on the state of the public records and local records of a public nature of England and Wales . . . Vol. iii. Cmd. 367. 3 pts. fol. Lond. 1916-19.

Summarizes the returns of 1800, 1837, and 1902, and adds more recent information about local records in local repositories. This is the best guide to the various classes of local records. The First and Second Reports [1912, 1914] should also be consulted.

2788. A handbook to county bibliography : being a bibliography of bibliographies relating to the counties and towns of Great Britain and Ireland. By A. L. Humphreys. 1 vol. 4to. Lond. 1917.

¶ 4. LONDON

(a) Periodicals. (b) Sources. (c) Later works.

As London was the stage on which much of English history was acted in the Stuart period, many general sources and later works are often of far greater importance for its history than works specifically devoted to that subject.

For bibliographies of the latter see Nos. 2778-88. All the rest of any value are in library or sale catalogues. By far the most complete is that of the Guildhall Library, which includes an elaborate subject index, on cards, as are those of the libraries of the London County Council, the Bishopsgate Institute, the University of London (Goldsmiths' Library at the University Offices, London section of the library at University College), which all have large general collections, while the libraries of the City of Westminster and most of the metropolitan Boroughs, and the Minet Library at Camberwell (covering all London south of the Thames) (2854 n.) have good local ones.

Sotheby's catalogue of the library of Edward Tyrrell, sold in April 1864, is the most valuable in that class : it gives the titles of many tracts. These, one of the most important sources for the history of London during the period, could not be included in the brief list given below : for them see, for 1640-60, the Brit. Mus. Catalogue of the Thomason Tracts ; before and after those dates the footnotes to Sharpe (2905) and the Victoria County History (2790), Bell's bibliographies (2912 and 2914), and the above library catalogues, with that of the London Institution [1835]. See also for these and other literary sources (especially plays) the bibliographies in the Cambridge History of English Literature. There is a useful list of statutes and charters prefixed to Pulling's Laws, customs . . . of London, 1842. For maps and views see Crace (2883).

(a) PERIODICALS

2869. London and Middlesex Archaeological Society. Transactions, i-vi, 1860-1890. New Series, i [1905] : in progress. Many maps, facsimiles, and other illustrations. Other publications include : Facsimile reproductions of Ogilby and Morgan's Map of the city, 1677, with Ogilby's description of it, ed. by C. Welch.

N.S. vol. iv (the last completed) contains inter alia a study of the Parliamentary surveys of crown lands, 1649-59, in London and Middlesex.

2870. (a) Middlesex and Hertfordshire Notes and Queries. Continued as (b) The Home Counties Magazine, devoted to the topography of London, Middlesex, Essex, Herts, Bucks, Berks, Surrey, and Kent. Ed. by W. J. Hardy (series (a) and vols. i-vi of (b)) and W. P. Baildon (vols. viii-xiv). (a) 4 vols. 8vo. Lond. 1895-8. (b) 14 vols. 8vo. Lond. 1899-1912. Many illustrations. Valuable lists of relevant works published during the period covered.

Includes some documents, e.g. the Parliamentary surveys of livings in Middlesex (Home Counties, vol. i). Much bibliographical matter.

2871. Publications of the London Topographical Society : in progress.

Include : (a) Annual Record, continued as London Topographical Record (in progress). (b) Facsimiles, from the best originals, of maps and views of London, among them Visscher's, Merian's and Hollar's views [1616, 1638 and 1647], and the maps by Faithorne and Newcourt [1658], Porter [1660], Ogilby and Morgan [1682]; A bird's-eye view of West Central London [c. 1648] ; 'Exact surveigh of the streets . . . within the ruines' [1667] ; and seven drawing of buildings, by Hollar ; a plan of Whitehall, 1680, and view of the palace, 1683 ; Jonas Moore's map of the Thames, 1662 ; a plan of Ebury Manor [c. 1670] ; and two drawings (one by Wren) of Old St. Paul's.

The Record contains notes on all of these, and other important papers : a complete list of its contents and of all the society's publications is appended to the last volume, xiii [1923].

(b) SOURCES

2872. The survey of London . . . Begunne first by . . . Iohn Stow . . . afterwarde enlarged by . . . A. M. in the year 1618. And now completely finished by A. M[unday], H. D[yson], and others. 1 vol. fol. Lond. 1633. Later ed. 2 vols. fol. Lond. 1720. Maps. Plans (many). Ed. by J. Strype.

Both the 1633 edition and Strype's contain much additional matter, valuable for the history of London in the 17th century. For bibliographical notes see the introduction to the standard edition of Stow's original work, by C. L. Kingsford [Oxford, 1908], pp. xlii, lxxxv.

2873. Histoire de l'entree de la reine mere dans la Grande Bretagne. By J. P. de la Serre. 1 vol. fol. Lond. 1639. Later ed. 3 pts. 4to. Lond. 1755. Ed. by R. Gough.

Useful for its description of London. Repr. 1775 with Description des royaumes d'Angleterre et d'escosse composé par Estienne Perlin [1558], illustrated with notes in English.

2874. Reports of speciall cases touching severall customs and liberties of the city of London. Collected by Sir H. Calthrop Knight, sometimes Recorder . . . Whereunto is annexed divers ancient customes and usages of the said city. By Sir H. Calthrop. 1 vol. 12mo. London. 1655. Later ed. 1670.

In the edition of 1670 the last case (taxes on Wharfes) is omitted and the commission and articles of the Wardmote Inquest and other documents are appended to the second part. The latter, alone, is No. 2060 in Gross.

For Calthorpe (sic) see Dict. Nat. Biog., where, however, neither this work (nor the less important one described by Gross (2782) No. 2023) is mentioned. It is one of a series of books on the civic constitution, e.g., The city law [1647 and 1658], Camera regis (2876), and Lex Londinensis [1680]. See A. H. Thomas, Mayor's court rolls [1924], p. xxvi.

2875. Londinopolis. An historicall discourse or perlustration of the city of London . . . By J. Howell. 1 vol. fol. Lond. 1657. Port. Map.

Chiefly interesting as a panegyric, the historical part being borrowed from Stow's Survey. Another work of similar character is William Gough's Londinum triumphans [1682].

2876. Camera regis, or, A short view of London. Containing the antiquity . . . officers, courts, customs, franchises, &c. of that renowned city. By J. Brydall. 1 vol. sm. 8vo. Lond. 1676. Later ed. 1678.

See 2874 n. It gives copious references to Coke, whose 4th Institute (467) has an important section on the subject, and to other legal writers, statutes, and law reports. For the author see Dict. Nat. Biog.

2877. A collection of the names of the merchants living in and about the city of London . . . directing . . . to the place of their abode. (Hereunto is added an addition of all the goldsmiths that keep running cashes.) 1 vol. 12mo. Lond. 1677. Later ed. 1 vol. 16mo. Lond. 1863. Ed. by J. C. Hotten.

The reprint is entitled The Little London Directory of 1677.

2878. The royal charter of confirmation granted by King Charles II to the city of London. Wherein are recited verbatim all the charters to the said city . . . Taken out of the records and exactly translated into English. By S. G. Gent. 1 vol. 8vo. Lond. 1680. Later eds. 1738 and 1745.

The second edition by J.E. has the wording of the Epistle Dedicatory altered to suit Lord Mayor Sir John Barnard [1737-8] instead of Sir Robert Clayton [1679-80], and contains no indication that it is not a new book; it is therefore catalogued separately by the British Museum, followed by Gross (2782); cf. his Nos. 2035 and 2032. It has additions, as shown by the title: 'The charters of the city of London . . . taken verbatim out of the records, exactly translated into English, with notes. . . . And the Parliamentary confirmation by K. William and Q. Mary. To which is annexed an abstract of the arguments in the case of the Quo Warranto.'

2879. The present state of London, or, Memorials comprehending a full and succinct account of the ancient and modern state thereof. By T. De Laune. 1 vol. 12mo. London. 1681. Later ed. 1690.

Mainly descriptive, with a good deal of miscellaneous information: e.g. pp. 345-59 are about the Post Office and penny post. The second edition 'continued to this present year by a careful hand', was entitled Angliae Metropolis.

2880. The pleadings, arguments and other proceedings in the court of King's Bench upon the Quo Warranto, touching the charter of the city of London; with the judgement entred thereupon. The whole pleadings faithfully taken from the record. 1 vol. fol. Lond. 1690. Later ed. 1696.

Contains: (1) the entries relating to the case on the Coram Rege Rolls, including the pleadings; (2) the Report, beginning with an English summary of the pleadings, and including all the arguments of counsel, and the judgement; (3) a 'Postscript', collecting precedents bearing on the question, whether a body corporate can surrender and dissolve itself.

(1) and (2) are also printed, in the reverse order, with numerous additions and annotations, in State Trials (562), viii, 1039-1358 (which also reports, ix. 187, 299, the Trials of the Sheriffs and of Sir Patience Ward, 1683); and the case is in Shower's Reports (B.R.) ii. 262. The judgement was annulled by statute 2 Wm. and Mary, c. 8.

The Quo Warranto case led to the publication of a large number of pamphlets, frequently containing extracts from the pleadings and arguments and the charters. Some are given by Gross (2782), Nos. 2024-6, 2029-30, 2033, 2039, 2045, 2051, 2054-5, 2057, 2059. Among others are: 'The Modest Enquiry . . .' [1683], 'A Defence of the Charter and Municipal Rights of the City . . .', by Thomas Hunt [1683], and 'A Display of Tyranny', First part, 1689. The Second Part, 1690.

2881. Privilegia Londini: or, the laws, customs, and priviledges of the city of London. Wherein are set forth all the charters . . . customs . . . The nature of by-laws . . . and how pleadable . . . Together with the practice of all the courts . . . 1 vol. 8vo. Lond. 1702. 3rd ed. 1723. Ed. by W. Bohun.

The best description of the civic constitution and customs at the end of the century.

2882. A collection of the yearly bills of mortality from 1657 to 1758, inclusive. Together with several other bills of an earlier date. To which are subjoined i. Observations on the bills of mortality by Capt. J. Graunt. ii. Another Essay . . . concerning the growth of the City of London . . . by Sir W. Petty. Ed. by T. Birch. 2 pts. 4to. Lond. 1759.

The original bills, weekly and general (or yearly), may be seen in the Guildhall Library, and (from 1664 and 1658 respectively) at the British Museum. Facsimiles of the bills for the week 13-20 Oct. 1603, and the year 1665, are in Ten years' growth of the City, published by the Corporation (1891). The weekly bills for 1665 were republished that year by the Company of Parish Clerks, under the title London's dreadful visitation, and also by John Bell, London's Remembrancer. The general bills are summarized and discussed by Maitland (2899).

The bills are useful for other than statistical purposes : e. g. the changes in the lists of parishes, and their arrangement, illustrate the development of the idea of what constituted the ' metropolis '. For general information about them see J. Christie, Parish Clerks, pp. 132 et seq. ; Creighton, Epidemics (2700), i. 295 et seq., and ch. x ; and Bell, Great Plague (2914), passim.

Graunt's essay was published in 1661, republished 1662, 1665 (twice), and 1676 ; Petty's published in 1683, republished 1686. The latter also wrote on the people, housing, hospitals, &c. of London and Paris (1686), and the cities of London and Rome (1687). For repr. of both Petty and Graunt see No. 1893.

2883. A Catalogue of maps, plans and views of London and Southwark, collected and arranged by F. Crace. Ed. by J. G. Crace. 1 vol. 8vo. Lond. 1878.

The collection was acquired by the British Museum in 1880. The catalogue is on the whole the best bibliography of the subject ; others are the catalogues of the Gardner Collection, sold at Sotheby's in Feb. and March 1923, Nov. 1923, and May 1924, and that included in Wenceslaus Hollar and his views of London, by A. M. Hinds (London, 1921). There are large collections of relevant London prints at the Guildhall, the London Museum, Sir John Soane's Museum, and the libraries of the Bishopsgate Institute and of the local authorities mentioned above.

2884. Analytical index to the series of records known as the Remembrancia [9 vols.] preserved among the archives of the city of London, A. D. 1579-1664. Ed. by W. H. and H. C. Overall. 1 vol. 8vo. Lond. 1878.

The Remembrancia books contain copies of correspondence between the civic authorities and the King, Privy Council, and private persons of importance. The ' Index ' is really a calendar, the letters being summarized with varying fullness. A few have been printed in extenso by the Malone Soc., Collections, i (1).

2885. Parish of St. Christopher le Stocks : The register book (1558-1780), 2 vols. Vestry minutes and other records (1559-1686) ; Churchwardens' accounts (1575-1685), 2 vols. Wills, leases and memoranda (to 1715). Ed. by E. Freshfield. 6 vols. 4to. Lond. 1882, 1886, 1885, and 1895.

One facsimile [1665] in the Register Book. At the end of the second volume of this are notes of collections, 1659-65.

2886. The historical charters and constitutional documents of the city of London. Ed. by an Antiquary [W. de Gray Birch]. 1 vol. 4to. Lond. 1884. Bibl. Later ed. 1 vol. 8vo. Lond. 1887.

Based upon the Appendix to John Noorthouck's New history of London, 1773. Includes Charles II's proclamation after the fire and his confirmation of the order of Common Council, May 1667 ; two other Acts, for Paving and Cleansing [1671] and regulating the Markets for Woollen Goods ; and the Statute [1690] vacating the judgements on the Quo Warranto. The charters have also been printed by J. Luffman [1793] and others. See No. 2878. In all these collections Latin documents are given in an English translation.

2887. The vestry minute book of the parish of St. Margaret Lothbury, 1571-1677. Ed. by E. Freshfield. 1 vol. 4to. Lond. 1887. 2 maps. Several plans.

Numerous small plans extracted from the reports of the surveyors who set out the new foundations of buildings after the Fire ; three facsimiles, one of 1643. Cf. the author's paper, with extracts from the records of the neighbouring parish of St. Stephen Coleman Street, in Archaeologia, 1.

2888. A discourse on some unpublished records of the city of London. By E. Freshfield. 1 vol. 4to. Lond. 1887.

Indicates the general contents of London parochial records, and the extent to which they include material for the history not only of London but of England, in the 17th century. It is impossible to enumerate here those from which extracts have been printed: for some see V. C. H. London (2790) i, Appendix; but that is confined to the City, Westminster, and Southwark, and only includes publications before 1908. For all the parish histories see the catalogue of the Guildhall Library. There is a list of the Registers published before 1897 in Middx. and Herts. N. & Q. iii. 99; many have been printed by the Harleian Society, which has also printed some London visitations of this period.

2889. Middlesex County Records: vols. ii-iv, sessions rolls, from 1603; vols. v-vi, sessions books, from 1689. Middlesex County Records Soc. continued by the Middlesex County Council. Vols. i-iv, ed. by J. C. Jeaffreson; vols. v, vi, ed. by W. J. Hardy. 6 vols. 8vo. i-iii, Clerkenwell; iv-vi, London. 1888-

The record kept by the clerk to the justices, now at the Middlesex Town Hall, Westminster. The calendar has been continued in typescript, and may be consulted there, or at the British Museum. A list of the extant county records, mainly of the 17th and 18th centuries, is prefixed to each vol.

2890. Calendar of wills proved and enrolled in the court of Husting . . . preserved among the archives of the Corporation . . . Part II, A. D. 1358-A. D. 1688. Ed. by R. R. Sharpe. 1 vol. 1a. 8vo. Lond. 1890.

Pp. 730-79 contain wills of the period. For other London wills see British Record Soc.: P.C.C. vols. v, vi.

2891. Memorials of Stepney . . . the vestry minutes from 1579 to 1662, to which is appended a reprint of Gascoyne's map of the parish, 1703. With introduction and notes. Ed. by G. W. Hill and W. H. Frere. 1 vol. 8vo. Guildford. 1890-1.

The parish of Stepney then extended from the Thames to Hackney.

2892. Parish of St. Bartholomew Exchange. Vestry minute books (1567-1676), account books (1596-1698). Ed. by E. Freshfield. 2 vols. 4to. Lond. 1890, 1895. 3 maps. 1 plan. 1 port.

2 facsimiles, one of 1644. The second vol. has an Appendix of extracts from minutes, 1676-9.

2893. Catalogue of books and documents belonging to the royal parish of St. Martin-in-the-Fields. By T. Mason. 1 vol. 8vo. Lond. 1895.

Printed for the vestry. The list is arranged as the documents were then numbered, and consequently (e. g. on p. 46) some of the 17th century occur among those of the 19th. The accounts to 1603 have been edited by J. V. Kitto [London, 1901], and extracts from later records are given in the history of the parish by John McMaster [London, 1916].

2894. A catalogue of Westminster records deposited at the Town Hall . . . in the custody of the vestry of St. Margaret and St. John, with introductory essay, illustrations and extracts. By J. E. Smith. 1 vol. 4to. Lond. 1900. Many facsimiles.

Includes important extracts from 17th-century accounts. The registers from 1539-1660 have since been edited by A. M. Burke: Memorials of St. Margaret's (London, 1914). Smith was vestry clerk, and his other works are valuable for the history of Westminster at this period.

2895. Survey of London, issued by the joint publishing committee representing the London County Council and the London Survey Committee; in progress. Present general eds. Sir J. Bird, P. Norman. 4to. Lond. 1900. Copiously illus.

A sumptuous series, concerned mainly with buildings and antiquities, but having an historical section in each volume, and valuable bibliographical notes. Among the illustrations are many maps and plans. Of the volumes issued to date the following deal with London parishes included in the 'metropolis' of the 17th century: iii and v, St. Giles-in-the-Fields; viii, Shoreditch; ix, St. Helen Bishopsgate. There is a companion series of monographs on individual buildings, several of the 17th century, published by the Survey Committee alone.

2896. The aldermen of the city of London temp. Henry III—1908. With notes on the parliamentary representation of the city, the aldermen and the livery companies, the aldermanic veto, aldermanic baronets, and knights. By A. B. Beaven. 2 vols. 8vo. Lond. 1908.

Contains much biographical material including (see vol. ii, p. cxvii) numerous corrections of the Dict. Nat. Biog. Cf. J. J. Baddeley, The aldermen of Cripplegate Ward. Lond. 1900.

2897. London citizens in 1651, being a transcript of Harleian MS. 4778. Ed. by J. C. Whitebrook. Lond. 1910.

List of signatures of members of 22 companies, with a repr. of a tract giving the names of the grand jury of the London quarter sessions, in Oct. 1681.

2898. Records of the Worshipful Company of Carpenters: vol. i, Apprentices' entry books, 1654-94. Ed. by Bower Marsh. 4to. Oxf. 1913.

The remaining 3 vols. contain earlier Records.

(c) LATER WORKS

2899. The history of London . . . including the several parishes. By W. Maitland and others. 1 vol. fol. Lond. 1739. Plates. Later ed. 2 vols. fol. Lond. 1756.

The 2nd ed. contains much additional material. Vol. i is a narrative history, cc. xxix-xlii (pp. 282-502) covering the 17th century; it consists largely of documents arranged chronologically. Vol. ii is mainly descriptive, but includes a few documents of this period, e. g. (p. 813), the Commonwealth Act (1649) establishing the London Workhouse, which anticipated the Act of 1662. It also contains a useful list of the companies, with references to the Patent Rolls for their charters of incorporation, which are not given in Unwin's bibliographies (2910).

2900. History and description of the parish of Clerkenwell, embellished with numerous engravings, by J. and H. S. Storer. The historical department by T. Cromwell. 1 vol. 8vo. [Lond.]. 1828.

Gives extracts from the parish records, and is more valuable, for this period, than the better-known work by W. J. Pinks (Clerkenwell, 1865).

2901. Urkundliche Geschichte des Hansischen Stahlhofes zu London. By J. M. Lappenberg. 1 vol. 4to. Hamburg. 1851.

With this should be read a paper by P. Norman on the later history of the Steelyard, in Archaeologia, lxi [1909], based upon many additional documents.

2902. Chapters in the history of old St. Paul's; Gleanings from old St. Paul's; St. Paul's and old city life. By W. S. Simpson. 3 vols. 8vo. Lond. 1881, 1889, 1894. Illus.

A series of miscellanies, including valuable references to tracts, from which long extracts are given. The author was librarian of the Cathedral and edited Documents illustrating the History of St. Paul's (Nos. xx-xxxiii of the 17th century) for the Camd. Soc. (N.S. 26, 1880).

2903. London past and present: its history, associations and traditions. Based upon the Handbook of London by the late P. Cunningham. By H. B. Wheatley. 3 vols. 8vo. Lond. and N.Y. 1891.

A most useful topographical dictionary, giving taverns, coffee-houses, &c., as well as streets and notable buildings. The two editions of its predecessor, by Cunningham (1849, 2 vols. 1850, 1 vol.), are also useful for the 17th century.

2904. London during the great rebellion. Being a memoir of Sir Abraham Reynardson, sheriff . . . lord mayor of London (1648-9). By C. M. Clode. 1 vol. 8vo. Lond. 1892.

Should be compared with the author's Memorials of the Merchant Taylors (London, 1875).

2905. London and the kingdom: a history derived mainly from the archives at Guildhall. By R. R. Sharpe. 3 vols. 8vo. Lond. 1894-5. Facsimiles.

Vol. ii deals with the period 1603-1714; important documents 1603-83 are in vol. iii, app. The work is based upon the minutes ('Repertories' and 'Journals') of the Courts of Aldermen and Common Council, the most valuable material for the history of London during the period, and is the best existing guide to their contents. The author was Records Clerk to the Corporation.

2906. The history of St. James's Square and the foundation of the west end of London. By A. I. Dasent. 1 vol. 8vo. Lond. 1895. 2 maps. 2 plans. 1 port.

The author used the rate-books of the parish, and the family MSS. of the Duke of Norfolk and other owners of property there. Appendices: A. Lists of the successive owners and occupiers of each house in the square; B. Warrant for a crown lease, 1662, and the grant of the site to the Earl of St. Albans, 1665, both printed in full.

2907. Some account of the lord mayors and sheriffs of the city of London [1601-25]. By G. E. Cokayne. 1 vol. 8vo. Lond. 1897.

Some additional references are given by Beaven (2896).

2908. The old royal palace of Whitehall. By E. Sheppard. 1 vol. 8vo. Lond. 1902. 1 plan. Numerous ports. and other illustrations.

2909. London in the time of the Stuarts. By Sir W. Besant. 1 vol. 4to. Lond. 1903. 3 maps. 2 plans. Many ports.

Many illustrations, which, like the text (a novelist's compilation), vary much in value.

2910. The gilds and companies of London. By G. Unwin. 1 vol. 8vo. Lond. 1908.

Appendix B, 'List of sources for the history of the existing London companies,' is the best existing bibliography both of original materials and later works upon them.

More detailed references to MS. sources are in the same author's Industrial organization (1913). For those which have been published since 1908 see the card index of the Guildhall Library.

2911. History of the Worshipful Company of Drapers of London. By A. H. Johnson. 5 vols. 8vo. Oxf. 1914-22.

Vol. iii contains the history from 1603; vol. iv the Appendices to it, documents mostly of the 17th century; vol. v the Index.

2912. The great Fire of London in 1666. By W. G. Bell. 1 vol. 8vo. Lond. 1920. Many illustrations. 1 map. 3 plans. Bibliogr. (valuable).

Largely derived from MS. and other sources hitherto unexplored. Appendices comprising documents, a reprint of the official account in The London Gazette, No. 85, Sept. 1666, and lists of the churches and halls destroyed and those preserved. Gives much information both about the state of London before the Fire and about the rebuilding. For a few additional references and conclusions see History, viii. 40-3.

2913. History of the Mansion House. By S. Perks. 1 vol. 8vo. Cambridge. 1922. Many plans.

Is really a history of the space in the centre of the city, now partly open, partly the site of the Mansion House. The author is the city surveyor, and was therefore able to include official plans of the area in the 17th century, and copious extracts from the City archives about the Stocks market, &c. Appendix on the rebuilding of London after the great Fire. See also on that subject his Essays on Old London. 1 vol. 4to. Camb. 1927.

2914. The great plague in London in 1665. By W. G. Bell. 1 vol. 8vo. Lond. 1924. Many illustrations, including facsimiles of bills of mortality, and several charts. 1 plan. 4 ports. Bibliogr.

Based entirely upon contemporary sources. It therefore supersedes all accounts published since Defoe's Journal of the plague year, which the author shows to be essentially a work of fiction, though it incorporates material from the Lord Mayor's orders and the bills of mortality. Cf. History, x. 65-7.

2915. The Westminster city fathers (the Burgess Court of Westminster), 1585-1901. By W. H. Manchée. 1 vol. 8vo. Lond. 1924. Numerous illustrations.

Includes extracts from minutes, 1610-15: the other volumes of the period are lost. Should be compared with chap. iv, on Westminster, in Webb's Local Government (2792), vol. ii.

2916. The early history of Piccadilly, Leicester Square, Soho, and the neighbourhood. By C. L. Kingsford. 1 vol. 8vo. Camb. 1926. Illus.

Valuable. Cf. Mary Davies and the manor of Ebury, by C. T. Gatty. 2 vols. Lond. 1921.

XII. SCOTLAND

1. Bibliographies and Sources.
2. Later Works.
3. Collective Biographies and Biographiana.
4. Biographies, Personal Narratives, and Collected Works.

SCOTTISH history from 1560 to 1690 is mainly concerned with the establishment of presbyterianism, the attempts of successive Stuart kings to modify it by superimposing episcopacy, and its final re-establishment after the revolution. It is natural, therefore, that both the sources and later works are largely ecclesiastical in character, and tend to be biased by the religious preferences of their authors. Another feature of the period is the importance of the nobility, and thus national history is often bound up with the fortunes of individuals as Montrose or Argyle. Accordingly family histories are unusually important. Thanks to religious zeal on the one hand and family pride on the other it is probable that a larger proportion of the extant sources has been published than for the history of any other modern country.

Scotland is fortunate in possessing an excellent general history in moderate compass by Hume Brown (3100). In conjunction with Masson he edited the Scottish Privy Council Register (2112), the chief source for administrative history, and wrote the best account of the Union. For that event Defoe (2933) and Bruce (3067) are valuable for documents, and Mackinnon (3098) for references to pamphlets. Since the two relations of England and Scotland were so intimate, the works of English historians are often valuable for Scottish history, and Gardiner (219, 220), and Firth (244) are as indispensable as such sources as Thurloe (86) and the Clarke Papers (151).

The military history of England and Scotland is inextricably entwined, and is dealt with jointly. A number of books which are listed under England but which are important for Scotland are indexed under Scotland.

¶ I. BIBLIOGRAPHIES AND SOURCES

2917. A bibliography of printed documents and books relating to the Scottish Company, commonly called the Darien Company. Ed. by J. Scott. 1 vol. 4to. Edin. 1904.

This work appears in part i of vol. vi of the Publications of the Edinburgh Bibliographical Society (1904). For some of Lieut. Robert Turnbull's Darien letters see Scottish Historical Review, vol. xi.

2918. A list of books printed in Scotland before 1700, including those printed furth of the realm for Scottish booksellers, with brief notes on the printers and stationers. By H. G. Aldis. 1 vol. 4to. Edin. Bibl. Soc. Edin. 1904.

2919. A guide to the public records of Scotland deposited in H.M. General Register House, Edinburgh. By M. Livingstone. 1 vol. 8vo. H.M. Stat. Office, Edin. 1905.

The State Papers relating to Scotland in the Public Record Office have been calendared only to 1603. 'Calendars of State Papers—Domestic' (124), however, contain valuable references to Scottish history.

The Edinburgh periodical press. See No. 2539.

2920. An index to the papers relating to Scotland, described or calendared in the Historical MSS. Commission's Reports. Ed. by C. S. Terry. 1 vol. 8vo. Glasgow. 1908.

2921. A catalogue of the publications of Scottish historical and kindred clubs and societies, and of the volumes relative to Scottish history issued by His Majesty's Stationery Office, 1780–1908, with a subject-index. Ed. by C. S. Terry. 1 vol. 8vo. Glasgow. 1909.

Invaluable.

2922. Scottish economic literature to 1800 [from 1124]. Ed. by W. R. Scott. 1 vol. 8vo. Glasgow and Edin. 1911.

Contains a list of authorities prepared for the Committee of early economic literature, Scottish Exhibition of National History, Art, and Industry, Glasgow, 1911. Cf. T. Keith's Bibliography of Scottish economic history. Scottish Historical Association's Pamphlets, No. 5 [1914].

2923. List of works relating to Scotland. Ed. by G. F. Black. 1 vol. 4to. New York. 1916.

Although only a list of works in New York Public Library on 31 Dec. 1914, it is 'of the highest reference value'. Scot. Hist. Rev. xiv, p. 286.

2924. Contribution to the bibliography of Scottish topography. Sir A. Mitchell and C. G. Cash. 2 vols. 8vo. Scottish Hist. Soc. Edin. 1917.

Vol. i, Topographical; ii, Topical—Industries, Maps, Travellers, &c. Valuable.

Andrew Honeymoier, Bishop of Orkney, wrote a reply in two parts : A survey of the insolent and infamous libel entituled Naphtali [4to. s.l. 1668] and Survey of Naphtali [4to. Edin. 1669].

2930. An apology for or vindication of the oppressed. By H. Smith. 1 vol. 8vo. s.l. 1677.

2931. The true history of the Church of Scotland From the beginning of the Reformation, unto the end of the reign of King James VI. . . . By D. Calderwood. 1 vol. fol. [Rotterdam]. 1678. Later ed. 8 vols. 8vo. Wodrow Soc. Edin. 1842-9. Ed. by T. Thomson.

The first ed. was a condensed history printed from a manuscript prepared by the author for the press. The Wodrow Society edit. is from the MS. in the Brit. Mus. Presbyterian : of the first importance for the contemporary documents it contains.

2932. Hind let loose, or an historical representation of the testimonies of the Church of Scotland. By A. Shields. 1 vol. 8vo. s.l. 1687. Later eds. : 1 vol. 8vo. Edin. 1744. 1 vol. 8vo. Glasgow. 1770 and 1797.

Represents the position of the extreme Covenanters. The first ed. pr. in Holland without the author's name.

2933. The history of the union of Great Britain. By D. Defoe. 1 vol. fol. Edin. 1709. Later ed. 4to. Lond. 1786. 1 Port.

Of the first importance. Defoe was commissioned by the English Government to reside in Edinburgh while the Treaty of Union was being discussed in the Scottish Parliament. Ed. of 1786 has An essay containing a few strictures on the Union, by J. L. de Lolme.

2934. The original papers and letters relating to the Scots Company, trading to Africa and the Indies : from the memorial given in against their taking subscriptions at Hamburgh, by Sir Paul Ricaut, His Majesty's resident there. . . . By Sir P. Ricaut. 1 vol. 8vo. s.l. 1700.

2935. A cloud of witnesses for the royal prerogatives of Jesus Christ, or the last speeches and testimonies of those who suffered for the truth in Scotland since the year 1680. 1 vol. 4to. s.l. 1714. Many later eds., the best 8vo. Edin. 1871. Ed. by J. H. Thomson.

2936. Memoirs of North Britain. By J. Oldmixon. 1 vol. 8vo. Lond. 1715. Useful for Glencoe and the Darien Company.

2937. Memoirs of the Church of Scotland in four periods . . . [From the Reformation to the Union] with an appendix of some transactions since the Union. By D. Defoe. 1 vol. 8vo. Lond. 1717. Later ed. 1 vol. 8vo. Edin. 1848.

The issue of 1848 is a reprint ; also printed in Perth in 1844 and ed. by W. Wilson, 8vo.

2938. The history of the sufferings of the Church of Scotland from the Restauration to the Revolution. . . . From the public records, original papers, and manuscripts of that time, and other well attested narratives. By R.

Wodrow. 2 vols. fol. Edin. 1721-2. Later ed. 4 vols. 8vo. Glasgow. 1828-30. 8 ports. Ed. by R. Burns.

Consists largely of transcripts from the Register of the Privy Council of Scotland relative to ecclesiastical affairs. The author was a zealous Presbyterian.

2939. The history of the troubles of Great Britain, containing a particular account of the most remarkable passages in Scotland, from the year 1633 to 1650. With an exact relation of the wars carried on . . . by . . . Montrose . . . To which is added The true causes . . . which contributed to the Restoration of King Charles II . . . by D. Riordan of Muscry. Translated into English by Capt. J. Ogilvie. By R. Menteth. 1 vol. Lond. 1735.

The 1st ed. is entitled Histoire des Troubles . . . par Messire Robert Mentet de Salmonet. 1 vol. fol. Paris, 1661. It also contains Riordan's Relation des veritables causes. . . . Royalist in sympathies. This ed. has a portrait of Menteth.

2940. The staggering state of the Scots statesmen . . . from 1550 to 1650. By Sir J. Scott of Scotstarvet. Ed. by [W. Goodall]. 1 vol. 12mo. Edin. 1754. Later ed. 1 vol. 8vo. Edin. 1872. Ed. by C. Rogers.

Cf. Scotstarvet's Trew relation, ed. G. Neilson, Scot. Hist. Rev. xi, xii, xiii, xiv.

2941. Secret history of Colonel Hooke's negociations in Scotland in 1707, being the original letters and papers. By N. Hooke. 1 vol. 8vo. Edin. 1760.

The original edition, 'Révolutions d'Ecosse et d'Irlande en 1707, 1708, et 1709 . . .' was published at the Hague in 1758. See Prefaces to Hooke's Correspondence (Roxburghe Club).

2942. Memorials and letters relating to the history of Britain in the reign of James the First. By Sir David Dalrymple, Lord Hailes. 1 vol. 8vo. Glasgow. 1762. Later ed. 1 vol. 8vo. Glasgow. 1766.

Mainly from Wodrow MSS. The 2nd ed. was 'corrected and enlarged'. From the Balfour MSS. in the Advocates' Library, Edinburgh.

2943. State papers and letters addressed to William Carstares, confidential secretary to K. William during the whole of his reign . . . relating to public affairs in Great Britain, but more particularly in Scotland, during the reigns of K. William and Q. Anne. Ed. by J. M'Cormick. 1 vol. 4to. Edin. 1774.

2944. The letters and journals of Robert Baillie, Principal of the University of Glasgow, 1637-1662. 2 vols. 8vo. Edin. 1775. Later ed. 3 vols. 4to. and 8vo. Bann. Club. Edin. 1841-2. Ed. by D. Laing.

First ed. has only a selection: that of Laing is complete. Supplies a vivid presentation of leading events and persons, English as well as Scottish, from a Presbyterian point of view. App. to vol. i has original papers 1633-9; ii, 1639-46; and iii, 1647-61.

2945. The history of Darien. Giving a short description of that country, an account of the attempts of the Scotch nation to settle a colony in that place . . . with some practical reflections upon the whole. By F. Borland. 1 vol. 12mo. Glasgow. 1779.

Borland accompanied the last expedition to Darien. His narrative, he says, was mostly written in 1700 in the 'American Regions'.

2946. Faithful contendings displayed, being an historical relation of the state and actings of the suffering remnant of the Church of Scotland, who subsisted in select Societies . . . 1681 to 1690. By M. Shields. Ed. by J. Howie. 1 vol. 8vo. Glasgow. 1780.

2947. The history of the troubles and memorable transactions in Scotland from the year 1624 to 1645. . . . From the original MS. of John Spalding, then commissary clerk of Aberdeen. 2 vols. 8vo. Aberdeen. 1792. Later eds.: 2 vols. 4to. Bann. Club. Edin. 1828-9. Maps and plans. Ed. by [J. Skene]. 2 vols. 4to. Spalding Club, Aberdeen. 1850-1. Ed. by J. Stuart.

The 1st ed. is unscholarly and incomplete. Spalding has strong royalist leanings. The ed. 1850-1, called Memorials of the troubles in Scotland and in England, has the best text.

2948. The Acts of the Parliament of Scotland, 1593-1707. Vols. iv-xii ed. by T. Thomson and C. Innes. 12 vols. fol. H.M. Stationery Office. 1814-75.

Contains the proceedings as well as the Acts of Parliament. Vols. v and, especially, vi in the reissue are very much fuller than the first edition. Each vol. has an index of persons and places. Vol. xii is a most complete and reliable index to the whole work.

2949. Registrum magni sigilli regum Scotorum. The register of the great seal of Scotland [from 1306]. Ed. by T. Thomson, Sir J. B. Paul, J. Maitland Thomson, J. Horne Stevenson, and W. K. Dickson. Imp. 8vo. Edin. 1814-1914.

Vol. vi (1593-1608)—vol. xi. 1660-8.

2950. The secret and true history of the Church of Scotland from the Restoration to the year 1678, by the Rev. Mr. James Kirkton, to which is added an account of the murder of Archbishop Sharp, by James Russell, an actor therein. Ed. by C. K. Sharpe. 1 vol. 4to. Edin. 1817. 2 ports.

A vivid narrative written from the covenanting point of view, with notes from the opposite point. For a review by Principal Lee see Edinburgh Christian Instructor, xv. 333-53.

2951. Memorials; or The memorable things that fell out within this island of Brittain from 1638 to 1684, by the Rev. Mr. Robert Law. Ed. by C. K. Sharpe. 1 vol. 4to. Edin. 1818.

Interesting as reflecting the spirit of the time.

2952. Miscellanea Scotica. A collection of tracts, relating to the history, antiquities, topography and literature of Scotland. 4 vols. 12mo. Glasgow. 1818-20.

Vol. i contains Authentic narrative of the massacre of Glencoe, contained in a Report of the Commission given by his Majesty for inquiring into the slaughter of the men of Glencoe.

2953. Documents relative to the reception at Edinburgh of the kings and queens of Scotland 1561-1650. Ed. by Sir P. Walker of Coates. 1 vol. 4to. Edin. 1822.

2954. Chronological notes of Scottish affairs from 1680 till 1701, being chiefly taken from the diary of Lord Fountainhall. By Sir John Lauder, Lord Fountainhall. Ed. by Sir W. Scott. 1 vol. 4to. Edin. 1822.

From a small 12mo. vol. in Advocates' Library, Edin., compiled by Robert Mylne, who suppressed some passages and inserted others with 'perverse assiduity'. See Scott's Introduction ; also Fountainhall's Historical notices, Bann. Club, vol. i, pp. x, xi. Cf. Historical observes of memorable occurrents in church and state [1680-1686. Bann. Club. 1 vol. 4to. Edin. 1840. Port.], ed. by A. Urquhart and D. Laing, and Historical notices of Scottish affairs selected from the manuscripts of Sir J. Lauder of Fountainhall [1661-1688. Bann. Club. 2 vols. 4to. Edin. 1848, ed. by David Laing] ; and Journals of Sir John Lauder, Lord Fountainhall, with his observations on public affairs and other memoranda, 1665-1676. Ed. by D. Crawford. Scot. Hist. Soc. 1 vol. 8vo. Edin. 1900. 4 ports. These works form a valuable criticism of the government by a Presbyterian.

2955. The historical works of Sir James Balfour. . . . Lord Lyon King at arms to Charles the First, and Charles the Second . . . from the original manuscripts . . . in the Advocates' Library. Ed. by J. Haig. 4 vols. 8vo. Edin. 1825. 1 port.

XIII. IRELAND

1. Bibliographies and Sources.
2. Later Works.

DURING the Stuart period the native Irish made two determined attempts to throw off the English yoke and to uproot the plantation system, and their history is mainly a record of rebellion and repression. The nationalist movement in Ireland during the civil war and during the war of the English succession became involved in a dynastic struggle, and was powerfully influenced in the first case by events in England, and in the second by the international issues at stake. Thus many sources as well as general histories listed under England have important references to Ireland. Among the former Strafford's Letters (84), Thurloe (85), Ludlow (925), the Clarendon State Papers (94), the Life of James II (919), and Bolingbroke's correspondence (102) are indispensable. Among the latter Gardiner (219, 220) and Firth (244) are valuable for the early Stuarts, while Klopp (215) explains most clearly the international importance of Ireland at the time of the Revolution.

From 1603-90 Bagwell (3366) has written an admirable history on an adequate scale, and the rest of the period is covered by Murray (3368). Both write from the English point of view: the other side is represented by Dalton (3363) or Prendergast (3319); Gilbert's many documentary publications are essential for the Irish rebellion and the Jacobite wars. They are supplemented by the papers and biographies of the first Duke of Ormonde (3298) and by Dunlop (3295), whose contributions to the Cambridge Modern History (239) and to the Dictionary of National Biography should not be neglected.

XIV. WALES

1. Bibliographies and Sources.
2. Later Works.

THERE is no adequate history of Wales in the seventeenth century, but of recent years a number of monographs have appeared, which help to cover the ground.

Morrice (3381) has many useful bibliographical notes for the period, and valuable information is accessible in Rowlands (3378) and Jones (3383). Up to 1641 Skeel (3439) is indispensable, and for 1640-60 Phillips (3425) and Richards (3445, 3449) are adequate. The rest of the period is comparatively unexplored, although much can be gleaned from histories of localities.

XV. VOYAGES AND TRAVELS

1. Collections of Voyages arranged chronologically.
2. Individual Voyages arranged alphabetically.
3. General Later Works arranged alphabetically.

THE books included below are of two classes : (1) the voyages of discovery proper, and the travels to little known lands, and (2) the personal records of Englishmen travelling on the continent of Europe. The voyages of discovery of others than Englishmen are necessarily excluded, but a brief survey may be gained from Heawood (3540). The first subsection, in which the arrangement is chronological, is devoted to collections of voyages ; the most famous of which is Purchas (3450), and of the remainder Churchill's collection (3453) is perhaps the most important. Some of the collections are anonymous, and are usually cited by their publisher, e.g. Astley (3458), Knox (3463), or the Harleian collection (3457). An analysis of the contents of the chief collections will be found in Appendix I to the Catalogue of the Royal Geographical Society.

The next subsection consists of individual voyages of travellers, or voyages to a given place, and the arrangement is alphabetical, the name of the traveller rather than the editor being adopted : cross-references are given to the principal English collections, in which they may be found in whole or in part. The Harleian Miscellany contains some material [see Index (88)]. The Dictionary of National Biography should be consulted sub nom. of the chief explorers, and the authorities there noted. The Hakluyt Society is constantly publishing fresh material.

All English travellers are not included in this section, and search must also be made under the geographical heading, e.g. West Indies for J. Esquemeling's Buccaneers (3850), America for voyages or persons directly connected with the plantations such as Captain John Smith (3620), and the East Indies for a large section dealing with travel to, and residence in, the East.

For a study of the voyages the modern Admiralty Charts and the Pilot (Admiralty publication) of the various seas are very useful : 17th-century conditions of travel are best gathered from the narratives themselves. The British Museum Catalogue of Printed Maps serves as a guide to early maps and charts.

¶ 2. AMERICAN COLONIES

The existence of a number of detailed bibliographies to some extent atones for the relatively few entries which limitations of space permit. With regard to the sources an attempt has been made to show the kind of available material. In choosing the later works two principles have been adopted: to cover the wide field as adequately as possible, and to give fair representation to the different schools of American historians. Probably Larned (3577) is the most useful guide to begin with; Channing, Hart and Turner (3575) is detailed enough for all but the most advanced research; Griffin (3581) is invaluable for the publications of historical societies, and Grace Griffin (3584) for the annual output of historical literature.

Books dealing with the relations of the Colonies and the home government will be found in the section devoted to central administration.

¶ 3. EAST INDIES

(a) Bibliographies, Guides, and Sources.

(b) Later Works.

The following bibliography is limited to the English in India, and the activities of the East India Company during the seventeenth century, though a few books are included which throw light on the condition of India during that period. The great Dutch collections of documents have been omitted, but reference may be made to W. H. Moreland, Dutch Sources for Indian History (3727) and note. The travel section includes only the English travellers; and for such wide voyagers as Peter Mundy (3512) reference must be made to the general section on Voyages. Some light on the English in India may be gained from foreign travellers such as J. B. Tavernier's Travels in India [ed. Bell. London. 1889. 2 vols.], and for a survey of such works see E. F. Oaten, European Travellers in India (3773). Indian historians may be approached through H. M. Elliott, The History of India as told by its own Historians (3719). The mass of pamphlets called forth by the struggle between the two companies at the end of the century has never been adequately catalogued, but useful lists will be found in the bibliography and footnotes to W. R. Scott's Joint Stock Companies to 1720 (1928), in the B. M. Printed Catalogue sub E. I. Trade, and E. I. Company, and in the Catalogue of the Library of the Hon. E. I. C. (3717) sub Tracts: a representative selection has been included below. The recent development of historical research in India on the part of Indian students is reflected in the institution of Historical series by some of the Universities and of the Journal of Indian History [1919 onwards]. There is an Indian Historical Records Commission, with annual Proceedings, while the annual reports of the Indian Archaeological Survey also yield gleanings. The Journals of the Royal Asiatic Society of Great Britain [Index vols., vol. xx, pt. iv, Lond. 1888; and Index 1889-1903, Lond. 1904], and of its affiliated societies, the Bengal branch, the Ceylon branch [Index to Nos. 1-41, 1845-1890, by J. F. W. Gore, Colombo, 1895], and the Straits Branch [Index to Nos. 1-50, 1878-1908, by W. D. Barnes, Singapore, 1909] occasionally afford matter.

The bulk of the MS. records in England are in the India office [see W. Foster's guide (3723)]; they are now made available by two series of current Calendars, E. B. Sainsbury's Calendar of Court Minutes (3771), and W.

Foster's English Factories in India (3770), which is a continuation in calendar form of the letters received by the E.I.C. from its servants in the East (3763). Documents in the P.R.O. were formerly dealt with in separate Calendars, but are now included in the India Office series of MSS. still preserved in India ; those at Madras are the most accessible in print, see H. Dodwell's Report (3718*n*), and the extensive publication commenced in 1910 under title Records of Fort St. George (3774). For Bombay there is A. F. Kindersley's Handbook (3725), and G. W. Forrest's Selections from the State Papers preserved in the Bombay Secretariat (3757). The MSS. at Calcutta are of comparatively small importance for the 17th century. For St. Helena see H. R. Janisch's Extracts (3756). Lastly, Mr. John Murray's Indian Records Series should be noticed.

The most important MSS. are in the P.R.O., and the Calendars of State Papers, Colonial [America and West Indies], give very useful précis. The various Guides to MSS. issued by the Carnegie Institution of Washington are valuable for MSS. in the P.R.O., the B.M., &c.: a special guide to West Indian archives is at present being prepared. The Acts P.C. (Colonial) and the Register P.C. Scotland give access to the Privy Council minutes: The Historical Manuscript Commission reports are now rendered much more useful by the general geographical index, but no collection in this series is of outstanding value for West Indian affairs. Thurloe's State Papers contain several West Indian letters. Pamphlets, &c. will be found reprinted in Purchas's Pilgrims, Arber's English Garner, Somers' Tracts, and the Harleian Miscellany. John Smith's True Travels should be consulted.

The Historical Reviews, and the Proceedings of various historical societies, repay examination; and the lesser-known journals, e.g. Journal of Negro History, the Proceedings of the American Jewish History Soc., and of the similar society in London, should not be neglected.

A number of bibliographies are included below: attention may be called to those issued by the Institute of Jamaica. A very scholarly bibliography is that by Jacques de Dampierre. Though it deals specifically with authorities for French colonization, the French and English plantations were so closely related that many of the early authorities are of common interest. Note must therefore be taken of S. L. Mims's Colbert's West Indian Policy [New Haven 1912], and the authorities he cites; while the French technical journals contain useful articles, some of which are noticed below. W. Westergaard, The Danish West Indies under Company rule, 1671-1754 [N.Y. 1917], throws a little light on English colonies; while F. W. Pitman, The development of the British West Indies, 1700-1763 [New Haven 1917], has some valuable statistics.

The islands appear more or less inaccurately in the various printed maps of the West Indies. Maps of separate islands may often be discovered among the MS. collections. For maps of Jamaica see the excellent list in F. Cundall, Bibliographia Jamaicensis, pp. 65-76, and his note on cartography (with four reproductions of 17th-century maps from Spanish archives) in Jamaica under the Spaniards. For St. Christopher we have maps in du Tertre, Histoire generale (see below), and one published in 1696 by F. de Witt [Brit. Mus. Maps. 86 d. 10 (140)]. J. Thornton, Atlas Maritinus [1700], prints a map 'being an actual survey', scale 1 in. to a mile. Antigua also appears in Thornton's Atlas, while Barbados has a fine map in Ligne's History (see below). For general use Thomas Jeffrey, The West Indian Atlas [Lond. 1775], is good. Weather conditions are best studied in The West India Pilot [London: Admiralty publication].

For works on the Scottish expedition to Darien, see under Scotland.

(a) GENERAL BIBLIOGRAPHY

3808. Essai sur les sources de l'histoire des Antilles Françaises (1492-1664). By J. de Dampierre. 1 vol. 8vo. Paris. 1904.

Vol. vi of Mémoires et documents publiés par la Société de l'École des Chartes. Very detailed critical examination of the great 17th-century French writers, who are invaluable for the history of the English West Indies.

3809. Bibliography of the West Indies (excluding Jamaica). By F. Cundall. 1 vol. 8vo. Kingston, Jamaica. 1909. Later eds. (supplements) 1915 and 1919. Ed. F. Cundall.

Very useful : non-critical ; hand-list arranged in chronological order of publication under geographical headings. Index nominum refers also to Cundall, Bibliographia Jamaicaensis [Kingston, 1902] and Supplement [1908]. None claims to be exhaustive.

3810. List of works in the New York Public Library relating to the West Indies. 1 vol. 8vo. N.Y. 1912.

In vol. xvi of Bulletin of the New York Public Library.

(b) GENERAL SOURCES

3811. The groans of the plantations. 1 vol. 8vo. Lond. 1689.

A pamphlet written by a Barbadian ; notable for the remark : ' They have a great advantage over us in regard we have none to represent us in Parliament. 'Tis true we have not : but we hope we may have them.'

3812. Monumental inscriptions of the British West Indies from the earliest date ; with genealogical and historical annotations . . . illustrative of the histories and genealogies of the 17th-century. Ed. by J. H. Lawrence-Archer. 1 vol. 4to. Lond. 1875. Coat of arms.

The title is misleading : there is much more material for the 18th and 19th centuries than for the 17th.

3813. Caribbeana, being miscellaneous papers relating to the history, genealogy, topography, and antiquities of the British West Indies. Ed. by V. L. Oliver. 6 vols. 8vo. Lond. 1910-19. Maps. Plans. Ports.

A quarterly magazine containing a valuable if miscellaneous collection of transcripts of original MSS., both public and private, parish registers, genealogical trees, &c. Much material for 17th century. The volumes were made up every second year, and contain eight quarterly parts. Publication ceased with Pt. IV of vol. vi.

(c) GENERAL ACCOUNTS

3814. The English American, his travail by sea and land : or A new survey of the West Indies. By T. Gage. 1 vol. fol. Lond. 1648. Later ed. 1 vol. 8vo. Lond. 1699.

Personal description of travels in Mexico : a very popular book, which is believed to have influenced Cromwell's West Indian policy.

3815. Histoire générale des Antilles habitées par les François. By J. B. du Tertre. 4 vols. 4to. Paris. 1667-71. Maps. Plates.

Invaluable for early relations of French and English in West Indies up to 1668. Many documents quoted at length. [Du Tertre made several voyages to the West Indies.] His first work was published in 1654 under the title : Histoire generale des isles de S. Christophe, de la Guadeloupe. For critical discussion see de Dampierre.

3816. Relation de ce qui s'est passé dans les Isles et Terre-Ferme de l'Amerique. By J. Clodoré. 2 vols. Paris. 1671.

Useful for English loss of Surinam.

3817. America, being the latest and most accurate description of the New World . . . with the several European plantations in those parts. By J. Ogilby. 1 vol. fol. Lond. 1671. Maps. Plates. Later ed. 1 vol. 8vo. Kingston, Jamaica. 1851. Map. Ed. by W. W. Anderson.

With much worthless ancient American history contains a good deal of geographical and historical information on the English colonies in the 17th century. The repr. of 1851 is entitled: A description and history of Jamaica, and is extracted from the earlier ed., with chapter added to bring it down to date.

3818. An historical account of the rise and growth of the West India colonies, and of the great advantages they are to England, in respect to trade. By T. Dalby. 1690.

Typical mercantilist argument. Repr. in Harl. Misc.

3819. Nouveau voyage aux isles de l'Amerique contenant . . . les guerres et les événemens singuliers qui y sont arrivez pendant le long séjour que l'auteur y a fait. By J. B. Labat. 6 vols. 12mo. Paris. 1722. Maps. Plans. Plates.

Labat went to the West Indies in 1694 and lived there for eleven years: his book is very interesting, and particularly valuable for Anglo-French relations during that period and for illustrated descriptions of sugar-making, indigo works, &c.

3820. The history, civil and commercial, of the British colonies in the West Indies. By B. Edwards. 3 vols. 8vo. Lond. 1793. Maps. Plans. Ports. Later ed. (5th) 5 vols. 8vo. Lond. 1819. Maps. Plans. Ports.

Though the 'standard history', it has little of value for the 17th century. 'C'est surtout le récit des événemens révolutionnaires qui a fait la vogue de l'ouvrage, à une époque où cette histoire n'était pas encore faite du côté français' [de Dampierre].

3821. Chronological history of the West Indies. By T. Southey. 3 vols. 8vo. Lond. 1827.

A dull but useful compilation; quotes treaties and other documents, but generally from secondary authorities.

3822. A historical geography of the British colonies. Vol. ii: The West Indies. By C. P. Lucas. 1 vol. 8vo. Oxf. 1890. Maps. Later ed. 1905. Ed. by C. Atchley.

The best popular account of the British West Indies.

3823. Government of the West Indies. By H. Wrong. 1 vol. 8vo. Oxf. 1923. Map. Bibl.

Deals mainly with the constitutional changes of the 19th century, and present-day problems: some reference to 17th-century history.

(d) GENERAL MONOGRAPHS

3824. Guillaume d'Orange et les origines des Antilles Françaises. Etude historique d'après les chroniques de l'époque et de nombreux documents inédits. By le Vicomte du Motey. 1 vol. 8vo. Paris. 1908.

Based partly on MS. sources, but largely on du Tertre. Throws some light on Anglo-French relations up to the Peace of Breda. See also G. St. Yves, Les premières relations des Antilles françaises et des Antilles anglaises [Paris, 1902, repr. from Bull. Hist. Géographique], and G. Servant, Les Compagnies de Saint-Christophe et des îles de l'Amérique (1626-53) [Rev. Hist. Col. Franç. 1, pp. 385-482, 1913].

3825. English colonies in Guiana and on the Amazon, 1604-1668. By J. A. Williamson. 1 vol. 8vo. Oxf. 1923.

3826. The colonial agents of the British West Indies. A study in colonial administration, mainly in the eighteenth century. By L. M. Penson. 1 vol. 8vo. Lond. 1924. Bibl.

Traces the rise of the agents in the 17th century. Lists of agents. Appendix of illustrative documents, and note on authorities.

3827. The Caribbee islands under the proprietary patents. By J. A. Williamson. 1 vol. 8vo. Lond. 1926.

(e) BAHAMAS

3828. Company of Adventurers for the plantation of the islands of Eleutheria, formerly called Bahama : articles and orders. Lond. 1647.

See also : Company of Adventurers for the plantation of the islands called Eleutheria. . . articles and orders [Lond. 1647].

3829. The Bahama Islands : notes on an early attempt at colonization. By J. T. Hassam. 1 vol. 8vo. Boston (Mass.) 1899. Map.

Deals with the history of the islands in the 17th century, and quotes original documents. In Mass. Hist. Soc. Proc., Series 2, vol. xiii.

3830. List of documents relating to the Bahama Islands in the British Museum and the Record Office, London. By H. Malcolm. 1 vol. Nassau. 1910.

(f) BARBADOS

3831. A briefe relation of the late horrid rebellion acted in the island Barbados. . . Acted by the Waldronds and their abettors, anno 1650. By N. Foster. 1 vol. 8vo. Lond. 1650. Later ed. 1879.

A number of pamphlets were called forth by the Cavalier v. Roundhead struggle in the Barbados. Thence there is a steady stream all through the century. See F. Cundall, Bibl. of West Indies, p. 1.

3832. A true and exact history of the island of Barbados, illustrated with a map of the island. By R. Ligon. 1 vol. fol. Lond. 1657. Map. Plans. Plates.

Rather a description of the island than a history. Ligon spent three years in Barbados, and wrote this vivid picture of West Indian society in a London debtor's prison. Contains a description of early sugar-planting.

3833. The laws of Barbadoes, collected in one volume. Ed. by W. Rawlin. 1 vol. 1699.

A 17th-century collection of Acts made by the clerk to the Assembly. There are several later collections of Acts of Assembly, but they usually only print in extenso those laws which are still in force.

3834. Some memoirs of the first settlement of the island of Barbadoes. . . . Extracted from ancient records, papers, and accounts. . . . Also remarks on the laws and constitution of Barbados. 1 vol. 1741.

For critical discussion of the value of this book see J. A. Williamson (3827).

3835. The history of Barbados, comprising a geographical and statistical description of the island; and a sketch of the historical events since the settlement. By R. H. Schomburgk. 1 vol. 8vo. Lond. 1840. Maps. Plates.

A book of great learning and authority, though recent research has added much to our knowledge of the early history of Barbados; vid. V. T. Harlow's A history of the Barbadoes 1625-85. 1 vol. 8vo. Oxf. 1926. Maps.

3836. The Cavaliers and Roundheads of Barbados, 1650-1652, with some account of the early history of Barbados. By N. D. Davis. 1 vol. 8vo. Georgetown, Br. Guiana. 1887.

One of the first modern attempts to deal critically with English West Indian history. Several pamphlets and magazine articles, as well as MS. notes by this author, are preserved in the Royal Colonial Institute, London.

(g) BERMUDAS

3837. Acts of assembly made and enacted in the Bermuda or Summer Islands from 1690 to 1713-14. 1 vol. fol. Lond. 1719.

3838. Memorials of the discovery and early settlement of the Bermudas or Somers Islands, 1515-1685, compiled from colonial records and other sources. By J. H. Lefroy. 2 vols. 8vo. Lond. 1877-9.

An exhaustive treatment of the subject, with a reprint of early descriptions and official documents.

3839. The history of the Bermudaes or Summer Islands. Ed. by J. H. Lefroy. 1 vol. 8vo. Lond. 1882. Plan. Ports.

Reprints Brit. Mus. MS. Sloane 750. Preface discusses authorship. Reproduces early portrait of Sir John Somers. Hakluyt Soc. Pub., No. 65.

(h) JAMAICA

3840. A description of the island of Jamaica with the other isles and territories in America. . . Taken from the notes of Sir Thomas Linch . . . governor of Jamaica and other experienced persons. . . Ed. by R. Blome. 1 vol. 8vo. Lond. 1672. Later ed. 1 vol. 8vo. Lond. 1678. Maps.

The Rylands copy of 1687 is: The present state of His Majesty's isles and Territories in America . . (map). For other 17th-century accounts of Jamaica see Cundall, Bibl. Jamaica, pp. 14-16.

3841. Laws of Jamaica: passed by the Assembly and confirmed by his Majesty in Council, April 17th, 1684. To which is added the State of Jamaica, as it now is under the government of Sir Thomas Lynch. 1 vol. Lond. 1684. Map.

In 1698 a second volume was published: The continuation of the Laws of Jamaica . . confirmed . . . December 26th 1695. See also: Acts of the Assembly passed in the island of Jamaica from 1681 to 1737 inclusive [1 vol. fol. Lond. 1738].

3842. The history of Jamaica, or General survey of the ancient and modern state of that Island. By [E. Long]. 3 vols. 4to. Lond. 1774. Maps. Plans. Plates.

Displays strong prejudice, but is of permanent value.

3843. Journals of the Assembly of Jamaica, 1663-1826. 15 vols. Jamaica. 1811-29.

3844. The causes of Cromwell's West Indian expedition. By F. Strong. 1 vol. 8vo. New York. 1899.

In Am. Hist. Rev. vol. iv, p. 228 : maintains view that the West Indian expedition was part of a far-seeing deliberate policy.

3845. The narrative of General Venables, with an appendix of papers relating to the expedition to the West Indies and the conquest of Jamaica. Ed. by C. H. Firth. Camd. Soc. 1900.

Preface by C. H. Firth. Ed. for Royal Hist. Soc. [Camd. Soc. Publications, 1900.] See also : The English conquest of Jamaica, an account of what happened in the island . . . [from 20 May 1655 to 3 July 1656]. . . by Captain Julian de Castilla, trans. from the MS. and ed. with introd. by I. A. Wright [Camd. Misc., vol. xiii, Lond. 1923] and Narratives of the English attack on St. Domingo. Trans. and ed. by I. A. Wright. Camd. Soc. Misc. xiv. 1926. A valuable account from the Spanish side. For other pamphlets see Cundall, Bibl. Jamaica, p. 2. On Venables himself see Some account of General Robert Venables, together with the . . . diary of his widow, Elizabeth Venables. Chetham Soc. Misc. iv. 1872.

3846. Jamaica under the Spaniards, abstracted from the archives of Seville. Ed. by F. Cundall and J. L. Pietersz. 1 vol. 8vo. Kingston, Jamaica. 1919. Maps.

A selection from the original documents preserved in the Archivo de Indios at Sevilla, which have been transcribed for preservation in the Institute of Jamaica. Reproductions of MS. maps with a commentary. About half the booklet deals with the period 1656-60. Further documents are being transcribed, and it is hoped to publish a translation in extenso.

(i) LEEWARD ISLANDS

3847. The history of the Caribby-Islands . . . with a Caribbian vocabulary, rendered into English by John Davies of Kidwelly. By J. Davies. 1 vol. fol. Lond. 1666. Plates.

Chiefly deals with natural history, but has some details about the early relations of French and English in St. Christopher. A translation from the 2nd ed. of César de Rochefort, Histoire naturelle et morale des îles Antilles de l'Amérique . . . (Rotterdam. 1665). See de Dampierre.

3848. Les particularitez de la défaite des Anglois . . . dans l'Isle de S. Cristophe, en l'Amérique, par les François. 1 vol. Paris. 1666.

The first of several pamphlets printed in Paris with news of the Anglo-Dutch war. See Cundall, Bibl. of West Indies, p. 14.

3849. A briefe account of the sufferings of the servants of the Lord called Quakers : from their first arrival in the island of Antegoa, under the several governours ; from 1660 to 1695. By J. Langford. 1 vol. 1706.

See also the sections on Antigua and Nevis in Besse, Sufferings of the Quakers.

3850. Acts of Assembly passed in the Charibbee Leeward Islands, from 1690 to 1730. 1 vol. fol. Lond. 1734.

Consists of two parts : Acts of the General (federal) Assembly, 1690-1705, and Acts of Antigua, 1668-1730. Only those acts which were in force at the time of publication are printed in extenso. Similar collections were printed for each of the other Leeward Islands, but they suffer from the same defect.

3851. A young squire of the seventeenth century, from the papers [1676-86] of Christopher Jeaffreson of Dullingham House, Cambridgeshire. Ed. by J. C. Jeaffreson. 2 vols. 8vo. Lond. 1878.

A valuable but uncritical edition of the MS. letter-book of C. Jeaffreson, settler in St. Kitts, and later agent for the island. The MS. is at present in the possession of Mrs. J. C. Jeaffreson.

3852. The History of the island of Antigua. By V. L. Oliver. 3 vols. fol. Lond. 1894, 1896, 1899.

The work is preceded by a short historical introduction, arranged in strict chronological order, and consisting almost entirely of transcripts of documents. The book itself is a genealogical record of families connected with Antigua: précis of all important wills are printed with their reference number.

3853. The development of the Leeward Islands under the Restoration, 1660-1688. By C. S. S. Higham. 1 vol. 8vo. Camb. 1921. Maps. Bibl.

Compare C. S. S. Higham, The early days of the church in the West Indies, in Church Quart. Rev., vol. xcii; The accounts of a colonial governor in the seventeenth century, in Am. Hist. Rev., vol. xxviii; Some Treasurer's accounts of Monserrat, 1672-1681, in Eng. Hist. Rev., vol. xxxviii; and The general assembly of the Leeward Islands, ibid. xli, Apr.-July, 1926.

(j) SURINAM, &c.

3854. Surinam justice . . . being a publication of that perfect relation of the . . . disturbances in the colony . . . set forth by W. Byam . . . couched in answer thereto by Robert Sanford. By R. Sanford. Lond. 1662.

Reprints an extremely rare pamphlet by Governor Byam, A narrative of the late troubles in Surinam. For further pamphlets on Surinam, with criticism, see Williamson, The English in Guiana, p. 150. Cf. Cundall, Bibl. of West Indies, p. 72.

3855. English colonies in Guiana and on the Amazon, 1604-1668. By J. A. Williamson. 1 vol. 8vo. Oxf. 1923. Map.

Critical discussion of authorities. For further discussion of contemporary authorities see G. Edmundson, The Dutch in Western Guiana, and The Dutch on the Amazon, in Eng. Hist. Rev., vols. xvi and xviii.

3856. Colonising expeditions to the West Indies and Guiana 1623-1667. Ed. by V. T. Harlow. 1 vol. Hakluyt Soc. 1925. Maps. Illus.

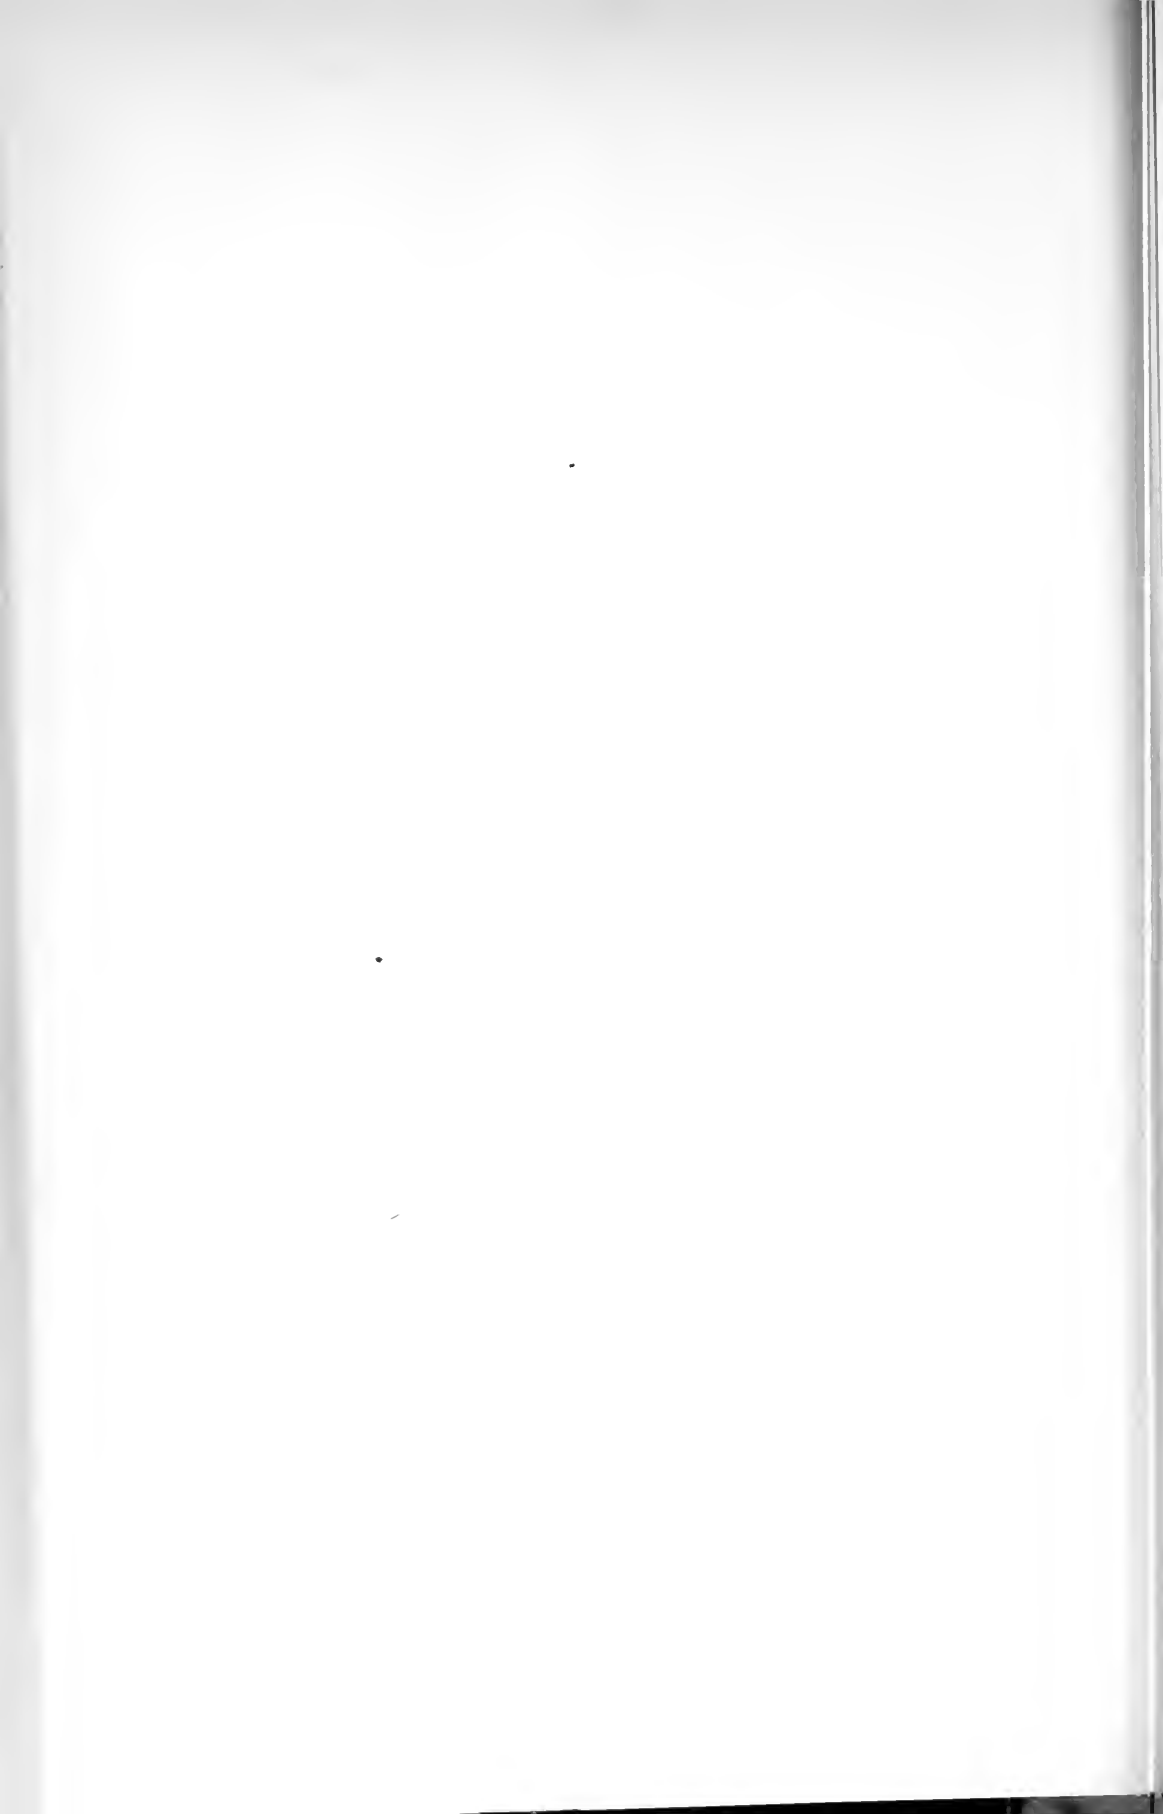

(k) BUCCANEERS

3857. Bucaniers of America, or a true account of the most remarkable assaults committed of late years upon the coasts of the West Indies by the bucaniers of Jamaica and Tortuga . . . especially . . . the exploits of Sir Henry Morgan. By J. Esquemeling. Lond. 1684. Map. Later eds. 1 vol. 8vo. Lond. 1699 and 1911. Maps. Ports.

Much light on local affairs of West Indian colonies. Esquemelin's book was originally published in Dutch in 1674: it has become the source of numerous later compilations and translations. The English edition of 1699, entitled The History of the Bucaniers, . . . contains much additional matter. The ed. of 1911 is the best available modern reprint. For full critical discussion see de Dampierre and Haring, The buccaneers in the West Indies.

3858. The buccaneers in the West Indies in the seventeenth century. By C. H. Haring. 1 vol. 8vo. Lond. 1910. Maps. Plans. Bibl.

Brings out the connexion between the buccaneers and the English W. Indian colonies. Critical bibliography discusses Esquemelin. Cf. Violet Barbour's Privateers and Pirates of the West Indies. Amer. Hist. Rev. xvi. Apr. 1911.
